RICHARDSON BAY BOTTLENECK TO BREAK

Workmen for the Massman Construction Co. of Kansas City prepare reinforcing steel before pouring the concrete deck on the new, fourth southbound lane for the Richardson Bay Bridge. The $4 million project, due to be completed late this year, will expand the bridge from six lanes to eight. It is coupled with other construction that is converting Highway 101 from three to four lanes each direction between the Richardson Bay and Golden Gate spans.

Clincher— Humphrey, Muskie Bow

Two Withdraw After Fight Over Credentials

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Sen. George S. McGovern wrapped up the Democratic presidential nomination today as Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie dropped out of the race.

Humphrey released his delegates during a dramatic noon hour news conference and Muskie followed suit a couple hours later.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson however declined to leave the now-smashed stop-McGovern effort, saying he was in the fight to its end. George C. Wallace gave no evidence he had any intention of quitting either.

"My withdrawal from the presidential race is a withdrawal of candidacy only. It is not a withdrawal of spirit, or of determination to continue the battle I have waged all my public life on behalf of those who had no voice," Humphrey said in a statement.

"On behalf of Mrs. Humphrey and me, I wish to thank those who have worked so hard for these past six months—not only for my candidacy, but for the greater goal of a nation governed with justice and compassion."

McGovern was relaxing in his hotel room when Humphrey announced he was conceding to the South Dakotan's nearly two-year battle to beat the pros at their own game.

McGovern was just 43 votes short of the 1,509 needed for victory when balloting begins in the convention hall Wednesday night. Humphrey's 429-plus delegates, many of them almost sure to back McGovern,will put him easily past the required quota.

Humphrey's pullout came just hours after McGovern forces on and off the convention floor captured a crucial vote which restored to McGovern 151 California delegates which had been taken from him in preconvention rulings.

That victory—and the weight by which it was won— apparently prompted Humphrey to give up his decade-long quest for the presidency.

McGovern's other rivals were largely silent. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie met with his closest advisers to reassess his position —already weak but further washed out by McGovern's refusal to join his peace-making efforts Monday.

George C. Wallace announced plans to go to the convention floor tonight to press his fight for the kind of conservative platform he says the party must have for victory in November.

Humphrey indicated himself after the nearly night-long convention session that McGovern had what it took. "The strategy was all right," the former vice president said.

"We just lacked a few votes."

Humphrey in the roll of healer could serve McGovern as a bridge to Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, who was unseated by the convention against McGovern's will, and as the man who might bing McGovern the support of alienated labor leaders.

McGovern's claim of victory was cautious: "It would now seem that the nomination victory we have anticipated is within our grasp."

A sweet victory for many of McGovern's young supporters seeking to revenge the bloodshed of Chicago in 1968 came in the convention's decision at 4:35 a.m. EDT today to unseat Daley and replace him with a more representative delegation.

The challenge to the nation's most powerful old-line political leader was a setback for McGovern, who had hoped to work out a compromise which would have avoided antagonizing Daley.

McGovern even sent Gary Hart, his close strategist, to the convention rostrum to plead for a compromise. But the peace mission failed by 115 votes.

The action shifted tonight to the party's platform, with Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace hoping to make a personal appearance at the convention—but probably not from its rostrum—to lead the fight for his own philosophy.

The Wallace forces hoped to purge from the platform liberal planks on busing, welfare and national defense which reflect McGovern's viewpoint.

The McGovern forces displayed cool political acumen in the strategy they adopted to defeat all challengers in the crucial California vote.

Taking directions from strategists Hart and Frank Mankiewicz, ensconced in a trailer just off the convention floor, the McGovernites backed away from a possible victory in a minor skirmish over the seating of seven South Carolina women challengers. They were worried about the pitfalls inherent in winning.

If the challengers had won, a vote could have been forced at that point in which Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien could have been beaten on his procedural ruling which favored McGovern's chances in the California dispute. O'Brien ruled Sunday that all delegates except those directly challenged could vote on other challenges.

A vote overriding O'Brien on that issue could have made it more difficult for McGovern to win on California.

So Mankiewicz and Hart, from their trailer, instructed friendly delegations to change their votes, assuring a McGovern loss by so wide a margin that O'Brien's ruling could not be subjected to a vote. The strategy worked.

As it turned out, McGovern had the votes to spare when the California decision came—the first test of his strength and a moment which could prove to be the most suspenseful of the convention.

By a vote of 1,618.28 to 1,238.22, with 8.5 abstaining, the 2,865 delegates ruled eligible to participate gave McGovern the full 271-vote slate he had won in the June 6 winner-take-all California primary.

The first convention session lasted nine hours.

Democrats Forget Nixon For Time Being

By COURTNEY R. SHELDON
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

MIAMI BEACH, — President Nixon was the forgotten man of the Democratic convention in its early hours here.

The Democrats were preoccupied with scourging each other, much as they have in the bruising, testy, divisive preconvention campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Ultimately they will roll out barrels of rhetoric against Nixon. Sen. George McGovern, as befitted the front runner, occasionally swatted the president.

But there seemed little disposition here to feel that wordy attacks alone will knock Nixon off his White House pedestal.

What the Democrats most need now is a unified party and sharp isuues. What many of them fear is that their nominee, whoever he is, cannot do the job in time and that it may be slim pickings for issues.

Even as the Democrats squabbled on, Nixon made their job harder:

A soothing announcement from the San Clemente West Coast White House tells of a grain deal with the Soviet Union beneficial to farmers, longshoremen, and shippers.

Presidential Adviser Henry A. Kissinger talks encouragingly of a possible break in the Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

Administration officials huddle dramatically and assure the public they are fighting high food prices.

The expectation that disagreeable actions by Nixon will lead Democrats to forget their own difference and rally around their leaders fades for the moment.

Yet, the hope lingers that Nixon will stumble: that the president and the Republicans may overstate their cases and anger not only partisan Democrats but independents.

Democrats will emphasize whatever tends to show the GOP as a party of wealth and self-interest — anticivil rights, antiblack.

Democrats would like nothing better than a repeat of the 1970 by-elections when Nixon, it is now generally agreed, lost votes for his party by the stridency of his campaigning.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey expects the turning point to come in Democratic fortunes as early as the GOP convention in August in this same city:

"We'll fight like crazy now and call each other every conceivable name, but every hour the Republicans are in convention will drive more and more Democrats together. . . because the Republicans in convention undoubtedly will charge every crime conceivable against the Democrats."

Two events could change the atmosphere for the Democrats and bring dissidents running back into the camp.

A worsening economic situation in the next few months could convince George Meany to swallow his antagonism toward McGovern's wing of the party.

An adverse turn in Indochina or the appearance of a permanent stalemate could dampen the criticism of those like Sen. Henry M. Jackson who fear the Democrats are too antiwar.

The public opinion polls give Democrats little encouragement. George Gallup finds that only 37 per cent would vote for McGovern when pitted against Nixon. Nixon would get 53 per cent, approaching a landslide which would give the Republicans control of the House and Senate.

In these times, Democrats try to remember how Humphrey erased a similar 16 per cent deficit against Nixon in 1968.

The public and private comments of Democrats are not as confident as six months ago. At home and abroad events seem to be following in Nixon's favor.

The president, they admit? is a fast-moving target. He adopts Democratic ideas on price-and-wage controls. if only in part and much later than they wished.

The president makes peace with Peking and Moscow in a way Democrats wanted to do years ago but didn't for fear of conservative Republican opposition.

Credibility, the issue that many Democrats expected to hang on Nixon, seems to be fading. In South Vietnam the president's military policy seems to be paying off, if not his Paris peace negotiations.

What does the Democratic partisan do under these circumstances? The convention will give some of the answers, and most will come from the nominee and Nixon.

Maritime Disaster Legislation Enacted

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Legislation aimed at preventing maritime disasters in congested ports was signed into law yesterday by the President.

The two bills gave the Coast Guard power to require ships to carry electronic devices necessary to monitor their positions and toughened other requirements for vessel operations.

The bills originally were introduced in 1970 by Rep. Wilaim S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District. It took the disastrous oil spill in San Francisco Bay 18 months ago to spur Congress to start moving the measures over objections from some segments of the maritime industry. The oil spill occurred when two tankers collided in the Golden Gate in a heavy fog.

Past laws did not require vessel positions to be monitored.

One of the two bills, the Ports and Water ways Safety Act would empower the Coast Guard to operate mandatory traffic control in congested ports, harbors and waterways.

The other measure, the Towing Vessel License Bill, requires that all pilots of tugboats longer than 26 feet be licensed.

The measure also prohibits any licensed vessel operator from working more than 12 hours in any consecutive 24-hour period.

Worker For McGovern Hurt

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—A young volunteer worker for Sen. George McGovern was reported in critical condition today after being hit by a car on Miami Beach's busy Collins Avenue.

Gerald Brooks, 22, of Tempe, Ariz., was struck in front of McGovern's Doral Hotel headquarters Monday after getting out of a car and trying to cross the street.

Brooks moved to Arizona recently from Evanston, Ill., and has been working with McGovern's minorities operation. He was in charge of an effort to have numerous young people arrive at the convention from the west on bicycles.

Reprimands In Apollo 15 'Moon Mail'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The Space Agency reprimanded the Apollo 15 astronauts Tuesday for carrying 400 unauthorized and signed envelopes to the moon in a plan to sell 100 of them to establish a trust fund for their families.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said the prohibited venture will be considered in deciding future space assignments for the three man crew.

Before any money changed hands the crew realized the plan was improper and they received no financial gain from the sale of 99 of the envelopes for $150,000, a NASA spokesman said.

David R. Scott, Alfred M. Worden and James B. Irwin were authorized to take 232 envelopes on the mission in July, 1971, but admitted taking an additional, unauthorized 400 envelopes, deputy administrator Dr. George Lowe said.

"The astronauts are under extreme stress in the months preceeding a flight to the moon and their poor judgment in carrying the unauthorized covers must be considered in this light," Lowe said. "None the less NASA cannot condone these actions."

Marin Budget Nudges Up By $200,000

Recalculation of Marin County's adopted budget for fiscal 1972-73 shows a total of $47.5 million, county Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said today.

Mitchell in a report to county supervisors said the new total is about $200,000 more than was estimated two weeks ago when tha budget was approved.

He attributed the increase to a mandatory hike in social security payments which have increased the county's share about $160,000 over last year's $440,000 contribution.

As a result, the county's projected tax rate has jumped 2 cents to a new estimate of $2.75 per $100 assessed valuation for fiscal 1972-73 Mitchell said.

(Last year's budget was about $45.2 million and carried a tax rate of $2.89 per $100 assessed valuation.)

The 14-cent decrease in the countywide tax rate is a "rare phenomenon," Mitchell said explaining the lower rate was possible because of a large carryover of money from last year.

He said approximately two-thirds of the county taxpayers — those whose property was not reassessed — will receive a reduction in their county tax bill.

Mitchell estimated that the $2.75 property tax rate will raise about $18.2 million this year, while another $18.8 million will come from state and federal sources and the remaining $10.5 million from county fees, licenses and carryover balances.

About $21.6 million of the budget will go to employee salaries and fringe benefits, $23.2 million to services and supplies and $2.6 million to fixed assets such as capital improvements and equipment.

City Workers Threaten Strike

BERKELEY (UPI) —About 250 Berkeley city employes said today they plan to strike at midnight tonight. They are refuse collectors, meter maids, public works and park workers who belong to United Public Employes Union Local 390.

Two weeks ago the union rejected an offer by the city to raise pay by $22 a month over an 18-month period.

The union also seeks an agency shop, a full paid health plan, and improved vacation benefits.

Tonight's Democrat Convention Schedule

MIAMI BEACH, (AP) — The Democratic National Convention has announced the following schedule for tonight's activities: times are PDT: 4 p.m. — Sessions open.

5 p.m. approximately — Consideration of the platform committee report. Consideration of the rules committee report is scheduled to follow.

Fischer Is Late For The Match

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — The world championship of chess got under way today without Bobby Fischer, the American challenger. He showed up seven minutes after Russian titleholder Boris Spassky made the first move.

It seemed another one of these psychological ploys that chess masters often use in an attempt to unsettle their opponent.

Spassky was there on the dot of 5 p.m., waited a minute, then calmly pushed his queen's pawn forward two spaces.

Referee Lothar Schmid of West Germany pushed the button on the time clock and the match had begun.

Fischer sometimes chooses to be late to tournaments and matches. It was not known where he was.

Then seven minutes after Spassky began the game, Fischer appeared from offstage left. With long strides he sped to the black leather swivel chair placed behind the white side of the board.

Applause which greeted Fischer's arrival arose in crescendo when Spassky moved forward from the side of the stage where he had been waiting to shake Fischer's hand.

The American took a minute to regard the board and the queen's pawn opening Spassky favors.

ASSEMBLYMAN WILLIE BROWN
Addresses Democratic Convention

Willie Brown Receives Convention's 1st Ovation

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—California Assemblyman Willie Brown Jr. —a diminutive black lawyer from San Francisco drew the Democratic National Convention's first standing ovation when he demanded, "Give me back my delegation."

Brown rubbed at the nerve endings of the delegates with an emotional speech that had much of the audience on its feet shouting "Willie Brown" and "Seat California."

The scene was reminiscent of the 1968 convention when Georgia Rep. Julian Bond received a similar tribute of his name chanted by emotional delegates.

Brown is known in the California legislature as a skilled political operator. But his first speech to the convention was in the oratorical tradition of the revival meeting.

Brown is head of the forces favoring Sen. George McGovern in California. He went to the convention's podium to plead for the seating of the entire 271-member delegation McGovern won in the state's winner-takeall primary. The Credentials Committee voted to seat only 120 McGovern delegates and 151 pledged to other candidates.

Brown was off the television screen for most of his speech as the networks switched to interviews and commentary as he spoke. But he struck a chord with the delegates.

Brown rehearsed his speech Sunday in an appearance at a meeting of the black caucus. He got an ovation there, too.

President Won't Lose Sleep Over Democrats, Says Aide

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon had a television set installed in his office but looked at it only sporadically as the Democrats went about the business of picking his opponent.

"The President doesn't plan to lose any sleep this week over the convention," Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler told newsmen. He said Nixon will follow developments on television "as time permits" but will get most of his news from the newspapers.

Nixon, who has been quietly planning his own re-election strategy with top aides during a two-week working vacation here, scheduled a session today with his budget manager, Caspar Weinberger. They will talk about what surely will be one of the issues in the forthcoming political debate—spending by the Democratic-dominated Congress which the White House feels aggravates inflation problems.

Several racking administration officials last week accused the Congress of engaging in an election-year spending spree without regard for the inflationary consequences, and failure to act on much needed domestic reforms.

Russian Poet Arrives

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Russian poet Iosif Brodsky told reporters sadly that he would probably never see his mother and father again. The 32-year-old Brodsky had been ordered by Soviet officials to emigrate to Israel but then fought successfully to come to the United States.

Brodsky

The red-haired poet arrived Sunday from London. Speaking in heavily accented English he told reporters yesterday he came to the United States because he liked "what I read about America in poems." He will be poet-in-residence at the University of Michaigan.

Convention Honeymoon

MIAMI (UPI) — Yvonne Braithwaite Burke, the Democratic convention's beautiful vice chairman, is honeymooning in Miami Beach with huge diamonds on both hands.

Mrs. Burke, 39, who supports Sen. George McGovern for the presidential nomination, said yesterday she was married last month to William Burke, a former Army Colonel who supports Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

"I'm bringing him around," she grinned. "I'm a dove."

Mrs. Burke, a member of the California Assembly, is the first black woman to become vice chairman.

Bremer Trial Delayed

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (UPI) — Arthur H. Bremer, 21, the former Milwaukee busboy accused of trying to assassinate Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, has refused to cooperate with psychiatrists at a Maryland mental institution.

This report was given Circuit Court Judge Ralph W. Powers yesterday during a hearing which ended with a delay of the start of Bremer's trial for three weeks. The trial was to start tomorrow.

Dr. John M. Hamilton, superintendent of Clifton T. Perkins State Hospital where Bremer was sent for Examination, wrote Powers that Bremer "has refused to cooperate with or participate in medical and psychiatric examinations."

Hawaii Ports Closed

HONOLULU (UPI) — Hawaii's 900 longshoremen shut down ports throughout the islands yesterday to register displeasure over stalled contract negotiations.

Another work-stop meeting was set today by the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (ILWU), an action that brings a halt to the vital shipping lifeline.

Only military cargo was unloaded yesterday after the ILWU members attended a meeting for a report on the status of contract negotiations and didn't return to work.

GOP Files Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Committee to Re-elect the President has gone to court to delay until after the presidential election the hearing of a Democratic National Committee civil suit asking damages in the attempt to bug the Democratic headquarters.

The committee contended in an action filed yesterday in U.S. District Court in the District of Columbia that hearing the suit prior to the election would cause "incalculable" damage to Nixon's campaign.

The Democratic National Committee filed a $1 million lawsuit against the reelection committee and five men arrested by police early in the morning of June 17 in the Democratic committee's headquarters in Washington.

Soviet Grain Purchase

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz predicts that American grain sales to the Soviet Union may total $1 billion before the end of the three-year, $750 million export agreement recently announced by President Nixon.

Butz labeled his forecast yesterday as "only speculation" but said Soviet officials have made no effort to conceal their need for feed grains.

Woman Enters Race

PHILLIPSBURG, N.J. (UPI) — Mrs. Helen Meyner, whose husband Robert served two terms as governor of New Jersey, declared herself a candidate for Congress yesterday from the 13th District.

Mrs. Meyner, 44, said she favors tax reform and New York State-style abortion laws. She also supports women's liberation but doesn't like the title "Ms."

Flood Telethon Plans

BALTIMORE (AP) — A group of celebrities headed by Bob Hope and organized by the comedian will conduct a telethon July 22 to benefit victims of recent floods.

WBAL-TV announced the telethon yesterday and said it will be shown on the station in Baltimore and over a network of stations in other areas involved in the floods.

French Visit Peking

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann, his wife and his French government delegation have met in Peking with Chinese leaders, including Premier Chou En-lai.

The New China News Agency, in a broadcast monitored in Tokyo, called yesterday's meeting a "friendly conversation." The broadcast did not say what was discussed.

Kent Woodlands Thief Sentenced

A 20-year-old San Anselmo youth who admitted burglarizing a Kent Woodlands home was sentenced yesterday in Marin Superior Court to 60 days in jail.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner also placed George Billy Wigner on supervised probation for two years, ordered him to pay $215 for unrecovered stolen property and told him to undergo periodic drug testing.

Wigner was arrested Jan. 28 by a sheriff's inspector after the suspect admitted under questioning that he took five guns and about $75 in half-dollars from the Lee B. Price home at 237 Evergreen Drive six days earlier. One gun and the coins were not recovered.

Wigner pleaded guilty in May in exchange for a promise he would receive no more than 90 days in jail.

Vatican Exchange Talks By Pope Fail: Rogers

ROME (UPI)—Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today a Vatican attempt to arrange an exchange of prisoners of war in Vietnam has failed.

"They (the Vatican) made several attempts, directly and indirectly, to see if there is some way prisoners could be exchanged," Rogers said. "So far, it has been to no avail." He did not elaborate on what steps had been taken.

When he saw Pope Paul VI 13 months ago, Rogers asked him to intervene to improve the condition of U.S. prisoners of war in Vietnam and see if there was any chance of gaining their freedom.

The secretary saw the Pope for an hour today and heard the Vatican report.

Earlier, the secretary conferred for more than two hours with Italian leaders in the first official contact between the Nixon administration and the 15-day-old coalition government led by Premier Giulio Andreotti.,

The Secretary of State, who originally was scheduled to fly home from Yugoslavia Sunday after a 10-day swing through Asia, the Mediterranean and East European nations, decided at the last moment to add Rome to his itinerary, extending the trip by two days.

"I think there is reason for hope," Rogers said when asked about the prospects at the Paris peace talks resuming Thursday.

He called a recent North Vietnamese offensive a failure and described the decision to mine North Vietnamese harbors and stepup bombing by U.S. warplanes "unusually effective."

Rogers did not elaborate on the Vatican's efforts to bring about an exchange of prisoners. Nor did the Vatican, where sources said such diplomatic activity was usually kept secret.

Rogers met newsmen an hour after concluding his two-day visit in Italy, the last stop on a tour to explain President Nixon's recent trips to China and the Soviet Union.

His call on the Pope was his last official engagement.,

Rogers also said the United States is trying to encourage all parties in the Middle East area to start discussions aimed at resolving the crisis there.

"We are not in a position to impose a settlement," he said.

Rogers said the only way to end the impasse there was to start discussions.

"The Middle East is the only place this talking has not happened," Rogers said.

Protestants Promise War On IRA Unless British Act

BELFAST (UPI) — Militant Protestants today threatened civil war against the Irish Republican Army (IRA) unless British troops take the offensive.

The paramilitary Ulster Defense Association said it would stay out of the fighting providing martial law was imposed.

The UDA, whose leaders claim they can call up 25,000 men, denounced the 13-day IRA cease-fire which ended Sunday. They called on Northern Ireland Secretary William Whitelaw not to negotiate with the IRA, "who are nothing but murderers and rebels."

"Unless the army takes the initiative, we will take steps to eliminate the IRA ourselves and consequently we shall be known then not as the UDA, but as the UOA—Ulster Offense Association," the statement said.

A rank-and-file IRA member commented: "This is the sort of thing we have been expecting for some time now. We're not really worried but we see it as our clear duty to defend our areas."

The body of a young man, hooded and gagged, was found early today in Carlisle Circus, a predominantly Protestant neighborhood, in what was apparently a vengeance killing.

His death raised the toll for almost three years of bloodshed in Northern Ireland to 418 dead.

Sporadic gunfire continued through the night in several areas of Belfast, and just after midnight a 10-pound bomb demolished shops near the Roman Catholic Unity Flats housing block. One bystander was slightly injured.

Five persons were treated at Belfast's Royal Victoria hospital today for wounds suffered in Monday's all-day battles. Among the injured were a 3½-year-old girl and a woman of 30.

The UDA statement said the Protestants would accept imposition of martial law, and if this were done, would avoid involvement in the fighting.

Political sources said Whitelaw discussed this possibility with Gen. Sir Harry Tuzo' military commander in Northern Ireland, at a meeting Monday.

Meanwhile British troop reinforcements rushed to the province to deal with the escalating violence and anticipated sectarian trouble Wednesday when Protestants celebrate the 1690 Battle of the Boyne, the victory that assured Northern Ireland would remain overwhelmingly Protestant.

By Wednesday, an army spokesman said there would be more than 17,000 British soldiers in the province.

Californian Killed Hijacker On July 2 Pan American Flight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The man who killed a hijacker on a Pan American Airways jetliner in Saigon July 2 has been identified as a former telephone lineman and reserve policeman.

William Mills, 24, of Richmond, Calif., worked as a lineman for the Pacific Telephone Co., friends said Monday, and was a reserve policeman from September 1971 until June of this year. They said he went to Saigon to work for the Federal Electric Co.

Pan Am confirmed that Mills was the one who shot the Vietnamese hijacker as the pilot of the jetliner held him.

Mr. and Mrs. David Urban said they took Mills to the San Francisco International Airport to board the flight to Saigon. They said he handed over his .357 Magnum pistol to the plane's skipper.

Admission Made To A $20,000 Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jeffrey Duvall, 24, has admitted setting a fire that ruined the headquarters of a homosexual organization, police reported Monday.

Officers quoted Duvall, who gave no address, as saying he had been insulted at a dance given by the Society for Individual Rights.

Detectives also quoted him as saying he could say more but "you just wouldn't understand me."

The fire on Sunday started in a costume room and damage was estimated at $20,000. Duvall was charged with arson.

Saigon Troops Pinch Quang Tri; Surprise Drop Behind Red Lines

SAIGON (UPI)—An estimated 4,500 South Vietnamese marines and paratroopers attacked embattled Quang Tri City today from three sides, pushing back into the city's southern edge and staging a surprise assault behind Communist lines.

Military spokesmen said the airborne troops, landed by U.S. helicopters, punched into the southwest corner of the city in a daybreak assault that met heavy Communist resistance.

The attack came after government paratroopers were forced to re-group Monday just outside the city, leaving it temporarily in North Vietnamese control.

Today's action marked the first time South Vietnamese troops were reported within the city, occupied with the rest of Quang Tri Province by the Communists May 1, since last week when spokesmen said government soldiers occupied two-thirds of the northernmost provincial capital before withdrawing under heavy fire.

In the most daring maneuver of the precision attacks, government marines aboard U.S. helicopters whirled into an area 2 1-2 miles northwest of the city near the old Ai Tu combat base. The marines became the northernmost South Vietnamese element fighting to retake the city.

A U.S. Navy spokesman said one U.S. Marine CH53 Sea Stallion helicopter was shot down during the Ai Tu attack and two Marine CH46 Sea Knight choppers were damaged by ground fire. The Sea Knight crews wee picked up safely after landing in government-held territory but there was no word on the Sea Stallion fliers.

Eyewitnesses said about two battalions of South Vietnamese marines launched an assault in the southeastern corner of the city. There were no details of the fighting.

Fifty-seven U.S. B52 bombers dumped an estimated 1,425 tons of explosives in the upper part of South Vietnam in the 24 hours ending at noon today, spokesmen said. Twenty-one of the big stratofortresses hit on two sides of Quang Tri to support the government push to take the city.

The U.S. command said today a Navy A4 Skyhawk crashed from unknown causes Monday northeast of Thanh Hoa in the North Vietnam panhandle. The pilot was listed as missing.

WINE NOTES #8
Bourbon Shops have available a sturdy and handsome six bottle cardboard carrying case for wines or spirits which is ideal for transporting wines on airplanes or to picnics, or to use as a gift carton. These re-useable cartons are very reasonably priced at fifty cents each.
The Napa Valley Wine Library Association sponsors a two and a half day wine appreciation seminar which I recently attended. Instructors were eminent wine people such as Louis P. Martini, Bill Bonetti, and Jack Davies. Two couples from Mill Valley were also in attendance, and although we didn't get acquainted until the last afternoon, we did spend a few enjoyable hours together. After a brief graduation ceremony which took place in the vineyards at Schramsberg and included handsome certificates for each student, we Marin Countians accepted an invitation from Tom Cottrell, proprietor and wine maker of Cuvaison Winery, to a private tasting of his wines. Although I had tasted Cuvaison Wines before it was a pleasure to re-assure myself that yet another small, independent winemaker had earned himself a place among the premium quality wine producers of California.
In June, Mr. Mike Elwood of Llords and Elwood Winery presented a lecture on and comparative tasting of his excellent wines for the Bourbon Shop staff. All of us were pleased to have an opportunity to discuss his wines with him, and we must admit that his dessert wines, particularly the Judges Secret Cream Sherry, and the Great Day Dry Sherry, are exceptional wines and can stand up to a careful taste comparison with their European counterparts. The quality of Llords and Elwood dry table wines is, of course, well known.
Our wine business continues to be outstanding. In the latter part of August we intend to install a new style of wine shelving in our Northgate store and we solicit your comments. If customer reaction is favorable we will use the new style of shelving in our two new stores. Let us hear your comments because we want you to be satisfied.
We think we have another sleeper to feature as our Wine of the Month for July. Please try the Foppiano Petite Sirah. It may be our best find yet.

Officers Elected By Town Meeting Group

The San Rafael Town Meeting Association has elected officers and committee chairmen, scheduled future meeting dates and now has its own post office box, Priscilla H. Bull, the forum's vice chairman, announced today.

Officers of the association are Steven B. Sachs, chairman; Susan Lifschiz, secretary, and Dan L. Chesnut, treasurer. Committee chairmen are Richard Sadler and Frederick Dekker, community development; Tina Ferris, environmental; Leland S. Bright, social problems; Kenneth D. Guinther, government, and G. Scott Jones Jr., recreation.

The group's mailing address is post office box 1445, San Rafael.

A meeting of the board will be held July 18 at Bank of Marin in the Northgate shopping center. A community development committee meeting is scheduled for July 20 at San Rafael High School and a general association meeting will be held July 26 at 8 p.m. in the Pacific Gas and Electirc hall at Third and Brooks streets in San Rafael.

The group is organizing San Rafael's first town meeting, which is to be held Oct. 14 at a location yet to be announced.

Drugs Dinner Meeting Topic

The story of one group's solution to heroin addiction among young people will be presented at the July 21 dinner meeting of the Christian Business Men's Committee of Marin.

The program, entitled "Rescuing the Drug Addict — The Success Story of Teen Challenge," will start at 7 p.m. at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

For reservations, contact Fred Carlsen, of 259 Irwin Street or Victor Lubinoff of 1350 Lincoln Avenue, both San Rafael.

Prize Photos Due For Archive

An exhibit of prize-winning photographs by Steven Berryman and Stuart Stenros will be displayed in Gilmore's photography shop in Mill Valley through July.

The photographers, who took pictures of four historic almond trees in Mill Valley, competed in a Tamalpais High School photo contest under the supervision of Herschel M. Tribbett.

Following their exhibition at the photo shop, the winning pictures will be stored in the archives of the Mill Valley library.

Youth Is Charged With Misdemeanor

Only misdemeanor charges have been filed against a 19-year-old Brisbane youth, arrested Tuesday in Larkspur on suspicion of possessing restricted drugs.

Paul Zalyvon Prince was arrested about 1 a.m. by Larkspur police and subsequently charged with being drunk in public and being under the influence of heroin.

No More Taxis For Marin City

The owner of the San Rafael Yellow Cab Co. said yesterday he will no longer provide service to Marin City in the wake of the robbery of one of his drivers there last week.

"This is the first time we've ever been robbed in Marin County," said Robert C. Jennings, owner of the firm which provides taxi service into Corte Madera, Larkspur, Ross Valley and San Rafael.

The owner said the company has "the right to refuse any load outside of our territory and Marin City is outside."

He said the cabs will stop at the bus stop on the outskirts of the community, but will not take a fare into Marin City "unless it is someone our drivers know."

The company was robbed of $37 last Wednesday about 3 a.m. when driver Thomas G. Jones took a young man into the area. While he was stopped, making change, Jones told sheriff's deputies that another man came up to the vehicle, pulled him out and held him on the ground while the passenger took money from his pockets.

"The sheriff's department promised to escort us into Marin City, but when we called a few days after the robbery, they couldn't guarantee us an escort, since they might be busy," Jennings said.

When asked, the cab company owner said he wouldn't suspend service to Larkspur, for example, if a similar robbery occurred in that city.

June Traffic

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Western Airlines has reported preliminary June traffic of 501 million seat miles sold, a record for the month and a 9 per cent increase over the 460 million sold in June 1971.

Salt Content Is Down In Delta After Flooding

OAKLAND (UPI) —The salt content of water in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta is decreasing, the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation said Monday.

Salt water from San Francisco Bay got into the delta system June 21 when a San Joaquin River levee broke, flooding Andrus Island instead of holding back the ocean water.

Bureau officials said the salt reading of water entering Contra Costa Canal at Rock Slough averaged 395 parts per million on Sunday, down from a high last week of 450 parts.

Free Press Books To Novato Boys Club

Gabel's Litho Inc. of Corte Madera has given the Novato boys club 100 reproductions of the club's 81-page press book, accordingto Edward T. Ghirardo, club president.

The gift, valued at $600, will be used in soliciting funds from Bay Area foundations. The press book chronicles the club's year-long fund-raising campaign and organizational activities.

Fund Established To Pay Bills Of Hit-Run Victim

A group of Tamalpais Valley residents have established a fund to help pay the hospital bills of a neighbor struck down June 24 by a hit-and-run driver.

Contributions to the Rose Menicucci fund should be sent to Ellen Wright, 898 Chamberlain Court, Mill Valley, Mrs. Wright said yesterday.

Mrs. Menicucci, a self-employed caretaker of children, was walking with three youngsters when a car swerved off the road near Shoreline Highway and struck the group. The children also were injured.

The youngsters were treated in Marin General Hospital and released. Mrs. Menicucci was reported in satisfactory condition today at Presbyterian Hospital in San Francisco with a broken pelvis, an injured eye and internal injuries.

The case of a driver arrested following the incident is now in the courts.

Marin Alternative Picks New Officers

Grace A. Hughes of Mill Valley has been elected chairman of Marin Alternative for 1972-73.

Other elected officers of the group are: vice chairman, Ken Howard, Lagunitas; recording secretary, Carol Newman of Kentfield; corresponding secretary, Carol Asch, Mill Valley; treasurer, Lotte Schiller, Mill Valley.

Bolinas Group Hires Two Master Planners

The Bolinas Planning Group last night hired two persons to produce a master plan for the community.

Paul Kayfetz, of the organization's administrative committee, said the group voted to employ Stephen Matson and Patrick Holland full time.

Matson will prepare the plan and Holland will gather community ideas and suggestions for incorporation in it.

Money to hire the men was provided by the Center for Youth Studies in San Francisco, as well as from donations from the community.

"The center sees Bolinas as a forerunner of small communities taking their destinies in their own hands and trying to work within the existing governmental structure to effect the desires of the community and solve its problems," Kayfetz said. He noted the money was given, "with no strings attached," although an accounting of the use of the funds will be required. "Control will be in the hands of the planning group," he added.

Both men were hired for six months with Matson receiving $750 a month and Holland, $250.

The group also approved final form for a survey questionnaire which will be used to help formulate the general plan.

The questionnaire, which the organization hopes to distribute to all Bolinas residents and property owners, will contain both informational and opinion questions.

Residents will be asked for such information as their family structure, number of autos and sources of income, as well as their opinions on future development and commercial services in Bolinas, water supply needs and tourism.

Kayfetz said the questionnaire answers will be completely anonymous. He said the survey will be distributed in envelopes which respondents can seal before returning them. The unopened envelopes will be placed in a bin when returned to insure anonymity," according to Kayfetz.

Bypass Fill Will Go For Parking Lot

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved filling 5.2 acres along the east side of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. tracks, north of Olive Avenue, with materials from the Highway 101 bypass project.

In the city's downtown plan, the site is designated for parking for a shopping center and a future rapid transit station.

Commissioners granted Louis Garaventa a permit to place 140,000 cubic yards of fill on the site, which will bring the property to an elevation of about 10 feet.

The commission denied Alfred Bellucci's request to fill 2.7 acres at the south end of Clausing Avenue, east of Highway 101.

A request by Freeman-Sondgroth Consturction Co., contractors on the Highway 101 bypass project, to excavate 285,000 cubic yards of earth from a ridge near Oleander Lane and Adrienne Street was continued until Aug. 14, at the contractor's request.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

HAUNTED HOUSE — Granted the Jolly Rogers chapter, Children's Home Society, a use permit to conduct a haunted house in a two-story dwelling at 1485 South Novato Boulevard, Oct. 24 through 30.

REZONING — Approved rezoning 4.5 acres south of Novato Boulevard between McClay Road and Grant Avenue from single-family residential and limited agricultural to planned residential. Robert C. Roberts had applied for rezoning to multiple-family.

SCHOOL — Granted a permit for Kaleidoscope School to conduct pre-school classes for about 15 children at Grace Lutheran Church, 1787 Grant Avenue.

OFFICE BUILDING — Approved precise development plans by Hoytt Enterprises Inc. for an office building on a vacant lot between Sambo's restaurant and the Marin County branch library on the north side of Novato Boulevard.

Marinite Picked As Law Dean

Wyanne Bunyan Rothschild of Mill Valley has been named assistant dean for student affairs at Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco.

Although married to another attorney, Frank Rothschild, she prefers to be called by her maiden name, Bunyan. She is a direct descendant of John Bunyan, author of "Pilgrim's Progress."

Miss Bunyan, 27, is the youngest dean at Hastings, and one of the youngest law school administrators anywhere.

She is now attending the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach as a member of the California Democratic delegation supporting Sen. George S. McGovern.

Kindergarten Workshop Set

All parents of youngsters scheduled to enter kindergarten at Old Mill School in September have been invited to a special workshop meeting at 8 p.m. today at the school to discuss arrangements.

The discussion will focus on advantages and disadvantages of holding kindergarten classes at Old Mill in both the morning and afternoonrather than bussing some students to Edna Maguire School.

District Supt. James A. Collins, Old Mill principal Clare Broadhead, kindergarten teacher Joan Cochran, members of the Mill Valley School district board and the elementary school's Parent-Teacher Association will attend the workshop.

Special Session On Substandard Lots

The Belvedere Planning Commission will hold a special meeting today at 8 p.m. in city hall to review a Livingston-Blayney planning proposal that would ban building on substandard lots that are part of presently developed parcels.

Under the proposal, individual lots of substandard size could be developed or sold only if the owner held no adjoining property, according to Leslie Graham, commission chairman.

Solution To Some Beach Bus Feuding

The Marin County Transit District board assured conservationists today that shuttle bus service to Santa Maria Beach at Point Reyes National Seashore would continue and other problems be solved.

Conservationists complained that the weekend bus service within the park no longer drops off passengers at the beach but rather at Limantour Estero — which they consider an ecologically fragile area.

Anne West of Inverness told the board that Park Supt. John Sansing has refused to allow the buses to operate near the beach as directed by the district board in May. Further, she charged, the National Park Service hopes to "obiliterate" the road leading to the beach, thus forcing tourists and hikers into the Limantour area.

Other problems since the bus service between the beach and park headquarters began July 1, she said, include lack of bus stop signs along the route, poor trail maps and lack of trail markings.

Chairman Peter R. Arrigoni said he had spoken Friday with Sansing and had been assured service to Santa Maria Beach would continue and other problems would be solved. "He indicated he is most willing to work these things out," Arrigoni said.

"I hope you're right," responded Mrs. West, asserting that the park service has a reputation for lack of cooperation.

Smog Board To Elect Officers

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Bay Area Air Pollution Control District directors will elect new officers for the fiscal year at their meeting at 10 a.m. Friday in the district offices at 939 Ellis Street.

The board will also consider requests by Napa County for changes in the district's Regulation 1, which limits open burning, backyard incinerators and other potential smog sources.

Consultants Cresap, Morgan and Paget will give a progress report on their study of district reorganization needs, and the ad hoc committee on organization structure also is to give a report.

Heads For Paris

PARIS (UPI) — Le Duc Tho, the North Vietnamese diplomat who met secretly with presidential advisor Henry A. Kissinger, left Hanoi today to rejoin the Vietnam peace talks resuming Thursday, Communist diplomats said.

China Trip Is Approved By District

Mill Valley School District Trustees last night approved a special leave for Old Mill School teacher Carol Malkin to visit mainland China for 17 days in October.

Supt. James A. Collins explained that Mrs. Malkin was a member of a group that had been invited to tour behind the Bamboo Curtain. On her return to Mill Valley, "she will be a resource person to the schools and the community" on China, Collins said.

The Mill Valley School District Board also:

REORGANIZATION — Elected Trustee John G. Eliot Jr. as board chairman and John H. Cutler clerk for the fiscal year.

BUDGET — Approved a publication budget totalling $4,201,093, requiring an estimated tax rate of $3.61 per $100 assessed property valuation. Collins explained that the county-assessed portion of the district's assessment roll was up 8.2 per cent, necessitating only a 15.9 cent rate increase instead of the 17.7 rise originally predicted.

MIDDLE SCHOOL — Heard from Collins that carpet was being installed in the new Middle School and the board probably can accept the construction as complete "in a couple of weeks."

POLICIES — Approved the annual readoption of district policies but postponed action on a new student rights policy for at least a month.

HIRINGS — Approved hiring Michael Kaufman as Middle School art teacher and Lawrence Richards as foreign language teacher, each at $9,435 a year and Annette Wynn as part time guidance secretary at $268 a month.

Fight Sends One Person To Hospital

A fight between roommates yesterday in San Rafael ended with one in the hospital and the other in jail on suspicion of felony assault, San Rafael police reported.

Richard Strom, 49, of 227 Paloma Avenue, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Kaiser Foundation Hospital with a fractured left cheekbone, fractured ribs, a cut inside his right elbow and bruises on his face, scalp, arms and legs. He first had been treated at Marin General Hospital.

His roommate, Thomas Carl Rates, 20, was in Marin County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that several neighbors called to report a fight at the Paloma Avenue address at 6 p.m. Police were told by Rates he had a fight with Strom, who had gone to United Ambulance Service at 1314 Lincoln Avenue to be taken to Marin General Hospital. After police located Strom and saw his condition, they arrested Rates.

Police reported that Rates said the argument was over a personal matter.

O'Kane Removed As Presiding Municipal Judge

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Municipal Judge John A. O'Kane has been removed as presiding justice by his colleagues reportedly disgruntled about his administrative practices.

His fellow judges voted 12-5 Monday to oust him from the post he has held for only six months. Presiding justices normally serve a full year.

Judge Joseph Kennedy was elected to fill out O'Kane's term.

There had been reports that the judges were unhpappy with O'Kane's method of assigning them to various courts without consulting them first and with his establishin g a Saturday morning traffic court.

Reporters were not allowed in the meeting, and afterwards Kennedy said "there were no real complaints," about the traffic court.

Session Saturday On Master Plan

In the hope of obtaining more community participation, the Marin City Council last night set a meeting for Saturday to discuss the proposed Marin City master plan and community redevelopment issues.

Council Chairman Frank Phillips Sr. said the council discussed the matters last night without conclusion, adjourning until 10:30 a.m., Saturday at the Manzanita Center in the hope of a better resident turnout.

On the redevelopment mat ter, the council seeks to be designated as the official advisory group to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency on community redevelopment plans.

San Rafael air quality yesterday:

Oxidant, clean air.
Nitrogen dioxide, clean air.
Carbon monoxide, clean air.
Smoke particles, clean air.
Other areas:
San Francisco, clean air.
San Jose, clean air.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches, and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources while the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

Slide Work On 101 Is Launched

A $170,000 project to remove slides and control erosion is under way above the southbound lanes of Highway 101 between the California Park overhead in San Rafael and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

State Division of Highways officials said that while the work is in progress, Tiburon Boulevard, a street in the Bret Harte Heights area, will be reduced from two lanes to one lane so that a crib wall can be constructed.

The lane reduction, which began today, is expected to continue for at least 40 days, officials said.

The work includes constructing crib walls and installing rock slope protection at various locations to control future slides.

OBITUARIES

Jessie Howland Dies At 92

Jessie Howland, 92, a longtime resident of Marin County, died yesterday in a San Anselmo convaleucent home where she had lived for the last 10 years.

Born in Illinois, Mrs. Howland migrated to California and settled in San Rafael 30 years ago.

She is survived by her daughters, Alene Budal of San Diego, Elizabeth Erickson of Humboldt County, and Edith Wiggins of San Anselmo; three sons, Herman V. of Calipatria, Robert S. of Palo Alto, and John E. of Sonoma.

Also surviving are two sisters, Lizzie Morris of Hydesville, Humboldt County, and Sarah Peacock of Eureka; and a brother, Truman Swarts of Fortuna. Mrs. Howland had numerous grandchildren.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 1 p.m. at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

ROBERT WEEDE

WALNUT CREEK (AP) — Robert Weede, a baritone whose career spanned 40 years of concerts, opera and musicals, is dead at the age of 69.

Services are scheduled for 10 a.m. Thursday in Concord.

Weede, in failing health for the past year, died Sunday.

He performed with the San Francisco and Metropolitan Opera companies, ending public appearances in 1964.

A native of Baltimore, Md., Weede studied at the Eastman School in Rochester, N.Y. and won a Caruso Memorial Foundation award in 1929 for a year's study in Italy.

From 1933 to 1938, Weede was soloist at Radio City Music Hall in New York, sharing the stage with tenor Jan Peerce. From 1942 to 1946, both singers appeared on a radio program called "Great Moments in Music."

Weede made his debut at the Metropolitan in 1937. He appeared in "The Most Happy Fella" in 1956, winning a Tony award for best broadway actor. He also starred in "Milk and Honey."

He settled on his ranch in nearby Concord after his last performance, but taught voice.

Survivors include two sons, Robert and Richard.

HELEN SUTTLE

Helen Suttle, 59, of Fairfax, died at a local hospital early this morning following a long illness.

She and her husband, Ballington Suttle, had recently moved from Sonora to live with their stepdaughter, Mrs. Ivy Harrison of 31 Geary Avenue, Fairfax.

Her husband retired several years ago after working at San Quentin Prison for 32 years as superintendent of the furniture department.

In addition to her husband and her stepdaughter, surviving are a daughter, Donna Marshall of Hayward; a son, Fred Cardella of Singapore; a sister, Mildred Impertrice of San Francisco, and three grandchildren.

Arrangements were pending today at Duggan's Serra Mortuary, Daly City.

CHARLES ALLEN

Private funeral was held today for Charles R. Allen of Greenbrae.

Allen, 71, died Sunday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

Born in New York City, Allen, of 20 Corte Alegre, had lived in Marin County for 24 years. He was a retired insurance adjustor for the General Adjustment Bureau in San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Laura, and a daughter, Rolline Vestal of Sebastopol.

Burial was at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery in San Rafael.

CATHERINE WALKER

Catherine T. Walker of San Rafael died unexpectedly yesterday afternoon in her home at 814 B Street. Mrs. Walker was 78 and was being treated for heart trouble.

Born in Grand Rapids, Mich., Mrs. Walker had lived in Marin County for the last 12 years. She was a member of the Senior Citizens of Marin County.

She was the mother of Marin County real estate men Donald C. Timmer and William A. Timmer, both of San Rafael.

She is survived by her sisters Carrie Bower of Denver, Colorado, Josephine Bloomquist of Grand Haven, Michigan, and Lena DeHaan of Grand Rapids, Michigan; brothers Peter and William Olree of Grand Rapids and nine grandchildren.

Funeral will be Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Rosary will be recited tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the mortuary.

Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

RAIMONDO BIANCHI

Raimondo Bianchi, 73, retired poultry rancher in Southern Sonoma, died yesterday at his Cotati home after a long illness.

He was born and reared in Brazil and came to the United States in 1923. Bianchi worked as a nurseryman in Oakland and Eureka before moving to Cotati in 1940. He operated a poultry ranch at 136 East Railroad Avenue, Cotati, until his retirement six years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Maria; a son, Aldo Bianchi of Cotati; a brother and two sisters in Italy, and three grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Joseph's Church, Cotati. Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 p.m. today at Sorensen Funeral Home, Petaluma. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery.

What a Realtor can do for you?

SAVE YOU TIME, EFFORT, MONEY
A Realtor can save you time, effort, and headaches, too. Once he discovers what you want, what you need, and how much you can pay (and he is ready to determine these, too), he will show you homes of the type you want within your price range, and do it at your convenience.

CALL ATTENTION TO PLUSES, MINUSES
A Realtor will inspect homes with you, and call attention to improvements and advantages you could overlook (and point out disadvantages, too).

ADVICE ON MAINTENANCE, TAXES, LOCATION
A Realtor will advise you about locations, and give you expert advice on complex matters of maintenance, taxes, quality of construction, and adequacy of public services.

ARRANGE FINANCIAL STATEMENT
A Realtor can help you at the closing by arranging for title insurance, and a complete financial statement for insurance and tax purposes.

ADVICE ON MARKET VALUES
A Realtor can be invaluable in judging prices and values of homes. He can tell you what the market is (he knows it well) — what homes are worth, and what they are selling for: he can evaluate properties properly, and he can tell you if a price is realistic.

MORTGAGE ADVICE AND MONEY
A Realtor can give you sound mortgage advice, and help you find mortgage money. He knows best when and where money is available.

A LINK BETWEEN BUYER/SELLER
A Realtor can act as a negotiator between buyer and seller — helping both arrive at a mutually advantageous agreement.

CAN SELL YOUR HOME FASTER
A Realtor, because of Multiple Listing Service, can sell your home faster . . . there are 225 member offices of the Marin County Board of Realtors — with more than 800 employees working for you if you list with Multiple.

Butter Ball - Au Jus

So delightfully rich when broiled or barbecued to a crusty brown on the outside and pink inside.

Use a 3 to 3½-lb. butter ball. Have butter ball at room temperature before starting. Cook at high heat 3 to 4 inches from heat source. Brown well on first side before turning. Total cooking time approximately 35 to 40 minutes for medium. Serve on a pre-heated platter. Carve in diagonal slices ¼-inch thick.

Let natural juice run down to one end of pre-heated platter. Into juices, add ⅓ cube melted butter, 2 tsp. Worcestershire, 1 tsp. dry mustard, 1 tsp. accent, salt and pepper to taste. Mix well and pour over sliced butter ball before serving.

Serves four to six people

Can Master Plans Save Open Space?

Not so long ago, a city measured how "good" it was by the amount of development. Proposals for new subdivisions, apartment complexes and shopping centers were greeted with pride. "Look how we're growing!" was the crow of the civic booster.

Within the last three weeks, two cities in Marin have slapped emergency moratoriums on developments. That shows how the climate has changed.

THE MORATORIUM in San Rafael applies to all undeveloped parcels of two acres or more or of five or more contiguous lots regardless of acerage. That in Corte Madera applies to all of one acre or more — again with the five-lot restriction in addition.

Effect of both is to call a halt on all building other than individual residences. Both remain in force for four months but may be extended longer by council action. Both are intended to remain until new general plans can be prepared which more tightly limit development.

The cry behind both is, "Save our open space!"

SUCH MORATORIUMS are extreme measures. Only yesterday — comparatively speaking — they would have been greeted with howls of protest by real estate people, builders and financiers. But both San Rafael's and Corte Madera's have been accepted with scarcely a word of objection. That, too, shows how the climate has changed.

An extremely difficult task confronts whoever drwaws the job of preparing new general plans for San Rafael and Corte Madera which will provide what are now considered adequate land-use controls. We wonder whether any professional planner is up to it.

The simplest way would be to put everything in single-family residential zones. But that does not work out well, either; it is what gives us "urban sprawl" — with open space so lacking that the people who "moved to the country so the kids wouldn't have to play in the streets" find the kids playing in the streets again for lack of any place else.

PERHAPS THE ONLY solution is for the cities to buy up whatever parcels of land they are determined to keep open — particularly ridgelines and hilltops, where construction does most to mar the visual environment.

The San Rafael City Council took cognizance of this in calling, at the same time it enacted its moratorium, for a vote in September on a bond issue for open space purchase — $2.3 million, to be repaid by adding 10 cents to the tax rate.

That 10 cents is the same amount that a countywide park district could levy for the same purpose, if one is approved by the voters in November. San Rafael's city fathers want to be sure their citizens' open-space taxes go to keep open space in San Rafael. Corte Madera might be well advised to follow suit, for preservation of open space by zoning appears on the record to be largely an illusion.

Move To Abolish Special Districts Needs Backing

By EARL G. WATERS

The relentless attack on the plethora of special districts by the fearless Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, is again being waged.

Cullen has dared to brave the wrath of the multitude of entrenched directors of the state's more than 4,000 special districts by several times introducing legislation to abolish most of them.

This year his constitutional measure which would dissolve all special districts lying solely within any one county made more progress than usual. It actually got a committee hearing and avoided sudden death. It has been sent to interim study.

ASKED ABOUT the opposition, Cullen grinned and said, "There wasn't any." What he meant was nobody appeared before the committee to speak against his measure. They didn't have to. Their ominous warnings to the lawmakers had been telegraphed ahead.

As Cullen pointed out, "Since such a proposal affects the political base of every legislator, the pressures from the thousands of special district directors are too great for the Legislature alone."

Cullen went on to philosophize. "I can see no possibility for reform unless a strong governor gives it vigorous backing."

THE EVIL of these sub-levels of government was the subject of a comprehensive study by the Institute of Local Self-Government which submitted a report titled "Special Districts or Special Dynasties?"

"Most damaging to local self-government," the report concluded, "is that special districts are clothed with low political visibility. Their political and administrative structure is effectively, if not purposely, screened from any critical public review. Worse, the chief by-product of the situation, 'non-accountability,' shields the technician turned bureaucrat as he myopically pursues his single-purpose business under the unexamined banner of 'efficiency' and 'public service'."

The report did not stop with this strong indictment but continued, "... participation in the democratic processes ... is almost totally lacking in special district government ... It is almost often a dynasty ... by all modern measures it is an intolerable anomaly in today's sensitive democratic society."

WHETHER AN INTERIM study will be productive of a remedy would seem to depend upon the backing given Cullen's efforts by those in a position to sway public opinion.

The opportunity to perform a great service to the public and achieve some economies in government seems perfect for Governor Reagan. A strong advocate of less government, Reagan has demonstrated he is not afraid to push through government reorganizations. So far he has confined his efforts to things at the state level. But the development of special districts into what a presidential commission has termed an "urban jungle" presents a challenge to one with the imaginative mind for reform which Reagan has exhibited.

The need for most of these special districts has long since disappeared, if there ever was a real necessity. For most, the established city and county governments could better provide the services being rendered by the districts.

If Cullen's efforts fail, it may prove to be another area for invasion by the courts. For Justice Black, speaking for the majority in the 1968 "one-man, one-vote" decision said: "So long as citizens are permitted to vote for public officials, there is no valid reason why each citizen should not be given an equal vote ... This is nonetheless true because the official's powers are specialized and narrow."

"The Russians are boasting again, Mr. President. Brezhnev claims his Cadillac is getting 32 miles to the gallon."

San Rafael Food Stamp Sales Office Needed

Your article of July 6 concerning the EOC food stamp sales office failedto mention that this office is the only food stamp outlet located in San Rafael. The EOC food stamp sales office serves 1,500 to 2,000 persons per month; 40 per cent to 50 per cent of all persons in Marin County receiving food stamps. This office is especially needed by senior citizens living in one-room apartments in downtown San Rafael.

The program offers more hours of service than any other food stamp sales office in Marin County; it is open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

I hope that this valuable program will be continued by responsible county officials.

Behr Lauded For Outstanding Job

As a private citizen and an active member of Common Cause, I have followed the activities in Sacramento as closely as I could. Even though I am not a constituent of Senator Behr, his actions have impressed me to the point of writing the enclosed letter to him.

I feel that we too often revile our legislators and never give them the praise they are due.

I sincerely hope that you can see fit to inform your readers of the contents of my letter so they can see that, at least one of their representatives is sincerely trying to do his job with their best interests in mind.

Test Holes Can Be Hazard To Children

Friday, July 7th, I watched a crew working in some fields along Canal Street. They were using a rig which looked like a combination drill and pile driver, if there is such a thing, and were drilling or driving holes for tests or depth examination of some sort. While I watched them work on one hole, they attached and sunk three extensions onto what ever tool or tip they were using. I do not know the depth of these holes but what I watched indicated at least twenty feet.

This morning, Saturday, I went out with a steel tape and measured the diameter of the holes. At the surface they measure five inches in diameter.

Apparently San Rafael is too poor to provide any sort of playgrounds for the children in the Canal Street area so they must play in the streets or the few available empty fields. Children running in the grass and weeds in these fields might step into one of these holes and break a leg. Small cats hunting in the same area might go in head first and not be able to get out.

Would it be too much to ask our city fathers to require that any such test hole or well or any other type of dangerous hole or excavation be adequately marked and fenced while it is in use and be completely and solidly filled before being abandoned?

I wonder if we will ever place children ahead of dollars. At times I think the answer is NEVER.

Are Weed Sprays Harmful To Man?

Enclosed is a photograph taken either June 26 or 27 of a City of San Rafael vehicle in which the operator is just replacing a hose after spraying considerable amounts of liquid onto vegeta begetation in the creek bed at First and E streets. Today the foliage is turning brown as though it was hit with some vegetation killer. I have not one concern over weed control and am glad it is practiced.

However, about four years ago there were trout as long as 24 inches in this creek. Two years ago there were countless fingerlings floating belly up in the creek. I don't know why this was.

Many children and dogs play and even wade in the creek.

The creek usually has a lush growth of watercress which is harvested by a number of people.

If the liquid sprayed into the creek is at all toxic to humans, pets or fish, it would be well to educate those men whose job it is to control weeds about what could be potentially dangerous to living animals. Maybe signs advising that the area has been sprayed and vegetation growing in the area should not be consummed would be in order.

If a spray was used that has no noxious qualities to man, pets or fish, this letter has no point, but I would like to be reassured that there is no concern if children play in the creek or the watercress is eaten.

Fluorides Can Be Harmful To Health

If it were possible to write an Open Letter to the Childrens Dental Health Committee, concerned about children's tooth decay, understandably, such a letter would go something like this:

Come, let us reason together, friends. As you work at getting the fluoridation issue back on our ballot, are you aware that scientific research now discloses an excess of environmental fluoride in most areas of this and all countries? That fluoride is now invading the food chain in alarming proportions and that there has been a 15-fold increase in fluoride ingestion in only two decades in some areas?

A recent report from Canada's National Research Council calls for "concerted scientific investigation of the effects on humans of fluorides ... (because) man may be adding more fluoride than he should to that already occurring in his environment, with possible negative effects to his health." The report charges that there has been little work done on what effect "border line" levels of fluorides might have on man — levels that could result from absorbing fluorides from several sources. "These could include a fluoridated water supply, fluoridated toothpaste and vitamin pills, food from fluoride-polluted areas (from some 50 different types of industry) as well as pharmaceuticals, cosmetics and aerosol sprays ..." (Toronto Globe and Mail, Feb. 16, 1972.)

One of the chief problems cited is that fluoride is absorbed and retained by the body. "Thus people with kidney problems are more likely to suffer from side effects because they can't discharge it as efficiently as normal people."

At this point in time, reason surely dictates that purposeful addition of fluoride to the public water supply must be considered an obsolete theory, which is why the literature and the press now places emphasis on alternatives to water fluoridation, such as individual, controlled topical application, which can be immediately discontinued, should adverse reactions occur.

Lavelle's Private Air War Will Make More Headlines

WASHINGTON — While top brass in the Pentagon wish that it would dry up and blow away, the Lavelle affair is likely to make more headlines in the future than in the recent past. It could even become a campaign issue as one aspect of a war raging out of control.

Thanks to a concerned Air Froce sergeant in Thailand, it became known that Gen. John D. Lavelle, commander of the 7th Air Force in Vietnam, ordered up to 147 sorties flown against North Vietnam contrary to top command orders specifying only "protective reaction" strikes. Reports of these sorties in Lavelle's private air war were falsified. And they coincided with the efforts last November of Henry A. Kissinger, the President's national security adviser, to get high-ranking North Vietnamese to the peace table.

SEN. HAROLD HUGHES of Iowa is determined that this violation of civilian command not be glossed over. A member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, he called on chairman John Stennis to hold public hearings on Lavelle's nomination for permanent rank as lieutenant general and Stennis agreed. Relieved of his command after disclosure of the unauthorized sorties, Lavelle was given a slap on the wrist by an order demoting him to major general on retirement.

The charges against Lavelle are tied in with the nomination of Gen. Creighton C. Abrams to be chief of staff of the Army. When Lavelle appeared before the House Armed Services Committee he indicated that Abrams, overall commander of American forces in Vietnam, knew of the unauthorized air strikes. Both Lavelle's promotion and Abrams' nomination to the Joint Chiefs of Staff must be confirmed by the Senate.

In two Senate speeches Hughes, who was a combat infantryman in World War II, compared the falsification of the records to the Gulf of Tonkin incident in 1964 when allegedly North Vietnamese torpedo boats attacked American naval vessels. That episode, challenged later as false, was the basis for a congressional resolution adopted almost unanimously giving President Lyndon B. Johnson authority to use the armed forces at his discretion in Indochina.

"WHATEVER TACTICAL benefits these decisions have had," Hughes said of Lavelle's action, "they have also contributed to the erosion of presidential control over the military aspects of the war. This erosion of control led to the situation where one commander could send his pilots on unauthorized strikes at the very time that secret and delicate peace talks were under way."

Kissinger's aides reportedly have been persuaded that the bombing kicked over the peace attempt. A Kissinger spokesman says thereis no knowledge of such a view. But as Hughes points out, when the war machine and the peace machine are moving in contrary directions the peace will surely be lost.

The great embodiment of the freedoms we cherish, the Constitution of the United States, places the military under civilian control. Violation of that control is a cause for the gravest concern as the Lavelle affair now shows. This suggests a bit of history that led up to World War II.

IN THE 1930S Japanese officers in Manchuria and China, operating at the end of the line in Japan's conquest of empire, repeatedly defied civilian authority in Tokyo. Super-patriotic staff officers precipitated incidents and took unauthorized military action which left the government with no way to retreat.

John Toland, author of the Pulitzer prize-winning "The Rising Sun" and other historians writing on the basis of documents avilable only since the end of the war trace a disastrous pattern of military insubordination that was to leave the civilian government a hollow shell. Real power was finally taken over by the military. Toland and other historians believe this was perhaps the decisive factor in Japan's war with China and ultimately with the United States. In one of the first incidents, in 1928, staff officers of the Kwantung Army in Manchuria blew up a train carrying a Chinese war lord, Chang To-lin, whom they considered uncooperative. The civilian government, backed by the emperor, demanded that they be punished. On the grounds that this would damage prestige and morale, the army refused.

No one would suggest an analogy between the defiant Japanese who ultimately usurped complete authority and the single Lavelle episode. But that episode is a warning of the perils in an undeclared war where civilian control is uncertain to say the least.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Must Vietnam, Like Korea, Wait 20 Years For Sanity?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Back in 1953, under another American president, during another unpopular Asian war and another desperate search for peace, the pendulum of history was about to swing through another arc.

Josef Stalin had been dead a little more than a month when President Dwight D. Eisenhower declared in his World Peace Program speech on April 16:

"The new Soviet leadership now has a precious opportunity ... to help turn the tide of history ... The first great step must be an honorable armistice in Korea ... an end to the direct and indirect attacks on ... IndoChina and Malaya. For any armistice in Korea that merely releases aggressive armies to attack elsewhere would be a fraud."

ON JULY 27, 1953, came the Korean armistice and the London Economist declared:

"There is a remarkable shift in the attitude of American opinion ... The American people seem to have come round to the view of Gen. (Omar) Bradley, that a fullscale war in the Far East would be 'the wrong war, at the wrong time, in the wrong place.'"

During the long years of the war in Vietnam there have been many comparisons made to the war in Korea.

Take out Korea and substitute South Vietnam and the words of Eisenhower and the Economist become just as apt today.

THE PENDULUM of history has not yet completed its arc in Vietnam and it is possible that another 19 years must pass before an announcement can come from Saigon or Hanoi of equal import to that issued on July 4 from Seoul in South Korea and Pyongyang in the north.

It was that north and south had agreed on principles to unify the divided nation by peaceful means.

To agree to unify by peaceful means is another way of insuring freedom of choice, a principle for which nearly 35,000 Americans died in Korea and more than 50,000 have died in Vietnam.

To agree upon a principle is one thing, to put it into effect, another.

But if the communique issued jointly by the North and South Koreans may be taken at face value, it can be put down as one of the great forward steps in a century more noted for its achievements in ways to eradicate man than to save him.

OBVIOUSLY, THE KOREAN agreement is the result of compromise.

It agrees the Korean people will find their way to peace without interference from the outside. This appears to mean the south has dropped its demand that North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung recognize the authority of the United Nations in Korea.

But it also bans the use of force, which meets South Korean President Park Chung Hee's chief requirement for unification talks.

Obviously also, the agreement corresponds to the wishes of the Korean people long separated by an artificial boundary. Other elements in the agreement remain unclear.

One concerns the influence of the developing detente between the United States and China on the one hand and the United States and the Soviet Union, and the role it played in the thinking of the Korean leaders.

One for the future is whether there is room in a unified Korea for two such strong and opposing personalities as Kim Il Sung and Park Chung Hee.

And still another is the future role of American forces still in Korea nearly 20 years after the armistice.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

Any boy can see an abstract principle. Only threescore years and ten can discern precisely when and where it is well, necessary, and right to make an exception to it. That faculty is wisdom; all the rest is playing with counters. — Wendell Phillips.

New Dimension In Warfare: Bomb Them With Rainstorm

WASHINGTON — The news that the United States has been secretly seeding clouds in Vietnam to increase and control the rainfall for military purposes has repercussions far beyond the war in Indochina.

For one thing, it opens up an entire new dimension in warfare and could cause all sorts of difficulties not covered by the Geneva Convention, the SALT talks or any treaties now in existence.

I went to the Pentagon to find out what it all meant. No one was willing to talk about the United States' rainmaking abilities except my friend, Orlando. He was very defensive about it.

"I don't think there is anything wrong with dropping rain on the enemy. For years we've been raining bombs on them, and it didn't work. So now we've decided to bomb rain. If we can get them in a quagmire, we can win the war."

"BUT WHAT ABOUT the international repercussions of bombing rain on people? Surely the Soviets, and even the Chinese, have rainmaking machines which they could use against us."

"We are not making rain against the Soviets and the Chinese. We are only making rain against the North Vietnamese. They know that in Moscow and Peking."

"But it could rain on Russian ships and Chinese advisers in Vietnam."

"WE ARE USING smart rain bombs," Orlando countered. "They are programmed to hit only military targets. We have a laser beam that zeros in on a target, and then the rain is released. It's possible that an occasional civilian can be hit by the rain, but we are doing everything to see that no civilian gets wet."

"There is something wrong about this, Orlando," I said. "It seems to me that making rain in a war is a very serious thing."

"Wouldn't you have us drop rain on the enemy rather than bombs?" he asked.

"But you've been droping both bombs and rain," I protested.

"Next question," Orlando said angrily.

"SUPPOSE THE Russians decide to seed clouds over the United States during the World Series? Would we consider this an act of war?"

"The Russians wouldn't dare because we could seed clouds over Siberia. We could flood everything from Vladivostok to the Black Sea. They know it."

"Well let me ask you this. This has been the worst year for rain in the history of the United States. It coincides with the discovery that we are making rain in Indochina. Is it possible that some Air Force planes have been practicing on us?"

"THAT'S ABSURD," Orlando said. "Our training flights have never used anything but dummy rain seeds. I can say unequivocally that the Pentagon is not responsible for any of the rain we've experienced in the United States."

"Suppose someone else has been seeding the clouds around the United States — let's say the French or the Canadians. What can we do about it?"

"We have no intelligence that any foreign power is behind this year's rainfall. Every story we checked out has been an act of God."

"And in Indochina?"

"In Indochina it's an Act of Congress."

"An Act of Congress?"

"Of course, stupid. Read the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution."

One Floor Phone Will Not Ring

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — George Wallace's aides installed a telephone in the Mississippi delegation at the Democratic National Convention. It probably never will ring.

The telephone is a direct line to Wallace campaign headquarters, but it is at the seats of civil rights leaders Charles Evers and Aaron Henry.

The Wallace telephone, delegation members speculated, was installed with the idea the party ragulars might be seated. There is no Wallace support among the current delegat on.

"I think we'll just leave it off the hook," said Evers.

Oregon Firm Buys G'Tec Cable Rights

G'Tec Cable TV, which serves Novato, has been sold to Liberty Television Inc. of Eugene, Ore., Western California Telephone Co. announced today.

The price wasn't revealed, but the distribution system was sold by Western California Telephone Co., a subsidiary of General Telephone and Electronics Corp.

General Telephone had been ordered in February, 1970, by the Federal Communication Commission to "disafiliate" from cable television operations by March, 1974.

The FCC order bars telephone companies or broadcasting companies from having cable TV affiliates because of the dangers of monopoly.

Liberty Television, which has acquired the Novato system serving about 5,500 customers, has operated six cable systems serving 13 communities in Oregon and Alabama.

Under the sale agreement, Liberty TV will acquire the distribution system, but Western California Telephone Co. will lease poles and conduct space to Liberty.

Pending before the Novato City Council is an application by G'Tec Cable TV for a rate increase from $4.50 to $5 a month for service to one television set.

The council, which received a study of the financial status of G'Tec, June 13, continued discussion of the matter until July 25.

Clow Accountancy Corp. of San Rafael, which made the study, reported that G'Tec was in the process of being sold and advised that its successor be analyzed.

Protection Under Law For Tortoises

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — All tortoises are now protected by California state law.

Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke signed a bill Monday making it illegal to sell, buy or harm any tortoise, expanding the current law that only protects desert tortoises.

Under the bill by Assemblyman Raymond T. Seeley, R-Blythe, zoos, schools and scientific institutions will still be allowed to collect tortoises after obtaining a permit from the state Department of Fish and Game. Seeley also said the bill will not affect the small turtles sold in pet stores.

Realtor Group Sued By Agent

A San Rafael real estate agent, expelled from membership in the Marin County Board of Realtors, has filed a $750,000 damage suit against the group, charging it is trying to maintain a monoply.

In the suit filed in Marin Superior Court, Leo Tinkler, head of Leo Real Estate Co., claims the board expelled him Jan. 29 without cause and when he wasn't present.

As a result, he claims his business has suffered because he has been forbidden to use the designation of realtor, a title the industry tries to associate with "fair dealing and high integrity."

He further complained that he has been denied access to the group's multiple listing service, an arrangement whereby one member lines up a seller, but all members have a chance to find a buyer for a share of the commission.

Daniel F. Deedy, executive director of the real estate board, refused to say why Tinkler had been ousted from the group which he estimated includes more than 90 per cent of the licensed brokers in Marin.

In addition to damages, Tinkler is asking the court to let him call himself a realtor and use the listing service and to forbid the group from denying any broker membership as long as it has no official standards

$15 Million Budget To Be Studied

A $15.3 million Marin Municipal Water District budget for 1972-73 will be the subject of a public hearing before the district board at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office in Corte Madera.

The spending program is approximately $5 million larger than last year's $10.4 million budget, according to Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger, who said most of the increase is due to an increased bond program of capital improvements.

The budget includes nearly $9 million in capital work (as compared to $4 million last year), most of which will be financed by an $11.5 million bond package approved by voters in November 1970.

District operating expenditures proposed total $4.7 million, $750,000 higher than 1971-72 figures.

Among the bond projects planned are expansion of the San Geronimo treatment plan, storage tank construction in Tiburon and the San Geronimo and Tamalpais valleys and distribution lines improvements throughout central and southern Marin.

Also included are design costs for the proposed intertie to link the district with the North Marin Water District and construction of the 20-million gallon chapman reservoir.

Capital items to be financed by district revenues rather than by bonds are the $155,000 Lagunitas booster station, relocation of pipeline in San Rafael ($130,000) and replacement of three major sections of worn pipeline ($75,000).

Seeger said the $750,000 hike in district operating expenses is due to several factors, among them higher salaries and more extensive fringe benefits and increased costs of power, materials, equipment and insurance.

Approximately $300,000 of the hike will come from action of programs already approved by the district board. These include a public opinion survey on district activities and a change in the district's management structure which created one new administrative division (land management) and a training program for employees.

The proposed operations spending plan calls for nine additional employees, raising the district's total work force to 225, as well as salary increases of $85,131. The salary hikes will bring the district payroll to $1.8 million annually.

Seeger siad the figure includes a 5 per cent raise for all employees which may be necessary this year to bring district salaries into line with those paid by similar bay area agencies, a move which has already been endorsed by the district board.

Expenditures recommended in the operating budget are: construction and maintenance, $984,320; engineering, $344,660; water treatment and distribution, $1,039,860; administration, $292,130; property taxes, $11,000, and depreciation, $752,210.

Other expenses in the total spending plan are: bond redemption and interest, $1.7 million; replacement fund, $225,000; new service installation, $98,373; fireline installation, $58,000; improvement district A, $110,000; tank and storage fund, $110,000, and automotive and equipment fund, $145,060.

Seeger said this is the first year the district has developed a "budget" rather than a "fiscal planning program."

Uses For Church Building On Agenda

Ideas for future uses of the old Christian Church building will be explored at a meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at Petaluma City Hall.

The city recently purchased the old church across the street from city hall and will renovate it for community activities. James Raymond, recreation director, said suggestions so far include use by performing arts groups, town meetings, art shows and children's theater.

Pinto Wagon: $2265*
We put a lot into it.
You can put a lot in it.

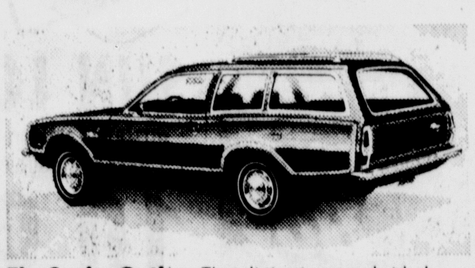
What you can put in: over 60 cubic feet. Put the rear seat down and there's 60.6 cubic feet of carrying space. For comparison: VW Squareback and Vega Kammback both give you a bit over 50 cubic feet.

The basic $2265* model. It's the ideal choice for people who want an economy car that carries more—or a wagon that costs less. The white sidewall tires (shown here) are $28.00

Some Details.
1. The lift gate swings up and out of the way.
2. The rear passenger windows flip open.
3. The spare tire doesn't take up any load room because it has its own well under the floor. And beneath it all, the rear suspension is specially designed for load carrying.

Front Disc Brakes. Standard. And there's precise rack-and-pinion steering, which is normally found only in some of the more expensive sports cars.

2000cc Overhead Cam Engine. It's rugged, economical, peppy—and standard equipment. A 4-speed floor mounted all-synchromesh transmission is also standard.



The Squire Option. That distinctive wood-sided wagon look, plus wheel covers, special trim, and more. No other economy wagon offers anything like it. Price with the Squire Option: $2479.* The luggage rack is $45.53 extra. The white sidewall tires $28.00.

COAST GUARD — Lt. Cmdr. Daniel E. Williams of San Rafael (top) has taken command of Yerba Buena Island's Coast Guard Reserve unit. Williams, of 43 Skyview Terrace, is a supervisor with Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in San Francisco. And Swain L. Wilson (bottom) of 562 Karnberry Drive, San Rafael, has been promoted to captain in the 12th Coast Guard District. He is chief of the district personnel division.

New Budget Three Times Last Year's

A $45,000 budget for 1972-73, nearly three times as large as the prior year's $15,530 spending program, has been approved by the Stinson Beach County Water District board.

According to district director John L. Jones, most of the approximately $34,000 increase will go for studies and engineering plans for a sewage disposal system for that community.

Of that, he said $13,686 will be paid to the Bolinas Community Public Utility District as Stinson's share in the cost of preengineering studies for the now defunct $8.1 million disposal system once planned jointly by both communities, but subsequently killed by the state.

A septic tank survey performed by the county of Marin to determine which areas of Stinson must be sewered for the district's lates proposed sewage disposal project — now in the works — will add $8,000 to the budget, Jones said.

And the project report on the new system, prepared by Brown and Caldwell, engineering consultants, will cost $5,000.

Other expenditures in the budget, approved by the board Saturday, include $7,344 for any additional studies and plans which may have to be made before a waste treatment system agreeable to the community has been found. (Many residents have said they are opposed to the currently-proposed $3.5 million project because it is too expensive.)

The entire spending program will have to be raised by taxes, according to Jones. He said the $45,000 budget will raise the district's present tax rate of 15.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation, but indicated the district will not know how large the increase will be until assessed valuation figures are available.

The board also agreed to meet with Regional Water Quality Control officials July 19 at 2:30 p.m. in the regional water office in Oakland to discuss restrictions and regulations on effluent and their adverse effect on planning a disposal system for Stinson.

Also at the meeting will be representatives of the state sanitation office, the Marin County Counsel's office, the county environmental health department, Brown and Caldwell engineers and concerned citizens of Stinson.

Innocent Plea To Bad Bank Collateral

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Frederick F. Babo of Novato yesterday pleaded innocent to using stolen securities to obtain a loan from a Marin County bank.

Trial has been set for Aug. 28 in U.S. District Court before Judge Robert H. Schnacke.

Babo, 63, was a 1957 candidate for the Marin County Board of Freeholders.

He was indicted May 31 by a federal grand jury with using part of $600 million in stolen securities as collateral for a bank loan. Indicted on related charges were Charles W. Beeler of San Francisco, and Joseph E. Stayner of Springfield, Ore.

Babo allegedly put up $12,500 in hot securities Aug. 23 to get a $7,500 loan from Crocker Bank in San Rafael.

The securities were stolen in 1970 from the Chase Manhattan Bank in Los Angeles where they had been sent to be destroyed. The thieves sold them to buyers in this country and overseas.

Humor Exists On The Floor

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Convention Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien asked them to keep their good humor, and they did, in the wee hours of the first session.

There even was a debate, of sorts, in Spanish.

When it came New Mexico's turn on one of the roll call votes, it was announced that "New Mexico, la tierra del encanto (land of enchantment) votes..."

A few minutes later, Puerto Rico had a reply:

"Puerto Rico," that delegation announced, "que tambien tine su encanto, votes..."

That is to say, Puerto Rico, "which also has its enchantment, votes..."

No Viet Casualty List From Pentagon

WASHINGTON (UPI) —For the third time this month, the Pentagon did not have a Vietnam casualty list Monday.

There were only five weekdays before July when the Defense Department had not put out a daily report of Vietnam war casualties since the first list was issued Sept. 2, 1965.

Marin Women

A Religious Dream Is Fulfilled

By PAT BALMES

"I am striking off all alone. I feel I have 30 years more and a new career and a new life," said 51-year-old Mrs. Elizabeth McRae, who has just received a degree in religious education from Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry.

The mother of five grown children and grandmother of two will become religious education director of White Sands Missile Base in New Mexico this fall.

Until then she is continuing to live at the women's dormitory and take courses, savoring the last days of her two years on campus, which "have gone too fast."

"My son, who came to the seminary a year before I did, kept encouraging me to come. It had always been my dream to some day study here," she said.

VERY FEW women students were her age; mostly they were college graduates in their 20s. But they treated her "like one of the girls."

The entire student body more than accepted her, she said, "but it was nice at first when I was new and strange to have my son to break the ice for me."

John McRae, her son who is a candidate for a master's of divinity degree, remains behind at the seminary to complete his program. He commuted with his mother to an El Sobrante church where they both held part-time jobs beside carrying their full load of classes. John worked with youth and in the field of music. His mother, as director of religious education, gave leadership training to volunteers and was in charge of the "Children's Worship Hour."

When Mrs. McRae was asked if she found concentrating on studies difficult, she said, "No. I have always read three, four and five hours a day studying all types of work and have taken college courses."

Reared in Texas, she planned to become a teacher. Instead she married and had her five children at an early age. As they grew up she realized that within a few years all her children would be gone.

"I was preparing them to build a life of their own and I prepared myself, too," she said. "I took an active interest in training church leaders. It was a good interest in my life, a great dedication."

THE FAMILY came to California 30 years ago.

When Mrs. McRae's youngest child was 10 she became a full time secretary at the First Baptist Church of Baldwin Park, near Los Angeles.

"When the minister said, 'I am going to train you to become a director of religious education,' I thought he was crazy. But he saw potential in me; I had taught Sunday school for years," she said.

The church members elected her director of leader education. She was in charge of all educational programs in the church for seven years. Her main job was training Sunday school teachers.

Next she was employed at the Lancaster church on the desert in Southern California and then Valley View Baptist Church in El Sobrante.

Chosen as special worker for intermediates by the state convention, Mrs. McRae trained California's best church workers, she said.

SHE WAS also a special workers for the Baptist Church's training department for 10 years. She traveled throughout California to train volunteer Sunday school teachers at small churches with no regular staff.

"I really enjoyed that," she said.

Last summer she was hired through the seminary by the church's Sunday school board at Nashville, Tenn., to work at the Southern Baptist Assembly in Glorietta, N.M., teaching delegates' children. The assembly trained 3,000 church leaders from all over the United States weekly, continuously all summer.

"Now I feel I can do a job that is very challenging. My children encourage me, never trying to hold me back," she said. Her two daughters are teachers and her sons are an engineer, a seminarian and a college student.

Her local son and daughter-in-law are Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McRae of Corte Madera. He is assistant engineer on Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

At the isolated missile base where Mrs. McRae will train Bible school teachers, she is looking forward to making many contacts and being an Army employee with accompanying privileges including a house of her own.

"Previously the women who have been religious education directors have been transferred from the base with their husbands. They needed someone with maturity and stability who is going to stay," she said.

SAYING FAREWELL to Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry is Mrs. Elizabeth McRae, 51, who has lived among students half her age there for two years. She will become religious education director at White Sands Missile Base Protestant Chapel in New Mexico this fall.

Marinites Will Be 'Watching' Film

By MOLLY MARIN

There may be several Marin County "actors and actresses" at tonight's premiere of "The Candidate" at the Metro Theater ic San Francisco.

The question is not whether the people are going but if their parts have been left in the movie starring Robert Redford that was filmed in and around Marin County in December.

"So far we know that a butcher in Mill Valley has ended up on the cutting room floor, but there will probably be a lot of groans after the show from people who are coming to see themselves," said Mrs. Edward Brock of Belvedere. Her son Philip, 12, was filmed throwing confetti in Robert Redford's face. Nancy Brock is co-chairman of the premiere, which will benefit Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., and the Telegraph Hill Neighborhood Association Auxiliary.

The traditional Dec. 31 "snow" of calendars on Montgomery Street in San Francisco was used by the film's director, Michael Ritchie of Mill Valley, as the candidate's tickertape parade. It has become a tradition in the Brock family where the children meet their father for lunch on the last day of the year. As they left Brock's office last year, the family ran "smack into Robert Redford," according to Nancy Brock, and Philip was filmed.

One mother who is attending and knows her child's part has not been cut is Mrs. Audrey Berry of San Francisco, whose 7-year-old son, Peter, plays the part of Robert Redford as a child. Mrs. Berry will be the guest of Mrs. Richard Oppenheimer of Belvedere.

Most of the theater-goers will have cocktails at the Coal Yard and dinner either there or at other Union Street restaurants, the Mother Lode and Mingei-Ya.

The Brocks will have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Field of Belvedere. Field, director of the California Poll, said he offers no prediction to the movie's outcome. The plot involves Redford, in the role of a candidate for Senator of California.

Don Porter of Southern California, who has a major role in the movie, will attend the premiere as the guest of Brian Hemming of San Francisco along with Mmes. Leon Roos of Belvedere and Leslie Roos of Nicasio.

Others who plan to attend are Messrs. and Mmes. Shane Brady of Ross, James Potts of Mill Valley, Vernon Johnson of Kentfield, Ramson Cook, Stuart Barnes, Richard L. Kehne and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Welts, all of Belvedere, and Messrs. and Mmes. Robert Crary of Tiburon and Cranford Newell of San Anselmo.

LIVING IN San Francisco are Mr. and Mrs. Mich ae David Rodriquez (Deborah Patricia Edson) who were married June 24 at St. Raphael's Catholic Church in San Rafael.

Prior to her marriage, the bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Edson of San Francisco, resided in San Rafael with her sister, Mrs Helen Winter, for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rodriquez of San Francisco are the bridegroom's parents.

CAST MEMBERS of the Marin Shakespeare Festival were entertained at a dinner Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lauro Quiros in San Rafel.

MR. AND MRS. Richard O. Kwapil received congratulations on their 40th anniversary at a gathering of family members and close friends at their home in San Rafael Saturday.

Their daughter, Mrs. Carmel K. Bannick of Costa Mesa and their son, Richard O. Kwapil Jr. of Reno, and four grandchildren were with them for the occasion. The couple was married in San Francisco in 1934. They lived in Reno from 1939 to 1969, when they moved to Marin county.

A banker, Kwapil is vice president and trust officer of the Bank of Marin.

Shakespeare Lecture

A member of the Marin Shakespeare Festival Doncent Council will give an informal lecture on "Romeo and Juliet" on July 21 for residents of The Tamalpais in Greenbrae, who will attend the July 23 performance of the play at Forest Meadows in San Rafael.

Film On Bangladesh Available For Showing

A documentary film, which explores the relief and rehabilitation problems of Bangladesh has been released by UNICEF. The 15-minute long color feature is entitled Sonar Bangla, translated Golden Bengal.

Several prints are now available for clubs and organizations throughout the country. For further details, write U.S. Committee Information Office, United Nations, in New York, specifying date and location.

Wyoming To Be Home For Couple

Robert Francis Murphy Jr. of Mill Valley claimed Margaret Elizabeth Boyer of Plymouth Meeting, Pa., as his bride at the First Unitarian Church of San Francisco on July 2.

A reception was given at the home of Mrs. Barbara Evans Murphy, in Mill Valley. She is the bridegroom's mother.

Barbara Andrea Murphy of San Francisco, the bridegroom's sister, was the maid of honor, and Martin Chew of San Francisco was the best man.

The couple left for their new home in Rock Springs, Wyo., on their wedding trip.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. Boyer of Plymouth Meeting, Pa., are the bride's parents. Margaret is a graduate of Muhlenberg College, in Allentown, Pa.

The bridegroom has one brother, David Murphy of San Francisco. He was graduated from Tamalpais High School and California State University, San Francisco. He is employed by the Rock Springs Rocket-Miner newspaper in Rock Springs.

An Attack Made On Loud Noises

Uncomfortable loud noises, such as amplified music or clattering jackhammers, can cause both temporary and permanent hearing loss.

Rep. Paul G. Rogers of Florida is the sponsor of a bill which recently passed the House of Representatives and is being considered by the Senate, which proposes stiff penalties for excessive noise from construction and transportation equipment.

"If something isn't done about the noise," Rogers said, "By the year 2000 three-quarters of the people of this nation will have significant hearing impairment."

TA MAR CHAPTER B'nai B'rith Women 1130 will have a family picnic at 10 a.m., Sunday at McNears Beach in San Rafael. Mrs. Pal Rapoport is reservations chairman.

A Party On 50 Years Of Marriage

A buffet supper on July 1 celebrated the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Asiano of Terra Linda.

The party was given at the home of their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Asiano in Mill Valley, and was co-hosted by their two other sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Asiano of Terra Linda, and Mr. and Mrs. William Asiano of Tiburon. The Asianos have 12 grandchildren, and all live in Marin County.

The former Angela Pinciaro became the bride of Joseph Asiano on June 28, 1922, in Steubenville, Ohio. Twenty family members and friends came from Steubenville to attend the anniversary celebration. Angelo Colbosso, an old family friend, who sings with the San Francisco Opera Company, entertained at the party.

Marin County has been the Asiano's family home for 23 years. Asiano owned a grocery store in Homestead Valley, and later was the proprietor of Woodlands Liquor Store in Kentfield. He is now retired. The family lived in Kentfield and in Strawberry before moving to their present home in Terra Linda.

Music has long been Asiano's hobby. He has played the tuba in the Marin Symphony Orchestra. A charter member of the Marin Symphony he is now playing with the Community Band of the College of Marin.

Mrs. Asiano is active in the Marin General Hospital Auxiliary, and assists at the Gift Shop.

MUSIC, WHICH has been the lifelong avocation of Joseph Asiano, highlighted the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Asiano's 50th anniversary last week. The couple, now living in Terra Linda, was married in Steubenville, Ohio, June 22, 1922.

Depths Should Be Marked For Safety

Depths of water should be plainly marked at the shallowest and deepest points and at depth changes in larger pools.

To prevent small children from suddenly stepping off a ledge into deep water there should be no break in the gradual slope until a depth of five feet is reached.

Nutritional Facts Backed By Institute

Voluntary listing of nutritional information on packages of meat has been endorsed by the American Meat Institute.

The Institute asked the Food and Drug Administration to include information on protein quality as well as quantity, and suggested that nutritional guidelines recognize the natural variation in the composition of meat from the carcass, such as ham and bacon, as compared to the conformity to specifications of formulated products, such as hot dogs and bologna.

Expert Calls For A New Family Order

If men had greater equality at home and women had greater equality in the outside world, both would be better off and so would their children. This is the viewpoint of Jean Baker Miller M.D., assistant professor of psychiatry at the Albert Einstein Medical School in New York City.

The new order, Dr. Miller asserts, will demand a number of djustments by men, who may now view women's aspirations as hostile and threatening. The ideal society should enable each parent to work part-time if he wishes to, perhaps five or six hours a day, and then share the family responsibilities more equally.

Consumer Changing

"Consumerism is nothing more than the fact that buyers are fed up with poor quality goods and bad services," according to Hans G. Jepson, vice president and director of research for Alliance Capital Management Corp., in New York. "Until now consumers haven't been organized effectively, but all this is changing," Jepson said.

GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

Give The Chillicothe Kid Time To Shake Down, Or Say Goodbye

DEAR RAP:

I'd like advice about my jackass boyfriend. This dude, instead of asking me to go to a show says, "Let's cop a flick." He "digs" me. (Ugh!)

He calls TV "the tube," and is hooked on it. Instead of "Yes, dear," he whoops, "right on, pussycat!" I'd laugh except I'm too embarrassed.

He's a Chillicothe country boy who came to the big city and is trying to be with it, but the words are weird, like about 10 years out of date. Should I tell this jivin' cowpoke to buzz off or try to educate him? I like him sort of, otherwise. — L.I.W.

DEAR L:

Sounds like te Chillicothe Kid hasn't got off his buckin' bronco long enough to see where he's at. Since he embarrasses you that much, you may not be the one to educate him.

He'll probably shake down in time, but if you're going to laugh at him, I think you should buzz off and let him find someone who won't — SUE

HELEN AND SUE:

Is slang on the way out? For kids, I mean.

I hear more adults using it than we do. Last year about every other teen word was "cool," "freaky," "psyched out," "groovy," "weirdo," "right on," "where it's at," etc., etc. Now I hardly ever use any of these, and I haven't heard any new words lately. What's happening? — MARION

MARION:

What's happening (I think) is that teens are putting off the old overused words and making up their own original stuff. Like, "Oh fudge and bananas!" (instead of dull old "damn" etc.) or "She's a strong-out peanut," meaning kinda freaky.

It's fun, inventing a new expression. Who wants to be a follower? — SUE

DEAR MARION:

The drug culture and the hippie movement introduced most of 1960's slang. Now, with both diminishing and no new wave in sight, young people aren't as apt to use those overdone words and phrases, or seek out new ones.

I truly hope you kids haven't given up slang. It's a vital and exciting part of our language. Get busy, start inventing — and send us some samples, please! — HELEN

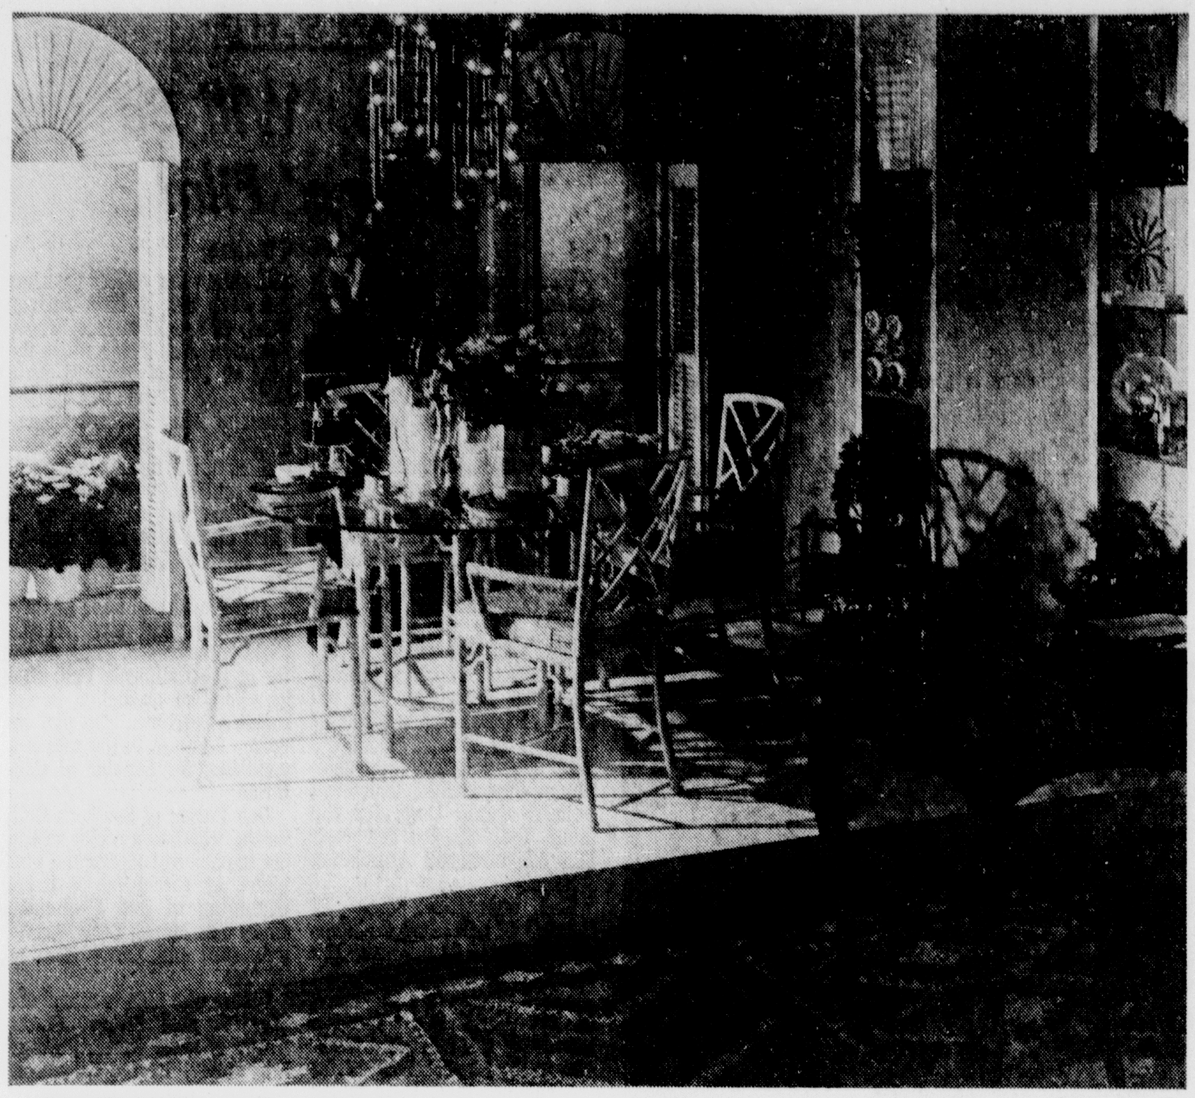
DEAR RAP:

I like to go barefoot in the house and outside. My mother refuses to let me. Says it's too dirty outdoors, and inside I'll get splinters. On rug-covered floors? What's the harm in going without shoes once in a while ? — BAREFOOTED NOT DEAR B.N.:

By us — no harm at all. We think barefoot is the only way to travel — at least around home, and sometimes elsewhere too if you can get away with it.

(DEAR B.N.'S MOTHER: Let up, and concentrate on more important "no-no's"!) — HELEN AND SUE

Got a problem? Or a subject for discussion, two-generation style? Direct your questions to either Sue or Helen Bottel — or both, in care of the Independent-Journal, if you want a combination mother-daughter answer.)



PLATFORMS CAN work little miracles for mundane interiors. This springlike setting is actually a pleasant environment all year around, thanks to the use of transparent shades that deflect heat and cold. Made by Joanna, they were used here by Emily Malino to substitute for heavy draperies and curtains.

THE ALUMNAE

"I must be in the wrong place. All I need is a bumper repair."

Protection Against Sun's Scorching Rays

For best suntanning results use a sun preparation that affords proper sunscreening for protection against the sun's ultraviolet rays. Since ultraviolet rays are visually undetectable, it is important to remember that they can reach through water and gray or overcast skies.

Reapply the sun preparation after swimming. Remember to apply it to the tops of ears and feet, the backs of knees and neck, and to protect previously unexposed parts of the body.

Cautionary Labels For Child's Sleepers

The majority of children's sleepwear manufacturers say they will use the cautionary label in size 0 to 6x nightwear until July 1973, when compliance with the flammatory standard becomes mandatory, according to Women's Wear Daily.

The small range of acceptable flame-retardant fabrics and limited technology are major obstacles to making all types and sizes of children's sleepwear that can meet the requirements of the standard.

Beach Wigs Offered In Various Colors

Kenneth, that hair stylist to the rich and famous, has designed beach wigs in red, yellow, green, blue. Made of drip-dry Kanekalon, the wigs are styled in a soft chin length pageboy with bangs for maximum coverage.

The beach wigs also can be worn in the water. When they dry, the wig falls back into it original stylish shape, the manufacturer says. The price? Around $30 — which takes the wigs out of the novelty class. "These are no joke," says Kenneth.

Average Use Of Calories Per Day

The average adult male burns up between 2,400 and 4,500 calories a day, depending upon the amount and kind of exercise he gets, according to an article in the June issue of "Today's Health." Active persons such as manual workers and athletes may consume as many as 6,000 calories a day and not gain weight.

For a 150 pound person, square dancing consumes 350 calories per hour, tennis, 420 calories, skiing, 600 calories and running at 10 miles per hour, 900 calories.

INSIDE YOUR HOME

The Time For A Little Theatrics

By CAROLYN S. MURRAY
(General Features Corp.)

Although there's a strong commitment to naturalism in personal behavior, fashion and interior design, there is still a need for an occasional bit of theatricality. In fact, I supect much of our so-called naturalness is staged, rather than "just happening."

What do I mean by theatricality? One example is the platform bed. Platforms of all kinds are really ministages on which we can display something important. A raised area of the living room or dining room can sometimes put people in a better position to see a view outside the window. In an otherwise bland room, a slightly higher floor area can help create a more intimate conversation corner.

The reverse can also work. A lowered floor area, particularly around a fireplace or around floor-to-ceiling windows overlooking a garden or view, is another bit of staging that architects frequently use.

When you are utilizing a platform area to help bring the viewer a view, you might want to consider windows without heavy drapery. Why go to all the trouble of revealing the horizon and then cover it up?

IN COLD climates there might be a need for insulation against winter air; in hot country the sun might be a problem. A good compromise would be wooden shutters finished to match the room colorings plus a special kind of transparent shade at each window.

Such a shade was used in the room illustrated today designed by Emily Malino. Miss Malino wanted to keep an English garden look, and lookout, for this dining area. After using the raised platform idea, she framed the windows with shutters and carved fanlike panels painted white. Over the glassed areas she used Joanna's transparent fiberglass mesh shades.

These shades are constructed to offer glarefree light while deflecting heat and cold, and for extra privacy they permit viewing out, but not in.

Once the window problem had been solved, Miss Malino felt free to design a room with the look and feel of an all-year-round garden. And she used good lighting effects as part of her delightful staging.

ONLY THE RIGORS OF SAILING

It was a day of relaxation at Hyannis Port, Mass., yesterday for Sen. Edward Kennedy as the Democratic Party opened its convention in Miami. Here he turns to, taking in slack on a line, aboard his newly acquired 54-foot sloop Patrician. Aboard the sloop on Nantucket Sound were members of the Kennedy family and friends. After the sail, he told newsmen he would not go to the convention until "the candidates are selected." Once again he said he would not be a candidate for vice president.

Terra Linda Budget Is Approved

The Terra Linda Community Service District board last night approved a $147,150 publication budget for 1972-73.

The budget, up from last year's $145,490 spending program, nevertheless is expected to decrease the district's old tax rate of $1.335 per $100 assessed valuation because of higher valuation in the community, according to George A. Walser, Terra Linda fire chief.

The chief said that he did not know when the final tax rate would be set, however.

In adopting the new spending program, the board approved a fire budget of $76,055, up from last year's $70,655 fire allocation, and a $71,095 recreation budget, down from last year's $74,835 account.

The board adopted the publication budget with no major cut or addition, according to the chief.

He said that the fire budget includes funds for street lighting, and that the recreation spending program includes no provision for capital outlay expenses.

New Ruling May Affect Magee Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Judges may prevent defendants in California courts from defending themselves, according to a state Supreme Court ruling.

The decision, handed down Friday, does not absolutely bar a defendant from dispensing with the services of a lawyer. But it lets a trial judge decide on counsel.

It is not readily apparent whether the decision will affect convict Ruchell Magee who is defending himself against charges resulting from the Marin County Civic Center shootout in 1970.

Last week's decision was handed down on two appeals from Los Angeles County. Both said the 6th Amendment gave defendants the right to legal counsel and gave them the right to refuse to hire or accept lawyers and defend themselves.

One appeal was from Jerome Sharp, 48, who was convicted of grand theft.

4 Marin High Schoolers Listed In 'Who's Who'

Four Marin County students have been listed in the publication, "Who's Who In High Schools," the publishers have announced.

They are Paul C. Matthew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian J. Matthew of Greenbrae; Jean Haley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Haley of Novato and Kevin P. Walsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton P. Walsh of San Rafael. All three graduated this year from Marin Catholic High School in Kentfield.

Also named was Laura Marie Finzen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans H. Finzen of Mill Valley. She is a graduate of Tamalpais Union High School.

Students must be in the top 3 per cent of the nation's graduating seniors in public and parochial schools and be active in extra-curricular activities to be eligible for "Who's Who in High School," according to the publishers.

Muni Court Waives Case For Hearing

Municipal Court proceedings against David Richard Massagli, 33, whose San Anselmo home yielded as much as $70,000 in stolen property after his arrest, have been suspended in favor of a sanity hearing in superior court.

Judge David R. Baty ordered the transfer so that psychiatrists can be appointed and a sanity trial held before the criminal case proceeds. No date for the trial was set.

Massagli, who has pleaded innocent to charges of burglary and obstructing police, was arrested June 19 by San Anselmo police while he hid in the kitchen of the Laura Ratto home at 30 Broadmoor Avenue.

Massagli briefly escaped by leaping, despite handcuffs, through the side window of a patrol car after butting an officer with his head.

Police subsequently searched his home at 23 Brookside Drive and found loot that filled a dozen trucks.

Police Chief Raymond Buchignani said none of Massagli's alleged burglaries was more than 10 blocks from his home, but the chief said he apparently was involved in about 50 thefts since 1969.

Meeting On Merger Will Be Thursday

A meeting of the Terra Linda Community Services District board and the San Rafael City Council concerning the possible merger of the two areas has been rescheduled for 8:30 p.m. Thursday, William J. Bielser, San Rafael assistant city manager, announced today.

The meeting, originally scheduled for tonight, was postponed because some district directors had conflicting schedules, he said.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREB

Try this quiz today on the July 11 birthday of Yul Brynner (1920-), stage and screen star:

T F 1. One of the most popular bald-headed men in the world, Yul likes to let people believe he had a mysterious Oriental upbringing as the son of a Russian emigre who married a wandering gypsy.

T F 2. While studying at the Sorbonne in Paris in the 1930s, Brynner worked part-time at night as a high wire artist and was nearly killed when he fell from the trapeze, suffering 47 multiple fractures.

T F 3. During World War II, Yul was smuggled into enemy-held Thailand by counter-intelligence agents and he sat on the throne disguised as the king for four years.

T F 4. Now 52, Brynner has starred in more than a dozen Hollywood pictures and won an Academy Award for best actor as a fearless gunman in "The Magnificent Seven."

ANSWERS

1. TRUE — Brynner actually was born in Sakhalin, Japan, the son of a Swiss businessman.
2. TRUE — He recovered from his circus accident and became a clown.
3. FALSE — He played the part for four years on Broadway, never in Thailand.
4. FALSE — Brynner won an Oscar in 1957 for "The King and I."

Toni Soldavini
Kim Parsons

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes Even The Book Players Must Use Their Brains

Fortunately for the game of bridge, the books can't teach you everything. Mind you, the books are very helpful (especially mine!), but you still have to use your own brains from time to time.

Opening lead — ♠ 3

SO THEY SAY

What do the books say about the opening lead from West's hand? "Lead your partner's suit," they all say. "Unless you hold touching honors," they continue, "the correct card to lead from four or more cards is the fourth-highest card."

West had read all the books so he led his fourth-highest spade. This allowed South to make his contract.

East could win the first trick with the ace of spades. If East failed to take the ace of diamonds at once he wouldn't get it at all, for South would discard his losing diamonds on dummy's hearts.

EXTRA RULE

Take a good look at that West hand. If you lead a low spade it is clear that you can then mark time until the next hand is dealt. Your usefulness has ended with that one play.

Try leading the king of spades, however. This gives the first trick to you instead of to your partner. Now you are in position to switch to anything that looks inviting. Naturally you would shift to the ten of diamonds, and South would be down two!

EXTRA RULE

Here is a little extra rule to paste in the back of your favorite bridge book: When your hand is worthless except for a high card in partner's suit, lead that high card instead of the usual low card. This may permit you to hold the first trick and to make a second lead after you have seen the dummy.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ - 8 6
♥ - A Q 10 9 4
♦ - K 9 8
♣ - Q 10 8 3.
What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart.

Always look for an excuse to open the bidding with a strong major suit of five or more cards. In this case you have 11 points in high cards, two quick tricks and fine distribution — quite enough for an opening bid.

Corte Madera Man Appointed To Highway Post

Frank E. (Ted) Hawley of Corte Madera has been appointed regional Administrator for the Federal Highway Administration's Region 9, J. C. Sharp, the region's executive officer, has announced.

Hawley, currently a deputy regional administrator, will be charged with organizing the planning, designing and construction of $550 million annually in highway projects in California, Arizona, Nevada, Hawaii, Guam and American Samoa, Sharp said.

Hawley, 48, lives at 12 Fairview Avenue with his wife, Jeanne.

Historic Gavel

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—The enormous wooden gavel being wielded at the Democratic National Convention comes from an oak tree at Monticello, the Virginia country estate of Thomas Jefferson, father of the Democratic party. It was made especially for this convention, officials said.

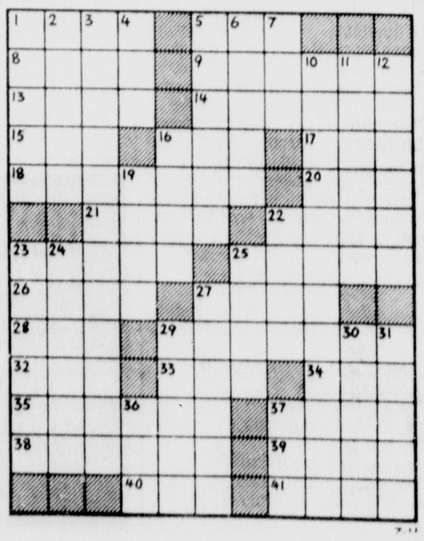
Yesterday's Answer



Ranch Boundary Changes Backed

By ERIK M. INGRAM

The Marin County Planning Commission recommended yesterday that county supervisors alter the boundaries of the agricultural preserve to exclude certain properties north of Novato.

The commission's unanimous vote after more than two hours' discussion was to remove two major property holdings and about seven smaller ones from the preserve and its low-density zoning.

While some property owners won in their bid for removal, a larger number didn't and their land was subsequently recommended for the controversial A-60 zoning permitting only one dwelling per 60 acres.

Largest section excluded yesterday was the Peter Maggetti property in the southern section of Bowman Canyon. The property, totaling about 750 acres, has been prezoned by the City of Novato for residential development.

The other major section excluded was a portion of the Alyce Pashberg property surrounding the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. since it lies within the Novato expansion area.

Other small areas excluded lie generally near Highway 101 and south of McGraw-Hill. They are all less than 20 acres.

Consideration of the properties came at the request of the property owners during earlier hearings on rezoning massive areas of the preserve. Most protested the low-density rezoning as a confiscation of their development rights.

The rezoning, which began early this year, was recommended by the county planning staff to fulfill state law governing agricultural preserves.

(The law — the Williamson Act — states that lands within a preserve area must be zoned "compatible" with the agricultural industry to halt urban sprawl.

(The planning department and commission have interpreted that to mean a low density such as A-60 is required to protect the local dairying and livestock raising operations.)

Among major properties recommended for the A-60 zoning yesterday were the Charmaine A. Veronda property west of Highway 101 near the Sonoma County line and the A. Crawford Cooley land in the northern portion of Bowman Canyon.

Attorney Franklin Dill, representing the Veronda interests, charged the commission with reducing the value of the land through the rezoning.

(The property is currently being considered by the operators of the Renaissance Pleasure Faire as a permanent site for the annual fair.)

Dill said the result of the A-60 zoning — in general — means a property owner must use his land for agriculture since it will be impossible to sell for development.

Further, he said, studies have shown it to be economically unfeasible to ranch the land and as a result the property owner is stuck with land he can neither sell nor use economically.

Similar arguments were forwarded by other property owners but the commission countered that it was willing to reconsider the low-density zoning once specific development plans were offered for the land.

It also noted, in Mrs. Veronda's case, that the A-60 designation would not bar use of the property by the pleaseure fair.

Dill said however he questioned whether the deal would go through since the operators of the fair are looking to the future worth of the land also.

While the bulk of the Veronda property was rezoned, a smaller section remained in a preexisting mobile home designation.

Commissioner George P. Leonard was the lone dissenting vote in the rezoning claiming it was aimed at preserving open space and not agriculture.

Open Space Bond Date Set: Oct. 3

After a brief discussion, the Tiburon City Council last night decided the recently-authorized $1.25 million open space bond referendum would stand its best chance before the voters Oct. 3.

By unanimous vote, that date was chosen for the election rather than Sept. 19, the date of a similar open space bond referendum slated in San Rafael.

Mayor Albert H. Sennett suggested the later date, saying, "Oct. 3 will give us the proper opportunity to spread the word."

The council also received the final fourteen-page report from its financial consultant Vernon Perry, of Dean Witter and Co.

As in his previous oral reports, Perry recommended that the city purchase all or part of seven top priority parcels for $1.25 million in cash. The choice parcels would form the geographic and financial core of the city's open space program, Perry suggested.

The bond issue would cost the city approximately $90,000 a year, for 30 years, and would raise the tax rate about 29 cents per $100 assessed valuation, he estimated.

He also recommended that the city form a redevelopment agency under the California Community Redevelopment Act to finance acquisition of open space parcels of secondary importance.

Such a redevelopment agency raises money by collecting the gain in property taxes that are attributable to the increased value of the designated redevelopment property after it has been developed.

The council did not discuss Perry's suggestion to establish a redevelopment agency.

Tiburon Backs Countywide Park Plan; Against A Segment There

The Tiburon City Council last night reaffirmed its support of a countywide regional park district under the board of supervisors, but voiced its opposition to any large-scale county park facility within the City of Tiburon.

In a companion resolution, the council urged the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission to include the reluctant City of San Rafael in the proposed park district.

Both recommendations will be forwarded to the formation commission, which will consider the proposal to establish a countywide park district at its meeting tomorrow.

The city council had endorsed the concept of a regional park district in May, but took no formal position on the proposed district's physical make-up or governing body.

Last night, by a unanimous vote, the council endorsed the board of supervisors as the district's governing body.

Councilman Allan N. Littman then raised the spectre of a large-scale, heavily-used county park in Tiburon. He warned his colleagues that a county park district probably would not acquire costly open space for viewing only. Instead, a park district might build a park in Tiburon, he said.

Citing the burden on city streets and municipal services that might result from the establishment of a county park in Tiburon, Littman said, "We don't want a Tilden Park in Tiburon at any time."

The council's opposition to a county park in Tiburon was incorporated in its second endorsement of the regional park district.

For health reasons, Councilman Branwell D. Fanning left early and did not vote on either resolution.

The Tiburon City Council also:

AVENIDA MIRAFLORES — Passed first reading of an ordinance which would rezone 16.5 acres of land in the open space moratorium area from single-family residential to single-family clustered zoning. The application for rezoning, made by R. B. Ham passed the first reading by a 4-to-1 vote, with Fanning dissenting.

GILMARTIN DRIVE — Passed the first reading of an ordinance to rezone 5.5 acres off Gilmartin Drive from single-family to single-family clustered zoning, but asked the planning commission to reconsider the application and report back on Aug. 14.

UNEVEN SIDEWALK — Required property owner John Musso to tear up the asphalt he had laid to repair cracks in the sidewalk in front of the Bank of America Building at 14 Main Street. According to City Engineer Stanley M. Baia, the repair work was unacceptable and would have to be redone with concrete for about $700.

SALARY SCHEDULE — Adopted a salary program for city employees within the personnel system for 1972-1973 despite the fact that it hasn't arrived at specific salary schedule figures to be included in the program.

LYFORD DRIVE — Authorized Bala to Bapwm seek bids on a contract to pave a pedestrian safety sidewalk in the roadway on the downhill side of Lyford Drive.

APPOINTMENTS — Went into closed session to discuss three appointments to the planning commission and two appointments to the parks and recreation commission.

MEETING — Adjourned to a special meeting July 17, at which time the council can take care of any legal details raised by the city bond counsel with the open space bond election. If no changes or technical alterations are made in the authorizing ordinances, the meeting will be adjourned to a regular one July 24.

Graffman Next Music Chest Guest

Pianist Gary Graffman will present the second concert in the Marin Music Chest's summer series on July 23 at 3 p.m. at the Marin Veterans Memorial Building at the Civic Center.

The only pianist to have recorded with six of America's leading orchestras — New York, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and San Francisco — he is one of the most popular of today's young pianists. His annual tours are worldwide, and his current season calls for 100 appearances.

His first major achievement came in 1949 when he won the coveted Leventrit award.

Born in New York City of Russian parents, Graffman began to study piano at the age of three. Four years later he was accepted at Philadelphia's Curtis institute of Music, and at 18 made his professional debut with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Dance Group Lauded In Yugoslavia

The Sonoma State College dance workshop completed its performances in Yugoslavia to great applause, flowers and ovations.

The youthful dancers gave the second of two performances yesterday at the ballet biennial at Ljubljana, Yugoslavia. Dr. William O. Cord, tour director, cabled the college yesterday that the dancers had been wonderfully received and had drawn a bigger audience than the prestigious Bucharest Ballet, which was playing the same night.

In the cable, Cord said, "One critic says Bucharest Ballet has arthritis compared to us."

Cord said workshop members gave a dinner for the citizens in Ljubljana in return for the many dinners they've given the dancers. He said the many ovations and warm reception bouyed the spirits of the tired dancers.

Cord said Robin Jackson of Mill Valley, a faculty member in the troupe, had lost his passport, but expected to have new papers in time for the return trip.

Cord said the festival directors already had invited the dancers to return for the next festival. The workshop was the first nonprofessional group to be invited.

Some of the dancers are expected to return next week, although many will remain behind to see other festival dance groups and to tour Europe.

Thieves Enter Corte Madera Recreation Hall

Thieves broke into the Corte Madera Recreation Center Saturday and stole $1,600 worth of speakers and a tape recorder.

Although the burglars entered the building by kicking out a screen and prying open a kitchen window, the alarm which was switched on, did not sound, Corte Madera police reported yesterday.

The tape recorder and speakers were stolen from behind the stage, said police. The door of the Lions Club room upstairs was kicked open, although club officials had not reported if anything was taken by this morning.

The recreation center, on Tamalpais and Willow avenues, was locked at 1:30 a.m. Saturday morning, police said. Investigations are continuing.

Victory For Adding To Apartment Units

Revised development plans for the second phase of the Villa Marin apartment development in Tennessee Valley won conditional approval yesterday from the Marin County Planning Commission.

The revised plan, approved on a 5-1 vote with Commissioner John F. West dissenting, envisions remodeling 41 existing units and constructing an additional 55.

It was the third time expansion of the apartment complex has come before the commission, which approved an additional 95 units in January only to have the county board of supervisors overturn the action.

The board, backed by about 20 nearby residents, said 95 more units was too dense and ordered the number reduced to 45.

In approving 55 more units yesterday, the commission noted that 30 of them would be gained through adding third stories to about six existing buildings and converting carport space to apartments.

The other 25 units will be housed in three new buildings on the site located at the toe of a forested slope on Tennessee Valley Road near Shoreline Highway.

Most vocal complaint yesterday to the development was sounded by George W. Kemp Jr. whose home lies below the hilly Villa Marin Site. He protested unsuccessfully to the commission that two of the three new buildings would tower over his home about five feet from his property line.

The commission told the developer, Villa Marin Land Development Corp., to retain a screen of trees between its new buildings and Kemp's home.

The commission also said the undeveloped, forested portion of the site — about six acres — may not be developed and directed the developer to enter into an open space agreement with the county.

Plans for the development must again be considered by the board of supervisors which is expected to review the proposal next month.

The commission also overturned approval by the county's environmental protection committee for construction of a private seaplane ramp off the Tiburon Peninsula.

The ramp, requested by William F. O'Keeffe of 4960 Ranch Road, was protested by neighbors claiming a seaplane would be detrimental to waterfowl in the area.

The commission's action, taken despite assurances from O'Keeffe that there was nothing to prevent him from taxiing the plane to the front of his home anyway, came on a 3-2 vote with commissioners George P. Leonard and Kenneth Stevens dissenting.

In voting to overturn the environmental committee's action, Commissioners Margaret B. Azevedo, John F. West and Rebecca Watkins said they agreed with neighbors' protest of environmental damage.

O'Keeffe indicated he would appeal the action to the board of supervisors while several neighbors said they would appeal his seaplane storage platform which would be useless for the plane without the ramp.

$1 Million Asked For Bat Bite

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Stanford University coed bitten by a rabid bat asked in a suit filed Monday for $1 million in damages from Princeton University.

Carolyn Gatewood, 19, said in a U.S. District Court suit that she was bitten July 9, 1971, while on a field trip to Panama financed by the Smithsonian Institution and operated by Princeton University.

Gerald J. Tiernan, Miss Gatewood's attorney, said she has had to be treated for rabies since then, and it will be another six months before she knows if she is free of the disease.

The suit alleges Miss Gatewood was not among students who had been given anti-rabies vaccination.

She claimed she was bitten when other students went on a field trip, leaving her in charge of the bats.

Bolinas-Stinson Budget: $268,754

A $268,754 publication budget for 1972-73 was approved last night by trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson School District.

Supt. Lester M. Horning said the spending plan is approximately $20,000 less than last year's $288,510 figure and will leave unchanged the district's total tax rate of $2.13 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The budget includes these expenditures: administration, $16,150; instruction, $150,182; plant operation, $19,000; plant maintenance, $10,348; fixed charges, $24,000 and capital outlay, $12,426.

Horning said the capital expenses include payment on the three-quarter acre Bourned property adjacent to Bolinas school which the district is purchasing and minor improvements to site and buildings.

In other business, the board reelected Charles E. Hancock as president and selected John Barrow clerk and John Harris as trustee representative.

Trustees also voted to apply for Title One funds for the coming year.

Recife, in northeastern Brazil, is often called the "Venice of Brazil" because of its many bridges and canals.

Marinite Named To State Panel

H. David Sokoloff of Los Ranchitos was appointed yesterday to a seat on the State Developmental Disabilities Planning and Advisory Council.

The Legislature created the 17-member council last year to advise the State Health Planning Council on programs for the mentally retarded.

London-born Sokoloff, 52, is a San Francisco architect. He was appointed in 1965 to the State Advisory Hospital Council by former Gov. Edmund G. Brown. He is a past president of the California Association for the Retarded and a director of the National Association for Retarded Children.

Sokoloff lives at 101 Oakridge Road.

$100 Million Sewerage Plan Mapped For Petaluma Council

The Petaluma City Council last night heard a subregional sewerage plan described as a means of meeting state waste standards and long-range sewage disposal needs.

John Jenks of Jenks and Adamson of Palo Alto, one of the engineering firms conducting the study, explained the three-phase program estimated to cost $100 million.

Agencies participating in the study are Petaluma, Sonoma Valley, Sonoma County, Novato, Hamilton Air Force Base, Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District and San Rafael Sanitation District — which involves generally the Peacock Gap area.

Jenks said the first phase would include pipelines from Sonoma, Petaluma and North Marin to carry waste to a common outfall line to the central bay from Point San Pedro. The completion date is 1977 and Jenks said he expected 75 per cent federal financing.

In response to a question from the council, Jenks said it would not benefit Petaluma to provide a tertiary treatment system to improve the quality of waste since state law prohibits all discharge into the Petaluma River regardless of how clean.

He said the second phase would be a basic reclamation program with a large lake to be created either east of Lakeville or in Chileno Valley, with the water available for irrigation. The third phase would provide for reuse of waste water through a higher degree of treatment.

City clerk Lillian Nommsen said the council posed few questions on the engineering plan, but said it would submit written comments in two weeks.

In other business, the council voted to give $1,500 to the Police Assistance League girls drill team to help finance a trip to Milwaukee, Wis., later this month to compete in the national finals. Private fund-raising events and a $500 contribution by the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors have provided enough funds for the bus trip for the state champions.

The council also delayed adoption of the new subdivision ordinance pending minor changes in wording and the fee structure.

Marin Center Faces Battle For Survival

By MARLENE FREEDMAN

The Marin Suicide Prevention Center, which has been fighting suicide attempts, suicide threats, crises and depression, now faces a battle for its own survival.

On the occasion of its first anniversary, executive director Richard Reubin reflects, "We are in danger of closing our doors." The problem is money.

Yet statistics indicate a need. Marin County has the second highest suicide rate in the state among counties over 200,000 population, second only to San Francisco.

The average suicide rate in the U.S. is 11 per 100,000. The state of California has a suicide rate of 16 per 100,000. But Marin last year had a suicide rate of 36 per 100,000, a total of 73 suicides last year and 47 the previous year.

These numbers began to haunt Keith C. Craig, deputy county coroner, and by 1970, he determined to do something about it. He organized an ad hoc citizens committee which vigorously campaigned for a Marin Suicide Prevention Center.

"The people of Marin are not aware of the suicide problem," he asserts. "In the last five years, suicide in Marin has exceeded traffic fatalities... as much emphasis should be given to suicide as to auto safety... people can visualize the horribleness of an auto accident and yet with suicide..."

Craig conducts psychological autopsies on all possible suicide victims, interviewing people who knew them, learning about their life style and habits and trying to get an overall picture before classifying the death. "If we suspect it is a suicide but can't confirm it, we classify it as 'undetermined.'"

Reuben, with Craig agreeing, says, "We are really more than a suicide prevention center. We're really a crisis intervention center. Even if a caller is not suicidal, we try to help him before things get so bad that he starts thinking about suicide. Suicide is a cry for help. Even if it's not a serious threat, it's still a cry for help."

Helping him answer that cry are 65 volunteers who donate several rigidly-scheduled hours each week to man the center's "Hot Line," on a 24-hour basis.

In a small but comfortably-furnished upstairs room at a San Anselmo church, the volunteers sit always witnin reaching distance of the two phones. They read, chat, do needlework, but they remain alert to the ring of a person in distress.

And when the phone does ring, their smiles disappear. It is all seriousness.

Some calls last for hours and some are chronic calls. Frequently there are "wrong numbers," many of which are suspected to be persons who need help but whose courage fails when a volunteer announces "Suicide Prevention Center." Some call again, others don't.

They listen, advise and reassure people who are contemplating suicide, those who are in the midst of an attempt, those who have friends or family who may be suicidal, and those who just have problems and need someone to talk to. All calls are confidential — an unyielding policy of the Center.

The volunteer staff includes clergymen, nurses, writers, students, housewives, office workers of all ages, all backgrounds. "Their one overriding factor is their concern for other people", says Reubin who so far has trained more than 200 potential phone-answerers.

Not everyone passes the intensive screening or the even more intensive 11-week course at the College of Marin. But when they do, they usually stay on, out of dedication and a sense of satisfaction.

"It's a very personal experience", says one volunteer who once attempted suicide himself.

Another looks at the often melodramatic, life-and-death phone calls with simplicity: "All the people who call, they have the same problems as the people lining the street... but it's just that they can't cope with them."

Elaine Stevenson of Greenbrae, a housewife and mother of two grown children, has been a volunteer since the center opened July 1, 1971.

She remembers going two months without a call. Now, she says, she often has both "Hot Line" trunk lines ringing at once. About 300 calls are received each month.

Some people ridicule her "Hot Line" duty. "I tell them, 'Look, I'm not going out to save the world. I'm just trying to give a helping hond to someone, just throwing out a straw for someone to cling to.'"

One man called her asking if she thought his wife was serious about her suicide threat. She had him repeat the circumstances in full and then assured him that there was a very real chance her threat was serious.

Three hours later, the man called back to say he had found his wife unconscious from an overdose of drugs and had taken her to a hospital where she was in intensive care.

A young girl said that she was about to commit suicide so that she would get herself out of her mother's life. Unhesitatingly and once again relying on instinct, this time as a mother, Mrs. Stevenson countered with the argument that if she did that, she would be taking away a part of her mother's life forever and her mother would never stop wondering where she had failed. The girl pondered that a while and then reconsidered.

Unfortunately, not all phone contacts succeed. In the year that the Center has operated, there have been two instances in which calls were received which later resulted in suicides.

Last December, the parents of a young man called the Center. They were worried about their son who was home on leave from a mental hospital. He had become distraught after just learning that he was going to be sent back to the hospital instead of to a halfway house, as anticipated.

The volunteer tried to calm the parents and offered several referrals, but the following week the boy's body was found floating off a San Francisco beach.

And just last month, a young woman called the Center and grieved for an hour about her father's recent death. She said she had attempted suicide when her mother died and was considering suicide but wanted to see her children grow up. She would not identify herself, but promised to call back.

The next day, she was found drowned in her swimming pool with an empty bottle of sleeping pills nearby.

Mrs. Stevenson resignedly accepts it. "You just have to do what you think is the right thing. Some people are going to commit suicide, no matter what you do."

Earnestly, she comments, "If you had polio and your body was all ugly and out of shape, your family and your friends would do anything to help you. But if you're sick mentally, you are shoved in a corner... and if there's a suicide in the family, you don't talk about it."

Proud of the center and the dedicated core of volunteers it has attracted, the bearded, softspoken Reubin nevertheless seems almost embarrassed to have to plead for money. Said Reuben, "The Marin County Board of Supervisors gave us $6,000 to get started. Since then, our other source has been the United Bay Area Crusade.

"They give us an allotment of $595 per month. Our expenses are $2,000 per month. Therefore, we have a $1,400 monthly deficit", he explains matter-of-factly. "We have applied for a number of grants, but they take time to process and what we need are private contributions in the interim. Otherwise, we can't go on."

Reubin explains their expenses are for salaries for him and his secretary — the only paid workers in the Center — for telephone bills, rent, office supplies, printing of brochures and educational literature.

He said Marin residents may send contributions, which are tax-deductible, to the Center at P.O. Box 792, San Anselmo 94960.

Fairfax Ambivalent But Supports Open Space

The Fairfax City Council was ambivalent last night in its attitude to the county's program for preserving open space after listening to a description by Pierre W. Joske, county parks and recreation director.

On one hand, councilmen favored preserving open space throughout the county. On the other hand, they worred about San Rafael's decision to "go it alone" and about Fairfax's place on the county's published list of priorities.

"I want to reserve a final decision on whether this is best done through a county program or through development of regional parks," said mayor Albert E. Gately. "There will have to be a lot more exposure and debate."

The council decided to send a letter to the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission supporting the open space program but noting "this is a countywide program and will not succeed without countywide effort and financing."

Other cities have urged the commission to include San Rafael in any countywide district whether that city is willing or not.

Councilman E. Ross Parkerson said, "San Rafael's proposal might have a great deal to do with whether the final outcome is to the benefit of Marin people or not."

And councilman Robert R. Souza said he could understand San Rafael's reluctance, considering it had 20 per cent of the county's assessed valuation.

"In effect they would be bearing the greater share of the cost," said Souza, "and it would appear to me that while Fairfax people are not concerned about the parks, the council ought to give some consideration to preservation for the city of Fairfax."

He said Larkspur, Corte Madera and Mill Valley were concerned with their ridges and there was a prospect of double taxation for those cities.

Joske, noting that he argued against San Rafael's decision to go it alone, said, "We ought to think of ourselves as Marin people. That is the point of Mill Valley, Corte Madera and Larkspur getting together, they share the open space."

Councilman Frank J. Egger said the tax rate of 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation, projected under the county plan, would produce only $19,000 a year in Fairfax. "Over 10 years we would have $190,000, that isn't going to buy a lot of open space. I don't think Fairfax could make it alone, we're too small. But I am concerned about the priorities."

Egger said number five in the county's list of first priorities for open space acquisition said "Rim of Corte Madera Drainage Basin." He presumed this included the headwaters of the Corte Madera creek in the Fairfax Cascades and should include the headlands of the San Anselmo creek.

Joske neither confirmed nor denied this supposition, but in answer to a question from Glen Meagher in the audience, he said that 30 per cent of the projects in the priority list were "within the realm of San Rafael" and included the Corte Madera drainage basin and the Sleepy Hollow divide.

Councilmen voted unanimously to send the letter stating their views to the local agency formation commission.

Later in the meeting, the council unanimously adopted the city planning commission's resolution on preservation of Fairfax's ridgetops as open space. Councilman Egger noted the policy recommends that the city control development of the ridgelands by other means than simple purchase, for instance, zoning restrictions.

"If Fairfax isn't too high on the county's priority list we are going to have to control the ridgetops via this resolution," he said.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

SCENIC ROAD — Agreed to a request from the Manor Hill Homeowners' Association to extend the one-way section of Scenic Road through numbers 240 to 281; spokesmen said the section was the narrowest and most tracherous part of Scenic.

ABANDONED — Took no action after a public hearing for Paul Vanacker, of 129 Ridge Road, who said he had been unaware that a dismantled car in his carport constituted a public nuisance; the police notice to abate had been sent on a request from Alice Sagar, 116 Ridge Road, who complained of parking difficulties on Ridge created by Vanacker's three cars.

HOUSING COMMITTEE — Referred to the city's Housing Element Committee a request from the City-County Planning Council for an appointment to the council housing committee.

FIREWORKS — Decided to place antifireworks publicity on the agenda for next May's meeting after complaints from the audience of the fire danger created by indiscriminate use of fireworks in Fairfax for three weeks before July 4.

OLEMA DRIVE — Authorized City Administrator Robert E. Crowe to participate in the street overlay project on Olema Drive jointly with the Marin Municipal Water District project.

PARKING — Moved that the city traffic engineer be instructed that the area from Maiden Lane to Sherman Court should be posted no-parking.

GENERAL PLAN — Appointed 17 residents to the citizens' committee for general plan study.

7-11 MARKET — Discussed hours of operation and sidewalk and driveway areas of the 7-11 Market at Bolinas and Park roads and instructed the city administrator to obtain information on the structure to be presented to the council's adjourned meeting tomorrow.

GRADING — Concurred with Councilman Egger's suggestion that the planning commission draft an environmental control ordinance after hearing his comments on grading on Geary Avenue.

HEARING — Referred to the board of review for comment Mayor Gately's suggestion that a hearing officer be appointed to make recommendations on dismissal matters.

DEDICATION — Decided dedication ceremonies for the new city hall facilities should be incorporated in Fairfax's Septemberfest; councilman Parkerson delegated to report on plans at the next meeting.

BUDGET — Adjourned to tomorrow at 8 p.m. for a budget session.

New Bids Sought On Beach Concession

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday agreed to seek new bids for the operation of a food concession stand at Doran Beach.

The board had been criticized when it granted the concession earlier to Robert S. Lipman of Petaluma, who was a member of the county planning commission at the time. Critics complained that others had not been given ample opportunity to bid and suggested that Lipman was favored because of his county position. He has since resigned from the commission and is expected to bid again.

The board said it would open new bids on Aug. 14. Specifications on the bid are available at the county parks and recreation department.

Reservations System For Mill Valley Tennis Courts

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission last night adopted a new reservation system for weekends on the city's crowded three tennis courts, according to Don I. Dimitratos, parks and recreation director.

Under the new rules, residents may make reservations for themselves and for one nonresident each if they wish by calling the parks and recreation office Mondays through Fridays.

Formerly, only residents could use the courts on weekends, Dimitratos said.

There will be a charge of $2 a court for singles and $1 for doubles, he said. The reservation system is to continue through Aug. 31, the commission decided.

In other business last night, the commission discussed a proposal by Lee Eggleston that a community organic vegetable garden be established on city property behind the corporation yard at the end of Sycamore Avenue.

Dimitratos said that Eggleston has suggested the garden for Mill Valley residents whose land is too hilly to raise vegetables or flowers and for those who live in apartments.

Under the plan, individuals would have little plots in the garden and would harvest their own produce, he said. Any excess would be placed in baskets for others to take.

Dimitratos said that it has been estimated it would cost $1,000 to fence the area and bring water to it.

He asked Mill Valley residents interested in such a garden to contact the parks and recreation department.

The commission also learned that bids have been advertised for covering a jrainage ditch in the neighborhood park to be built in Enchanted Knolls. City employees will do the rest of the work on the $17,000 project, to include a ball park and playground equipment, he said.

Dimitratos said that Commissioner Richard J. Young has moved to England and that persons interested in filling his seat on the commission may apply at the city manager's office.

Public Participation Urged In San Anselmo Housing Element

The San Anselmo Planning Commission, meeting in joint session with the citizens housing committee, last night called for more community participation in the formation of a housing element for the city's general plan.

"Both groups were concerned about having a representative cross-section of the city prepare a housing element for the general plan," according to Charles R. Leitzeil, planning director.

A housing element committee chairman will be elected at a meeting set for July 24 at 8 p.m. in the council chambers and "all interested citizens are urged to attend," Leitzell said.

Citizens interested in helping prepare a housing element — required by the state for inclusion in the city's general plan this year — should contact city hall before the meeting, he said.

Leitzell said that some citizens were concerned about forming open space, land use and trasportation elements, and that an overall umbrella committee might be formed "to oversee all these matters."

$49,500. ONCE IN A HOUSE TIME you will come across such a secluded home with so much charm. This SLEEPY HOLLOW special was just listed. Great setting with absolute privacy among beautiful plantings. A hideaway on the level. Beautiful beam ceiling living room, dining room, 3 bedrooms, gorgeous secluded patios and easy care garden. There's space to expand for horses and swimming pool. An out of this world location. Exclusive. Eves. 454-3434.

$49,500. HAVE YOUR CAKE AND EAT IT, TOO. Enjoy this older home near San Rafael High School and take current income from the rented cottage and 6 garages. The large property goes from street to street — 1100 sq. ft., mostly level. R-3 zoning will take 11 units for future value. Exclusive.

$51,750. TREASURE THE PLEASURE you will receive living in this 5 year old home. ⅓ acre of beautiful San Anselmo property. Tile entry, elec. kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and a separate summer room for family fun. Do your own landscaping, but the orchard is there. Doughboy swimming pool included. Country living at its best. Exclusive. Eves. 457-2251.

2 Big Questions . . . For New Car Buyers

1. Do you want the best possible deal on your new car? . . . 2. Do you want convenient, reliable, local service?

Why choke yourself with added costs when you buy across the bay? In MARIN, you're in the driver's seat. Marin dealers' lower overhead shows right in the price. Lower sales tax too! And for servicing your car there's nothing like local convenience! Your best deal is right here with Marin dealers . . .

Yes, of course.....You Do!!

ORDINANCE NO. 1070
ORDINANCE CALLING AND ORDERING SPECIAL BOND ELECTION AND PROVIDING FOR THE GIVING OF NOTICE THEREOF

The Council of the City of San Rafael do ordain as follows:

WHEREAS, in the judgment of the City Council of the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, it is advisable to call and hold a special bond election in said City and to submit thereat to the electors of said City as one proposal the question whether or not bonds of the City shall be issued to make the outlays as hereinafter designated; and

WHEREAS, the City Council of said City has heretofore, on the 19th day of June, 1972, adopted its resolution determining that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition of a municipal improvement, to wit, the acquisition of the fee title or any lesser interest or right in real property constituting "open space" or "open area" as such terms are defined in Section 6954 of the Government Code of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of San Rafael deems it necessary to incur a bonded indebtedness for the purposes hereafter set forth.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDERED by the City Council of the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, as follows:

1. The recitals hereinabove set forth are true and correct, and the City Council so finds and determines.

2. A special bond election shall be and the same is hereby called to be held, and the same will be held, in the City of San Rafael, on Tuesday, September 19, 1972, at which election there shall be submitted to the qualified electors residing within said City as one proposal the question whether or not bonds of the City shall be issued to make the outlays set forth in the following measure, to wit:

MEASURE: (Acquisition of Open Space) Shall the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $2,250,000.00 for the purpose of raising money for the acquisition of "open space" or "open area" for the use and enjoyment of the people of San Rafael?

3. The election shall be called and notice thereof shall be given by publication of this ordinance once a day for seven (7) days in the San Rafael Independent-Journal, a newspaper published at least six (6) days a week in the City of San Rafael; and the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to cause such notice to be given. Publication of this ordinance shall constitute the notice of said special bond election and no other notice need be given, in accordance with Section 43611 of the Government Code of the State of California.

4. The election shall be held and conducted in accordance with this ordinance and with applicable laws of the State of California.

5. The form of the measure to appear upon the ballot shall be as follows:

San Rafael Parks, Pools Thrive

By NELS JOHNSON

A University of California environmentalist has predicted the end of urban and suburban recreational systems by the year 2000.

"The traditional American neighborhood park may be headed toward extinction" through nonuse, says Dr. Seymour M. Gold, professor of environmental planning at U.C.'s Davis campus.

It's simply not true in San Rafael, where hundreds of families flock daily to the city's eight neighborhood parks.

In Boyd Park the other day shrieks of childhood delight filled the air as harried mothers relaxed on park benches.

The park, one of San Rafael's oldest, is a 42-acre well landscaped but largely undeveloped facility. Next to the old Boyd mansion at B Street and Mission Avenue, the park features an historical museum, tennis court, small pond, picnic area and a variety of playground equipment.

Though the park is primarily tot oriented, a few senior citizens enjoyed a parkside picnic in the shade of a large oak as they watched a dozen small fry frolic on the playground paradise.

Gerstle Park, a six-acre facility across town at San Rafael Avenue and Clark Street, was designed for larger family groups and elementary school-aged youngsters.

That park, nestled in the heart of the south San Rafael residential community, sports barbecue pits, picnic tables, a tennis and basketball court as well as expansive lawns and playground apparatus.

Clusters of towering redwood trees dot the facility.

A boy and his dog romped on a grassy hill nearby.

Meanwhile, 16-year-old David Hall supervised a spirited game of "red light — green light" at Sun Valley Park in west San Rafael.

David, a San Rafael High School senior, gets $1.65 an hour for keeping the peace at the two-acre facility on Solano Avenue near K Street.

"About 35 kids a day show up here to play softball, basketball or just about anything we can organize," he said.

But the situation at Sun Valley Park isn't always a happy one, he added. Lately, gangs of older teen-agers have been ripping up the sod of the park's multi-purpose field for "turf battles".

Tucked away on the shores of San Pablo Bay is McNear's Beach Park, a county facility popular with San Rafael citizens.

The park's pool draws a weekday crowd of about 200 which triples on weekends, according to lifeguard Will N. Curley of San Rafael.

The facility, recently landscaped and replanted by the county, also features a tot wading area, tennis courts and grassy stretches swept by cool bay breezes that wash visitors with the sweet smell of Eucalyptus trees.

Is the neighborhood park facing extinction in San Rafael? Never!

And the story is much the same throughout Marin.

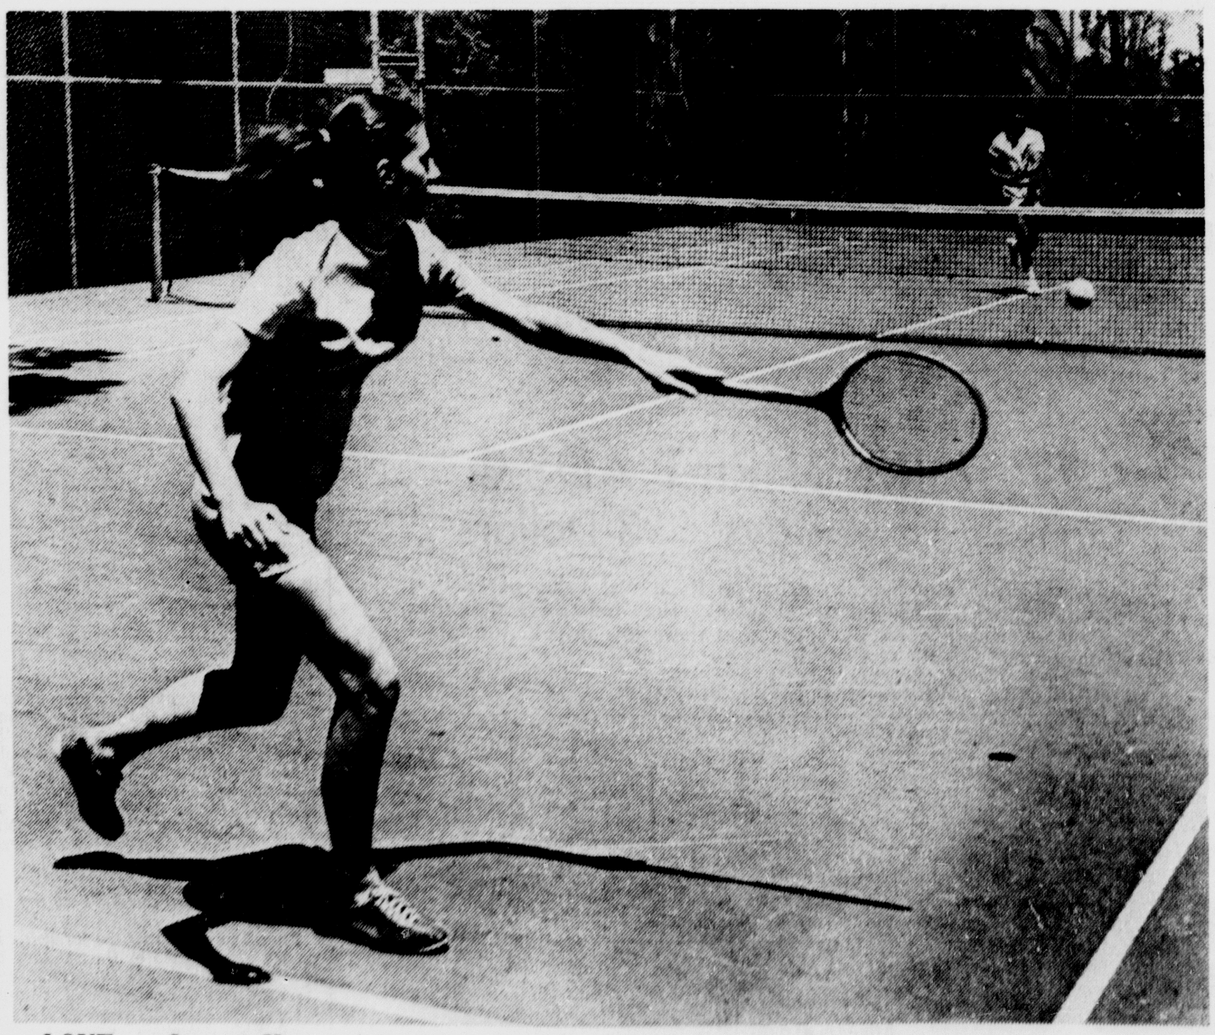
Mill Valley's Boyle and Old Mill parks are heavily used by parents and tots, parks in downtown Sausalito are "so crowded ygu can't turn around" and Tiburon's linear bicycle path is a peninsula favorite, according to parks and recreation officials.

The only report of a park that "might face extinction" comes from Corte Madera, where an unnamed facility adjacent to San Clemente School is relatively unusued.

"But that's because the youngsters prefer to use the playground equipment at the school," said Robert W. Riboli, chairman of the city's parks and recreation commission.

GYRO-TWIRL — This playground contraption provides a constant source of delight to young visitors of Gerstle Park in south San Rafael.

HORSEPLAY — Five-year-old Shanda Mallon (left) of 222 Coleman Drive, San Rafael, gives her brother Bo, 3, a playful push on the merry-go-round at Boyd Park in San Rafael.



LOVE — Joanne Kremenich of San Rafael returns a serve in a match with Jameel El A Hmadiyyah of Mill Valley on the tennis court at Gerstle Park in San Rafael. Though the court is nearly always jammed, the pair found themselves alone the other day.

SWIMMING POOL — The pool at McNear's Beach Park draws more than 200 visitors a day to the facility. On a warm day, sunbathers and swimmers alike are drawn to the pool area to enjoy the water as well as the sun's rays.

'Not A Seed Of Truth' In Watermelon Assault

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Who ever heard of someone being seriously injured by a 51-pound watermelon being dropped on his head?

Quite a number of people who heard or read news reports did. But the story isn't true, says a police commander.

The earlier stories referred to police reports saying Ofena Jones dropped the mammoth melon from a second-story window to bean her boyfriend, O. C. Henry, seriously injuring him.

"We've checkied it all out now," said police commander Pete Hagan, "and there isn't a seed of truth to it."

The story started as a joke Saturday night at the 77th Street division of the police department, Hagan said, when patrol officer Gary Lowden and his partner, Larry Whitman, were talking about a large watermelon they purchased.

It seems that everyone who entered the station that night was intrigued by the watermelon there.

Finally some prankster, still unidentified, Hagan said, made out a report saying the melon was being held as evidence and the tall tale about Ofena Jones and O. C. Henry was hatched.

Somehow the story got on the police blotter as legitimate news and was disseminated. Hagan said yesterday the department has launched an investigation to see if any officer deliberately gave out false information.

Skyjack Ransom Was Raised I:: San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The $800,000 in ransom demanded by an airplane hijacker last week was raised in San Francisco, the FBI said Monday.

Robert Gebhardt, agent in charge, denied reports the money had been brought from New York to San Francisco during the hijacking of a Pacific Southwest Airlines plane in which three persons were killed, including a passenger.

"I was told PSA was getting the money from some bank here in San Francisco," Gebhardt said. "Certainly no FBI agents flew any money out here from New York, as had been rumored."

San Rafael Man Reports Car Stolen

Barry Benjamin Ellegant of 425 Holly Drive, San Rafael, reported his 1961 Chevrolet Impala had been stolen from a parking lot at 101 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, early Saturday morning.

Corte Madera police said Ellegant's car had contained a saxophone and a clarinet, and could be identified by a "Jews for Jesus" sticker in the window.

ECLIPSE SEEN FROM ABOVE

Members of the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory took this picture of yesterday's total solar eclipse at an altitude of 39,000 feet in northern Canada. Some scientists were disappointed because a cloud cover moved in and obstructed many of their experiments. The phenomenon lasted for two hours and 13 minutes. (UPI Telephoto)

El Colegio To Receive A New Park

Plans for a new neighborhood park were approved last night by the Rohnert Park Recreation Commission.

Recreation Director James Pekkain said first phase plans for the five acre park in the El Colegio Subdivision include a little league baseball diamond and a natural wooded area.

He said parking facilities would be shared with the adjacent school site and that a portion of the park site has been set aside for a future swimming pool.

Pekkain said the plan will be presented to the city council on Monday and that work on the baseball diamond should begin in two weeks. He said most of the work will be done by volunteers.

The commission also approved a landscaping plan for Benecia Park. Pekkain said 20 to 30 trees will be planted with funds donated by the Redwood Empire Kennel Club which holds its annual dog show in the park.

Everybody Rises At The Same Time

NEW YORK (UPI) — Despite a popular impression to the contrary the modern farmer and the big city commuter get out of bed at about the same time, according to a survey by a farm equipment manufacturer.

Farmers contacted by Massey-Ferguson in several mid-western states said they get up between six and seven o'clock most of the year. Older farmers generally arise earlier and all farmers tend to get up earlier during harvest time.

Beer Is Stolen

Someone broke into the Octopus restaurant, 7416 Redwood Highway, and took 17 cases of beer valued at $74 between 7:30 p.m. Sunday and 7:40 a.m. yesterday, Novato police reported.

Tax Dip In $1.6 Million School Spending Plan

Kentfield School District trustees last night approved a $1,686,805 publication budget for fiscal 1972-73. The total represents an estimated tax rate of $2.97 per $100 assessed valuation, a drop of 14.5 cents from last year's rate.

Superintendent Anthony G. Bacich said the total is $30,940 higher than last year's, an increase accounted for by higher salaries and benefits. The lowering of the tax rate is possible through increased assessed valuation, he said.

The board approved spending $4,200 on a child center proposal to present in-service training to teachers.

Bacich said center staff will instruct district teachers on administering and interpreting new achievement tests they have devised for diagnosing learning difficulties. Center staff also will work with teachers one-half day a month on using the diagnoses to help students.

The Kentfield School District Board of Trustees also:

ELECTION — Elected De Witt K. MacDonald Jr., president, Mrs. Gloria Riccardi clerk, and Stanley T. Smith, trustee representative.

CLASSIFIED — Hired two instructional aides for Wolfe Grade School, Mary Elliott and Don Courtney; a school secretary for Wolfe Grade, Nancy Harris; and a teacher aide for Greenbrae School, Sylvia Allen.

MULTI-ETHNIC — Approved a $3,000 budget for the district's multi-ethnic studies program.

EVALUATION — Asked that program evaluations written at the end of the school year by teachers individually and by school staffs jointly provide the basis for a series of board discussions on directions and philosophies, starting in September.

Chinese-American Deputy — A First

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— After a century, San Francisco now has its first Chinese-American permanent sheriff's deputy.

Richard Woo, the new deputy, said Monday: "Caucasians have the idea that persons of Chinese descent are shy, gentle and philosophical with no interest in law enforcement."

"The Chinese came to San Francisco over 100 years ago," the 23-year-old new deputy added. "It's taken all these years before one of us became a permanent deputy sheriff...I'm proud I am the first."

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Major crimes decreased by 20 per cent in San Francisco during the first six months of this year, Police Chief Donald M. Scott reported Monday.

Openings Remain For Y Camp

Camp Loma Mar, the Marin YCMA's summer mountain camp, still has openings for this year's camp session, July 23 to 30, the YMCA has announced.

The camp is located on 500 acres of redwoods in the Santa Cruz Mountains near Pescadero. It is open to boys and girls 9 to 14 years old.

Campers sleep in enclosed cabins. Activities include swimming, hiking, horseback riding and other activities. Transportation to and from Marin County is provided by the Y.

Further information may be obtained from the YMCA of Marin in San Rafael.

Tam High Trustees Want More Renovation Figures

Tamalpais School District trustees said last night they want more information before deciding whether the need to renovate classrooms and enlarge locker rooms justifies bending their policy against increasing the district tax rate.

Asst. Supt. Robert D. Torrey told the board members that some 60 Tamalpais High School classrooms need renovation costing about $400,000; additional locker room facilities at Redwood High School would cost about $260,000.

The district's building fund reserves contain only $250,000. During budget discussion, the trustees said they want to hold the line to last year's tax rate which was $1.877 for general operations, and a total of $2.28 per $100 assessed valuation.

The operating rate could go to a legal maximum of $1.94, Torrey said today. This would raise about $266,000, he said.

The official reported board members said they wanted to visit Tamalpais High classrooms and to receive more data of the building needs at their Aug. 7 meeting before acting on any tax rate change.

During last night's lengthy discussion of the building problem, the board recognized that "it does have the responsibility to face all the district's needs," regardless of commitments to hold the tax rate line, Torrey said today.

The Tamalpais School District Board Also:

REORGANIZATION — Elected Trustee Robert W. Corlett as board chairman, Jerrold M. Ladar as clerk and Bette Wallace trustee representative, for fiscal 1972-73.

BUDGET — Approved a publication budget totalling $11,018,009. Torrey reported the staff still was seeking to trim $15,174 from spending to maintain the goal of $1 million in reserves while holding the operating tax rate to $1.87 per $100 assessed valuation.

UPHOLSTERY CLASS — Instructed Torrey to negotiate a lease with the Mill Valley School District to move the adult upholstery class from its present privately-owned quarters in Mill Valley to a portable building.

ADMINISTRATIVE SALARIES — Postponed to Aug. 7 a proposal to give administrators an average 3.25 per cent cost of living increase and peg their salary ratios to that of the high school educational leaders instead of the teaching salary schedules.

INSURANCE — Approved making student accident insurance, student dental accident and tackle football coverage available to district students on a voluntary basis. Authorized purchase of student travel insurance required by state law.

DUPLICATION CENTER — Voted 4-1, with Ladar opposing, to call for bids to equip a Drake High School duplication center for about $32,000. Under the plan, each of the district's three high schools would have its own center instead of relying on a central duplicating facility.

PERSONNEL — Granted Tamalpais High School teacher Stephen Mutunga a year's leave to complete studies toward a doctorate; canceled previously approved leaves for Susan Dohrmann of Sir Francis Drake High and George Suzdaleff of Redwood High, at the teachers' request; allowed Elizabeth Cutter to withdraw her resignation as senior clerk typist at Redwood High and accapted Alfred Madrid's resignation as watchman at Tamalpais High. Hired Christine Fleming as teacher at San Andreas High School. Approved summer school assignments for Gary Beaudoin, Andrew McGuire and Robert Licht at $8 per hour.

COURSES — Approved Redwood High School plans to use a $15,000 computer for mathematics and business training courses. Routinely approved other course additions and changes and textbooks for next fall.

JOBLESS PAY — Postponed action on unemployment insurance for the district's classified staff to Aug. 7, due to delays in state law enactment.

Roche Will Head Lagunitas School District

Harry F. Roche, whose teaching career began 16 years ago in Tracy, was named last night to the post of superintendent-principal of Lagunitas School District.

Roche, hired following a closed session of district trustees, said he will be paid $19,500 annually under a two-year contract.

Roche, 49, a Novato resident, has been holding the job in an acting capacity since Supt. William E. Johnson announced earlier this year he was leaving the district.

The new superintendent-principal, who had been in the construction business before undertaking a teaching career, joined the Lagunitas district 15 years ago as a seventh-grade teacher at Lagunitas School. He also has served the district as a vice principal and principal.

Johnson, now serving the district in a consulting role, will leave Aug. 31. Hired only last fall, Johnson told the district board in February he believed the district was administratively overstaffed and expressed a wish to shorten his two-year pact.

The board last night also approved a publication budget of $565,232, up from last fiscal year's total of $484,560. Roche said the approved spending program is up $2,000 over the 1972-73 tentative budget, the sum being added for student transportation purposes.

The board set an Aug. 7 formal hearing on a final budget.

The Lagunitas School District Board also:

NEW PROGRAMS — Left up to Roche the problem of housing students who have elected to take the existing curriculum and the so-called ABC program next school year. Housing for students under the open classroom program — third part of a reorganized educational system — already has been settled.

GIFT — Received a $633 gift from the Parent-Teacher Association toward completion of the sprinkler system at the Lagunitas School field.

DISASTER — Adopted a disaster plan to conform with countywide efforts.

APPLICATION — Approved application for $11,951 in federal funds for language, arts and mathematics instruction of culturally deprived children.

MEETING — Said it would next meet Aug. 7, as regularly scheduled.

Corona Writing Samples Sought

FAIRFIELD (UPI) — The state Monday won a motion to have accused mass slayer Juan V. Corona give handwriting samples in a closed session July 17.

A key item in the prosecution evidence against the farm labor contractor is a green work ledger in which Corona is alleged to have written a list of the names of 25 migrant workers whose bodies were found buried along the banks of the Feather River last summer.

Superior Judge Richard E. Patton said a bilingual court appointee would dictate to Corona when the handwriting sample is taken.

Defense attorney Richard E. Hawk said at the hearing he would instruct his client "not to write anything at all."

Private School In Corte Madera Wins Planning Commission Nod

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night granted a conditional use application for a private day school on Paradise Drive to be housed in three 36-feet high Buckminster Fuller-style geodesic domes.

Zoning administrator William G. McBride said the application was granted to N. R. Cox for the school at 5168 Paradise Drive.

Approval was subject to a 15-foot pedestrian right-of-way along the waterfront portion of the site, McBride said, and a pedestrian way through the property. He said there was some opposition to the application.

An anticipated public hearing on Cal Prop Corp.'s request for zoning change to accommodate a controversial apartment development on eight acres on Paradise Drive came to nothing when the developers withdrew their request, McBride said.

The proposed development adjacent to the Church of All Faiths had drawn heavy opposition from residents in the area, and the original application was denied by the planning commission last month.

In the third application involving Paradise Drive, a rezoning application by Karl Treffinger for several parcels between 5170 and 5188 Paradise was continued to the next meeting.

The Corte Madera Planning Commission also:

TREES — Approved two species of salt-resistant trees to be planted in landscaping on San Clemente Drive in front of North Bay Lumber Co. Two signs on the company site also were approved.

OFFICE — Approved a design review application by Auda P. Bordanaro for a new office building at the northwest corner of Tamalpais Drive and Serra Street.

TENNIS COURTS — Approved a design review application for the tennis courts at Granada School but reduced the amount of parking from 11 to eight spaces and increased the landscaping required.

STUDY ZONE — Recommended the council approve an amendment to the town's municipal code establishing an S Study zone classification.

ADJOURNED — Adjounred to the Aug. 14 meeting, leaving six agenda items.

FM Transmitting Tower Is Toppled

SAN JOSE (UPI)--A transmitting tower for two FM radio stations was toppled Monday in what a station official said was "deliberate sabotage."

"I don't understand it," said Ron Cutler, general manager of station KOME. "We've never had any threats."

The Santa Clara County sheriff's office said saboteurs cut five wires supporting the 50-foot tower in the Santa Cruz Mountains. The tower also served station KTAO.

Jail Term On Sale Of LSD

A 22-year-old College of Marin student who admitted selling LSD was sentenced yesterday in Marin Superior Court to four months in jail for the offense.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner also placed William Dennis Rule of Kentfield on probation for five years to complete a plea bargain.

Calling the sentence "very moderate," Gardiner said, "In my opinion, LSD is the worst drug ever created by man. About three-fourths of those who use it seem to get out OK, but the rest go crazy."

Rule was arrested Jan. 1 on a warrant charging he had sold a small amount of the hallucinatory drug to an undercover agent in Novato last August.

The student and part-time groundskeeper, although admitting the charge, said he though he was selling psilocybin.

The district attorney recommended a sentence of six months in jail.

49ers' Plunge On Marin Golf Course

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Bruce Gossett proved again to be the 49ers' best golfer in the 49er Goal Rushers of Marin tournament, but quarterback John Brodie wasn't there or things might have been harder for Gossett.

Brodie is a scratch golfer who would probably be able to make some money on the pro tour if he so desired, but not as much as he could by flinging footballs for pay. Bruce toured the Marin Country Club course in 80 strokes.

Second place was won by a man who was playing the game of football before the other 49er participants were even born — the great Ernie Nevers, so don't say golf is a young man's game. Ernie had a very respectable 87.

My playing partner was Frank Nunley and he broke 100 by one stroke. I didn't break 100 and the scorekeeper is still trying to total my scorecard.

Other 49er scores included Jim Johnson's 90, Marty Huff's 91, Ted Kwalick's 94, Cas Banaszek's 95 and assistant coach Mike Giddings' 94. At least I scored a little better than two 49ers; Vic Washington had 114 and Jim McCann 124. In fact McCann came in the clubhouse so much later than everybody else I thought he was going around for a second time. Earl Edwards started the tourney but about half way around he picked up his ball and crept silently away. That water-loaded Marin C.C. couse can make a man do that.

FORTY-NINER promotions man Dick Berg shot a 91 but his biggest contribution was in the gals he brought with him — seven lovely 49er Nuggets, the pretty girls who add beauty to Candlestick Park at 49er games. The Nuggets drove the refreshment carts and they get an "A" on my scorecard. Another beer, please.

I didn't get to see all the 49er participants hit the ball, but I'll attest to the power of Nunley. Wow! On the 350-yard fourth hole, Fudgehammer slammed his tee shot toward the trees to the right of the fairway and luckily his ball tipped one of the tree tops. If it hadn't, it would have been pin high. I didn't think that ball was ever going to land.

FRANK WASN'T too happy with his game. "I usually shoot in the 80s," he said. "But heck, it's a lot of fun."

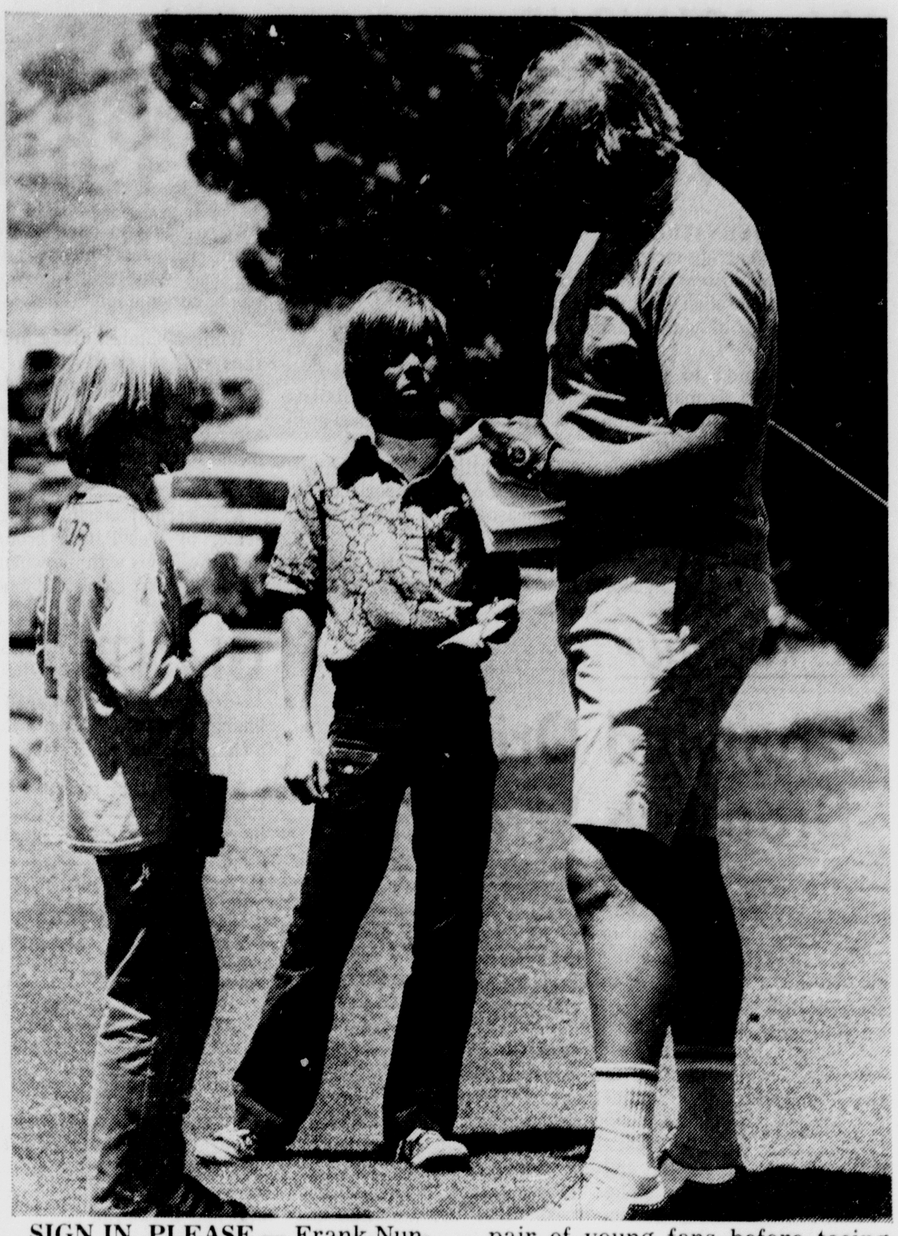
Most of the ink that has appeared in print the past few days about Nunley's weight has been in jest. He has a cherub face that always makes him look plump. Yesterday he said he was one pound over his playing weight of 230 pounds.

HE WAS HOUNDED by autograph seekers throughout the 18 holes and obliged every young admirer, including the little guys who crowded into the back of our golf cart for most of the tourney. One youngster was standing there, eyeing me, pad and pencil in hand. After seeing my swing, he shook his head and put the pencil back in his pocket.

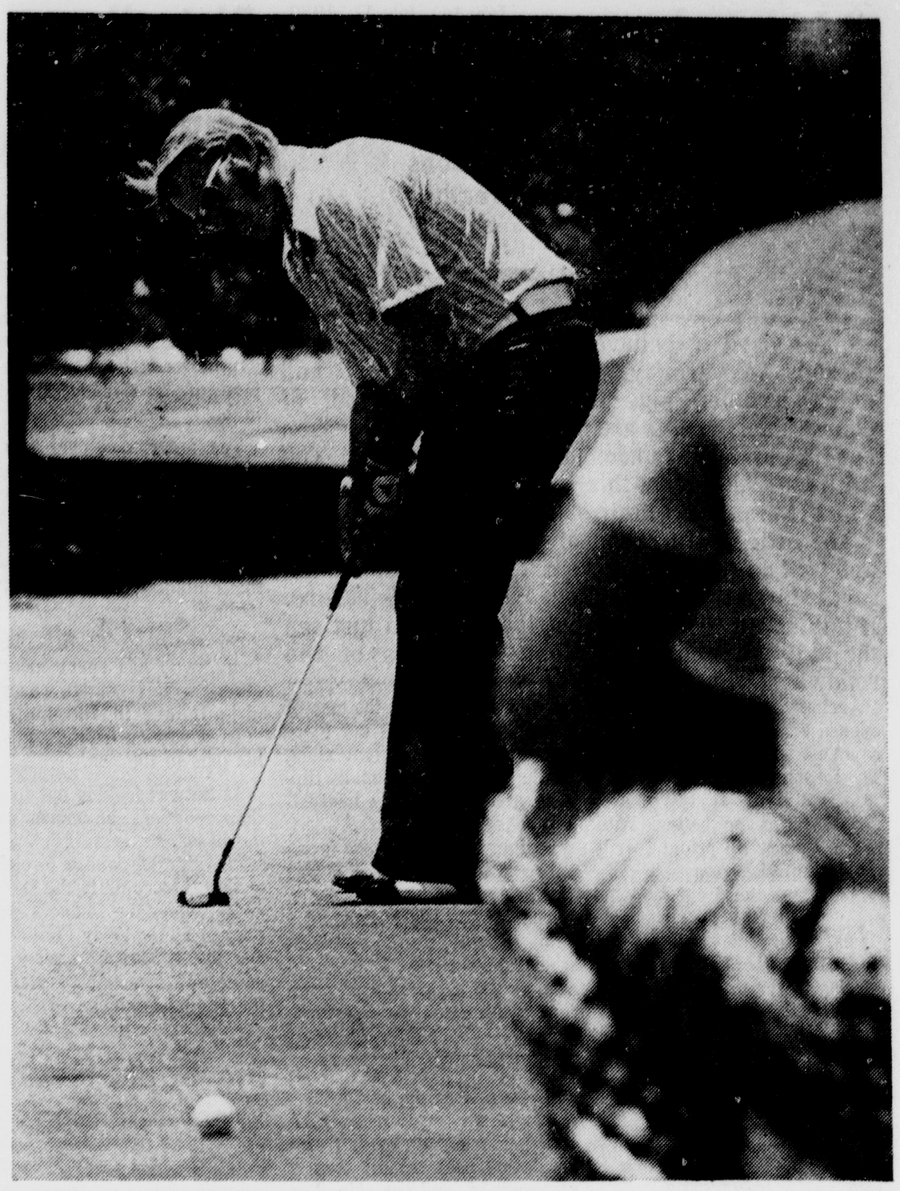
Terry Jarcik, the insurance exec, was playing in the foursome behind us with Gossett. Quite a power-hitter, Jarcik hit a tee shot that carried a little longer than he figured and he literally almost stuck it in Nunley's ear. It hit a little ways behind Nunley and bounced over his head. Later, before dinner, I saw Jarcik sitting with Nunley and they were both smiling. Lucky Jarcik.

AT THE POST tournament dinner, the players took turns talking up the team's chances this season and all said they were anxious to get rolling.

It won't be a long wait, as the 49ers open training camp in Santa Barbara Saturday. Their days of golf playing will be over for a spell.



SIGN IN, PLEASE — Frank Nunley, 49er middle linebacker, stopped to sign autographs for a pair of young fans before teeing off in yesterday's 49er Goal Rushers of Marin golf tournament.



THE GOSSETT TOUCH — Place kicker Bruce Gossett dropped in par putt on the 18th green yesterday. For the second straignt year, Gossett had the lowest score among the 49er players, an 80.

Veteran Umpire Leaves For Home With Illness

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Veteran umpire Henry C. "Shag" Crawford has been granted a temporary leave of absence due to illness, according to National League President Charles S. Feeney.

Crawford, who joined the National League umpiring corps at the start of the 1956 season after six years in the minors, has returned to his home in Havertown, Pa.

"During his 16 years in the National League, Shag has become established as one of the most efficient and knowledgeable umpires ever to wear the uniform," Feeney said Monday. "We wish him a rapid and complete recovery."

49ers On Fairways In Marin

Joe Gryson was low gross winner and Charles Hancock won low net honors yesterday at the 49er Goal Rushers of Marin second annual golf tournament at Marin Country Club in Novato.

Gryson shot a two-over-par 74 to edge Dick Smith by one stroke. Hancock, a 16 handicapper, shot a round of 82 for net 66. Second was Joe Gardner, 79-12—67.

Forty-Niner place kicker Bruce Gossett defended his players' low gross title with an 80. Hall of Famer Ernie Nevers was second, 87.

Blind bogey winner was Jerry Craner with a net 48 after shooting a scratch 76. Chuck Akins won the closest to the hole competition, nine feet, 5 inches from the cup.

BEASLEY RETURNS TO 49ERS

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Wide receiver Terry Beasley returned here Monday to take it easy for two weeks with the San Francisco 49ers after pulling a hamstring during drills for the college all-star football game set July 28 against the National Football League champions Dallas Cowboys.

Beasley, the 49ers' first round draft pick from Auburn, flew here for a check by team physician Lloyd Milburn after pulling the muscle during the first day of All-Star workouts in Chicago.

Coach Dick Nolan said Beasley would join the rest of the 49ers at their Santa Barbara training camp, but would not work out. He will be under care of the team trainer for two weeks. Dr. Milburn will then review his injury to determine if Beasley can return to Chicago for the All-Star clash.

2 Padres Taken To Hospital In Montreal

MONTREAL (UPI) —San Diego Padres' catcher Fred Kendall and leftfielder Leron Lee were taken to Montreal's Queen Elizabeth Hospital Monday night during the game with the Expos.

Kendall split his forehead open for two stitches and suffered a bruised shoulder in the first inning when he crashed into the box seats behind the plate in an attempt to catch Ron Fairly's foul ball.

Lee was struck on the helmet by a pitch thrown by Expos' rookie Baylor Moore in the third inning. Both players were taken off the field on stretchers. X-rays proved negative in both cases.

A's Cepeda In Knee Operation

OAKLAND (UPI)—The latest 4-2 loss to Boston was the least of the Oakland Athletics' worries today.

First baseman Orlando Cepeda, purchased by Oakland from Atlanta just 11 days ago, was to undergo surgery today with his career hanging on the outcome.

And Vida Blue, the holdout hurler who seemed to be heading toward his 1971 form of late, was declared out for at least one pitching turn because of a problem with his knee.

Cepeda, who last year underwent surgery on his left knee's inside cartilage, was to have his outside cartilage removed today. The 14-year veteran was obtained from Atlanta in a deal for Denny McLain and had gone 0-for-3 with the A's.

BLUE

Blue turned up with a muscle strain above his left knee which he received dodging a hot liner last Friday. Manager Dick Williams said he would rest Blue for a week but that if the knee continues to bother him, Blue could wind up on the disabled list with another hurler brought up from the minors to replace him.

Ken Holtzman, one of the guys who has filled the void caused by Blue's poor performance this year, was sailing serenely along on a four-hitter and a 2-1 lead in the eighth Monday night when trouble arrived.

PETROCELLI

Rico Petrocelli, who had fanned twice and hit into a twin killing, broke out of a 2-for-17 slump and a season-long power slump by whacking his first homer on the road with Carl Yastrzemski, who had singled, on base.

Bobby Locker finished up for Holtzman and gave up another run in the ninth although he and Holtzman combined for 13 strikeouts. Since Nolan Ryan fanned 16 Red Sox on Sunday, it gave Boston 29 whiffs for two games, tying the major league record.

OAKLAND

Oakland scored in the first on a pair of singles and an infield out and Holtzman singled in the go-ahead tally in the fifth. Only consistent Joe Rudi managed two hits for Oakland during the contest, witnessed by nearly 30,000 fans.

In tonight's rematch, it will be Marty Pattin (5-8) for the visitors and Joel Horlen (2-0) for the A's.

San Rafael Driver Heads Petaluma Field

San Rafael race driver Gary Ramsier will be gunning (his engine) for his fourth victory of the year Friday night when the 100-lap Permatex 100 modified sportsman auto race will be held at Petaluma Speedway.

Petaluma's Larry Schlee and Fred Helberg also are considered strong contenders based on their performances earlier this year, and Jack Dempsey of San Rafael made foes wary by spicing his comeback with a feature victory last week.

A full program of sportsman and early model stock car racing will complete the bill at the quarter-mile dirt oval on Washington Street in Petaluma. Qualifying is set for 7 p.m. and the races will begin at 8.

Streaking Giants Face Mets, Mays

NEW YORK (UPI)—It will be Ron Bryant on the hill for the San Francisco Giants tonight against New York as they go for their fourth straight victory. And with a southpaw pitching, it means that ex-Giant Willie Mays will be starting for the Mets.

The 41-year-old Mays, who is hitting .267 with the Mets in 30 games, is platooning for New York skipper Yogi Berra, batting lead-off against the left-handers.

TWO HOMERS

He has hit two homers since his memorable blast May 14 against the Giants in Shea Stadium to give the Mets a victory.

The Giants continued their fine play of late by taking a courageous comeback 5-4 win over the New Yorkers Monday before 33,000.

DIFFERENCE

The difference between the Giants' victories of late and their string of early season disasters has been the relief pitching. Monday night, Jerry Johnson and ageless Don McMahon stopped the Mets on one run over the last 3 1-3

2 Marinites Near Amateur Golf Berths

Ray Leach and John Cranston are almost there, but Mat Palacio Jr. and Richard Thompson are in trouble.

That's how things looked this morning following the first round of qualifying for the State Amateur golf championship at Cypress Point and Pebble Beach golf courses.

Leach, from Novato, fired 38-36 — 74, three strokes behind the pace set by Robert Roos Jr. of Hillsborough, while Cranston, of Sausalito, shot 37-38 — 75. Roos was the only man on either course to break par.

Both Leach and Cranston ranked among the top 23 yesterday, a good place to be since 64 will quatify for the tournament itself, which will run tomorrow through Sunday at Pebble.

Palacio and Thompson, however, must pin their hopes on today's second and final qualifying round. Each shot 80 yesterday, putting them in a tie for 80th place in the field of 200.

Palacio, of San Rafael, fired 41-39, while Thompson, a Sausalito resident, checked in with 42-38.

Trailing Roos in the qualifying were Bill Flowers of San Francisco, 35-37 — 72, and Dave Olson of Sacramento, 38-34 — 72. In at 73 were Roy Strate, Mark Pfiel, Gary Sanders and Rob O'Neil.

A hole-in-one was recorded by Richard Jay, using a wedge on the 120-yard seventh at Pebble.

Golfers switched courses today.

Hunting Seasons Here Already

By AL GIDDINGS

It's hard to believe, but some of the hunting seasons are already here! Brush, cottontail and pigmy rabbits, plus the varying hare and, of course, jack rabbits are now in season. The season runs from July 1 through January 28, 1973. The limit was set at five this year, except for jacks on which there is no limit or season.

The little brush rabbit of Marin County has had a terrific reproduction year especially along the roads through the Pt. Reyes National Seashore. It's illegal to hunt there but it is great to just see the wildlife scurrying along the sides of the roadways.

Archery season for deer opened Saturday in the coastal counties, which includes Marin. The season is open through July 23. The limit is two bucks forked horns or better. With Marin County all private, written permission must be obtained from the property owners.

Last year five bucks were taken by archers in Marin according to the tag returns. The regular season opens Aug. 5 thru Sept. 24 in most of the early season areas, but check the newly printed Hunting Regulations now at the sport shops. The old regulation of past years is back which permits you to take a buck with your "A" tag, then to either take a second buck here, or to keep your "B" tag for the late season hunt when the season opens Sept. 23 this year.

The fishing was a hit or miss proposition in most waters with heavy winds causing rough sea problems.

Trout fishing in Marin was slow with no recent plants of catchables made, due to the high lake temperatures.

OVER AT STAFFORD Lake near Novato, some bluegill, black bass and catfish were taken.

Salmon: It was rough and windy Sunday, but quite a few boats were working off the Slide Ranch and Muir Beach. Sticking it out in the rough waters and as bunched up as they were, they must have caught some fish. I talked to retired Adm. John Flynn of Corte Madera who now spends his spare moments fishing. Last week, he had a banner day landing 24, 20 and 12 pounders. This week he had to be satisfied hauling in an 18-pounder that was on the deckhand's rod when he was just too busy to land the fish. Eleven customers had 14 fish with a 12 pounder winning the pool on the party boat Maru. The Salmon Queen, another party boat averaged two fish to the rod with five or so 20 pounders in the box. Someone on the party boat Hurricane landed a 34-pounder.

MY OLD FRIEND from Fairfax, Fred DeVita came in with a mola — mola or ocean sunfish that can reach weights of 2000 pounds. Fred's weighed about ten pounds — probably just born — and bitter to the taste if eaten. They are just out there for show, and just float along on the surface occasionally flipping a fin over. Very interesting beasts.

Striper fishing was mesa mesa with the crowds churning the waters of the hot spots. Rich Borba of Fairfax caught a limit drifting shiner perch at The Sisters and as I once said years ago, if Borba can catch 'em, you better get out there quick!

UP AT TOMALES Bay, about 25 boats braved the bar area — it was rough — with most of the boats catching ten or so flounders. One boat trolling took a nice salmon, and one skindiver took a halixut. With the sharks in the halibut fishing areas near the bar, I wouldn't even fly over that area! A salmon run should hit the Tomales area anytime from now on. Most of the fish are lunkers.

Not long ago, one of the wardens in San Francisco walked out on Muni Pier and stood by while a fellow calmly baited up two rods and continued to fish illegally. The warden asked him about this, with the old gent saying he always knew when the warden was in the area because he always parked his car at the same place. When the warden identified himself —he was in full uniform rather than the field uniform — the fellow says, "Good grief, I thought you were a soldier!" And so it goes.

Dietz Has Trip Around The Bases

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A trip around the bases by former San Francisco Giant Dick Dietz symbolized the Los Angeles Dodgers' fortunes Monday night.

The veteran catcher started out gloriously, hitting his first home run in a Los Angeles uniform in the seventh inning of the first game to help lift the Dodgers to a 6-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies in 11 innings.

On the way to first base, Dietz, who has spent most of his time this season warming up pitchers in the bullpen, started waving triumphantly to his pals in the pen.

As he was looking out to see their reactions, he tripped over the base.

The stumble was a foretaste of things to come in the second game, when the Dodgers were tripped by the lowly Phillies 9-1 and lost a chance to cut a full game off Cincinnati's lead in the National League West.

Big Boats Head West For Cup Race July 23

PASCO, Wash. (UPI)—The big boats are headed west, now that the President's Cup was completed in Washington, D.C. last weekend.

Ken Maurer, official of the Tri-Cities Atomic Cup race scheduled for July 23, said Monday that the boats would start arriving in a few days.

Maurer said that around a dozen boats are expected to compete in the seventh annual Atomic Cup races with perhaps 50,000 persons along the shore to watch.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

DENVER (UPI)—Ron Lyle, Denver, stopped Vicente Paul Rondon, Venezuela (2), heavyweights; Cleveland Williams, Houston, stopped Bobby Mashburn, New York (9), heavyweights.

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—Armando Muniz, 148 1-2, Los Angeles, knocked out Jimmy Hamm, 144, Jacksonville, Fla. (2).

Owens Guides Phillies To Split

By U.P.INTERNATIONAL

After a 13-year absence from the field, Paul Owens has discovered that baseball is still a game made up of victory and defeat.

Owens, named to replace Frank Lucchesi as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies Monday, saw his club drop the opener of a twi-night doubleheader, 6-4 in 11 innings, to the Los Angeles Dodgers. The Phillies came back to win the nightcap, 9-1.

Owens, also the club's general manager, became the first double duty executive in the National League since the late Branch Rickey.

Owens, who last managed in the California League back in 1959, is inheriting a ball club that had won only 13 of its last 55 games under Lucchesi's direction.

The Phillies' new skipper blames the club's poor showing this season on "a lack of fundamentals."

Owens promises the team a dose of spring training in July.

"We're going to have to work more—with some hitting, pitching and some enthusiasm we can have some fun."

Willie Montanez drove in five runs with a single, triple and homer to lead Philadelphia to their first victory under Owens after the Dodgers scored twice in the top of the 11th to win the opener.

A towering sacrifice fly to center by Wes Parker brought in Willie Davis with the winning run in the first game and pinch-hitter Bill Ruckner delivered an insurance run with a single.

But Woody Fryman earned a split for Philadelphia in the second game with a six-hit effort, losing his bid for a shutout in the eighth on Manny Mota's fifth home run. The victory was only the third for Fryman against nine losses.

"It was much easier sitting up there in the executive box," Owens observed after his first day on the job.

In other National League games, San Francisco edged New York 5-4, and Montreal defeated San Diego, 6-3, in the only games scheduled.

Jim Fairey's sixth inning pinch-hit single drove home Bob Bailey with what proved to be the winning run as Montreal defeated San Diego.

Bailey singled off losing pitcher Steve Arlin, who gave up only five hits in the contest, as he dropped his ninth game in 16 decisions. Tim Foli drew a walk and Fairey's hit went to shallow center field to break a 3-3 tie.

Troubled Orioles Drop 5th Straight

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Nothing more than the law of gravity and some capable pitching appears to be keeping the Baltimore Orioles alive in the American League East.

The Orioles won the American League pennant the last three years with the help of an awesome hitting attack, but they carried a weak .222 team average into Monday night's game against Kansas City, and today they are dragging along with their second five-game losing streak of the season.

Baltimore scored two runs in the fifth inning and Mike Cuellar carried a 2-1 advantage into the ninth when Richie Scheinblum singled with two out and Piniella followed with his eighth homer.

With Monday's 3-2 loss to the Royals, Baltimore now has dropped 14 of its last 18 games at home, including a four-game sweep by the last place Texas Rangers over the weekend. Incredibly, the Orioles still are only one game behind the frontrunning Detroit Tigers, who gained that edge by beating Texas, 8-3.

Elsewhere, Gaylord Perry earned his 14th victory of the year as the Cleveland Indians tripped the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, the Boston Red Sox beat the Oakland A's, 4-2, the Minnesota Twins routed the Milwaukee Brewers, 8-1, and the California Angels beat the New York Yankees, 4-3.

Norm Cash hit two home runs and Dim Northrup one as the Tigers jumped off to a 7-0 lead over Texas after three innings. Joe Coleman, with ninth-inning relief from John Hiller, gained his 11th triumph.

Perry tossed a four-hitter and rookie Ron Lolich belted his first major league home run for the Indians. White Sox Manager Chuck Tanner protested the game, complaining that Perry was throwing an illegal pitch.

"I know Perry throws an illegal pitch and there's no question in my mind about it," Tanner explained. "This is the only way I can do something to stop it. The league has to come to a decision. If they turn down the protest, I'm done. If they don't do anything about it, all the pitchers will start throwing them."

Bobby Darwin's first major league grand slam homer lifted Jim Perry and the Twins to victory over Milwaukee, and Clyde Wright pitched an eighthitter for his first victory since June 24 as California beat the Yankees.

innings to give the Giant hitters a chance to pull back ahead.

San Francisco tied it 3-3 in the seventh on McCovey's dribbler down the third base line against a shifted infield and Dave Rader's homer.

FOUGHT BACK

Even when New York made it 4-3, San Francisco fought back as Jim Howarth and Bobby Bonds singled to open the eighth and advanced on Garry Maddox's sacrifice before Chris Speier drove home two runs.

In the ninth, Mays walked as a pinch-hitter with one out but McMahon fanned Bud Harrelson and then got Jim Fregosi, who had a two-run homer and single earlier, on a grounder back to the box.

Here We Go Again! Grid Camps Open

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

If anyone had doubts that a new football season could possibly be near, they can just wipe the sweat off their brow and prepare for the inevitable. We've already had our first game and our first retirement.

The game was the Coaches All-America at Lubbock, Tex., almost two weeks ago, and the professionals begin preparations for the long season ahead with the opening of training camps this week.

The Cleveland Browns got off to an early jump as 50 rookies and veterans reported to the team camp at Hiram, Ohio, Monday, with the first workout scheduled for this morning. But even before that first session could be held, the Browns were faced with the unexpected retirement of offensive tackle Mitch Johnson.

Cleveland also will have to get along without defensive tackle Joe Righetti, who failed to pass a physical examination.

Green Bay Coach Dan Devine, preparing for the opening of the Packer camp at St. Norbert College today, said that the club's quarterback situation still was unresolved.

Browns' owner Art Modell said he felt Johnson's retirement announcement at this time was "unfair treatment to the Browns.

"I don't know how it's going to develop," he said. "But I sure feel better this year than I did last year. Last year Bart Starr was a question mark and Scott Hunter, who was a sixth round draft choice, had a sore arm.

"I thought Scott played extremely well at times last year and I think he has a great future at Green Bay."

Devine also said that Jerry Tagge of Nebraska looked good during spring drills with the Packers.

In other football news, the New England Patriots announced the signings of wide receivers Reggie Rucker and Eric Crabtree, kicking specialist Charlie Gogolak, tackle Mike Montler and tight end Roland Moss; and the New York Jets signed All-America linebacker Mike Taylor of Michigan, their No. 2 pick in the college draft. The Jets also announced that former Patriot Coach Mike Holovak will serve them as a talent scout in a five-state area consisting of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee.

WHEN FIRED BY PHILLIES

Lucchesi's Tearful Time

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frank Lucchesi picked up the phone.

He was still at home in Philadelphia and by glancing at his watch, he noticed the time was 9:20 a.m.

Paul Owens, the general manager of the Phillies, was on the other end of the line. Owens and Lucchesi are about as close as two baseball men can be. It was Owens who suggested to Bob Carpenter, the Phillies' owner, that Lucchesi be given a chance to manage the big club originally in 1970 after the warm, congenial little cigar-making San Franciscan had piloted minor league entries for 19 straight years; 14 of which were spent in the Phillies' chain.

"Frank, can you get to the park by 10? Mr. Carpenter and I want to talk to you," said Paul Owens over the phone to Lucchesi.

"I'll be right there," was the reply.

Frank Lucchesi did some thinking after he hung up.

CARPENTER

Owens had said Carpenter wished to speak with him, also. Maybe something was up. That was always a possibility because the club was in last place and not doing well at all.

Frank Lucchesi arrived at the ballpark a few minutes before 10 and he was in the designated office by 10 on the button. Carpenter was talking on th phone; Owens was busy in his own office, talking with Dallas Green, the Phils' farm director.

Carpenter finished his conversation on the phone after Lucchesi and Owens joined him in his office, and he spoke first. "Frank, I got you in here...to tell you we're just going to have to make a managerial change," said the Phillies' owner, speaking slowly and with some difficulty.

'DIFFICULT'

"This is a very difficult thing for me to do I appreciate your tremendous loyalty, all the things you've done for the club and the organization. Paul, here, is going to take over the club for the rest of the year. Generally, when we let go our managers, we make a clean break. But we want you to stay with us if you like. We'd like you to work with Paul, evaluating players. You know, of course, you get your entire salary no matter whether you decide to stay with us or not. We'd like you to remain on, but that's entirely up to you."

Frank Lucchesi is Italian and emotiocal. Very emotional. Outside his family, the Phillies are his whole life.

He thought about his wife, Cathy, his three children, Fran, Brian and Karon, and about all the years he had given the Phillies, and he broke down and wept.

There is nothing in the world wrong with a 45-year-old man weeping but it can be a disturbing sight, especially when there is no way to comfort him.

Bob Carpenter and Paul Owens stared at the floor. What could they say? What could they do?

Frank Lucchesi composed himself soon and addressed the Phillies' owner.

'JUST HURT'

"Look, Mr. Carpenter, there are no hard feelings," he said. "I'm just hurt. I've worked for you people, and you're great to work for. There'll be no bridges burnt behind me. I tried to do all I could. Not one time in three years did I ever come to you and moan and groan about any of the material I had to work with. Not once did I ever complain about the kids."

Bob Carpenter nodded.

"I realize that," he said.

The three of them, Carpenter, Owens and Lucchesi sat in the office and talked for nearly 45 minutes. Lucchesi said he'd like to consider Carpenter's offer to remain as "a special assignment man." Later, he accepted the job.

Frank Lucchesi made it plain he'd like to manage somewhere in the majors again. Carpenter said he understood and wouldn't stand in the way any time an opportunity opened up.

Now, though, it was time for another meeting with the news media. The change would have to be announced.

SUPERBLY

Frank Lucchesi conducted himself superbly at the news conference, although thinking about his wife and kids at one point after about 20 minutes into the session, he broke down again and the tears came back for everyone in the room to see.

Trying to be helpful to Lucchesi, Larry Shenk, the Phillies' public relations' director, told the assembled news people that it was enough.

"No, no," Lucchesi protested. "I'm gonna finish it. I never ducked a question from the press and I'm not gonna start now. I'm gonna stay here and answer all the questions."

He did. Then he went down to his own office in the clubhouse and answered many more which came in ovar the phone.

LEAVING

Later, hours later, he was leaving the ballpark and a swarm of kids gathered around him.

"Can we have your autograph? Can we have your autograph?" they pleaded.

"You mean you still want it even though I'm not the manager anymore?" Lucchesi asked.

"More than ever now," said one of the kids.

Lucchesi stood there patiently and signed for them all.

Then he went home to see his wife and children.

Tee-Birds Win Third Straight Pro Golf Meet

SEATTLE (UPI) — The Northwest Tee-Birds scored their third straight National Professional Golf League win Monday, beating the Los Angeles Califores 14 1-2-12 1-2.

Tommy Jacobs of Los Angeles was medalist in the rain-soaked play at the Inglewood Golf Course with a four-under par 69.

Jacobs beat Sam Snead, 3-up, in the match play phase.

Bob Duden of the Tee-Birds won the most lop-sided victory, disposing of Jimmy Powell of the Los Angeles team, 6-up.

Frogs Jump To Stardom In Calaveras' Angels Camp

By PHIL ELDERKIN
The Christian Science Monitor
News Service

Until recently, I always thought of frogmen as underwater demolition experts for the U.S. Navy. You know, Lloyd Bridges in a rubber suit, knife tucked into his lead weighted belt, air tank fastened to his back.

Well, frogmen has a double meaning. It's a nickname often applied to people who own pet frogs and enter them in jumping contests.

The frog jumping capital of the world, of course, is in Calaveras County, Calif. — a place called Angels Camp, which started as a gold-rush community. On contest day each year the local population balloons from slightly over 1,000 to 50,000. That is, counting the frogs.

The only way to watch this kind of contest is in person — shirt open at the neck, child holding on to your hand and the ice cream man headed in your direction.

TWAIN

But there is great tradition here. Mark Twain wrote about frog jumping in Calaveras County as far back as 1863. Officially, though, records have been kept only since 1928, when the event drew an estimated crowd of 5,000 and 51 frogs.

The winner's leap that year was three feet, six inches, which wouldn't be considered much today, but at least gave future competitors something to shoot at.

Entires arrive at Angels Camp from all over the United States and there even used to be a few foreign imports. But a change in U.S. government quarantine regulations in recent years now makes this almost impossible.

The following instructions are sent to would-be entrants:

"The frog should be packed in a watertight container with air holes in the lid and a little wet moss, plus an inch of water in the bottom. He will not need food during the trip and we will take care of him after he arrives. But the arrival should be timed so that it is not more than a few days before the jump."

WORLD SERIES

Getting a frog in shape for the World Series of jumping is not unlike getting a heavyweight contender ready for Madison Square Garden. He goes into training camp. He avoids sweets and night life and does plenty of road — er, grass work.

The big thing is to make sure your frog doesn't dry out before he enters the ring. This can take inches off a contestant's performance and drive his owner up a wall.

Outlined against a blue-gray sky, the frogs are placed one at a time in the center of a huge circle. Although owners are forbidden to touch their contestants, they apparently are able to spur their frogs to great deeds of derring-do by means of secret hand signals.

Anyway, a frog gets three jumps, but it's only the third one which counts officially. The current record is 19 feet, 3 inches and was set back in 1966.

TRYING A HELMET ON FOR SIZE

College All-Stars' quarterback Van Brownson (12) looked amused yesterday as an unidentified youngster tried on a football helmet on the Northwestern University practice field in Evanston, Ill. The All-Stars meet the National Football League champion Dallas Cowboys July 28 at Chicago's Soldier Field. (UPI Telephoto)

Grid Pioneer Gehrke Given New Award

CANTON, Ohio (UPI)—Fred Gehrke, a former halfback for the Los Angeles Rams who introduced team symbols on football helmets, was named today to receive the first Pioneer Award to be awarded by the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Gehrke will be honored July 28 during Hall of Fame ceremonies here.

Gehrke played for the Rams when they were in Cleveland and later when the club moved to Los Angeles.

Gehrke, an art major at the University of Utah, put color in uniforms in 1948 by painting the standard brown leather helmet blue and adding reddish gold ram horns.

Coach Bob Snyder liked it and Gehrke painted all 75 team helmets. He also spent nearly every night of the season doing a touch-up job on helmets battered in the previous game.

In 1949 the plastic helmet was introduced by the Rams, who had persuaded a manufacturer to bake Gehrke's colored design into the hat, beneath the surface of the transparent plastic.

The Pioneer Award was established this year in honor of the late Dan Reeves, longtime owner of the Rams.

Athletic Director Anderson To Stay

CHENEY, Wash. (UPI)—Robert B. Anderson will remain as athletic director at Eastern Washington State College, according to Dr. Jack Leighton, director of physical education.

Anderson, who had asked for reassignment, withdrew that request last week, Leightoh said Monday.

Frazier Receives Offer To Box Foreman In Fall

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

UNIONDALE, N.Y. — Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier has been offered a $500,000 guarantee against a percentage of the receipts if he will defend the title against George Foreman of Hayward at the Nassau Coliseum in the fall either September or October.

Murray Goodman, the Coliseum boxing promoter, said managers Yank Durham and Dick Sadler have said they are ready to negotiate.

More Boxing

LONDON — World light heavyweight champion Bob Foster has agreed to meet British and European light heavyweight champion Chris Finnegan in a title fight.

Promoter Harry Levene finally agreed terms with Foster, of Albuquerque, N.M., today, and the fight will be held at London's Wembley Stadium on Sept. 26.

Yachting

LONDON — English yachtsman Bob Miller, competing in the observer Single-Handed Transatlantic Race, radioed for help late yesterday after breaking a mast on his 43-foot ketch Mersea Pearl.

Lloyds Marine Intelligence Division said Miller radioed just before midnight that he needed immediate assistance.

His position report put him about 500 miles southwest of St. John's, Newfoundland.

Baseball

MONTREAL — The Montreal Expos yesterday placed veteran shortstop Bobby Wine on waivers for unconditional release.

Wine, 33, appeared in 34 games with the Expos this season.

CINCINNATI — An outside settlement prompted the dismissal yesterday of disorderly conduct charges against Pittsburgh Pirates pitcher Dock Ellis, who was sprayed with chemical mace here two months ago by riverfront stadium security guard David Hatter.

Hockey

UNIONDALE, N.Y. — Bill Harris, the No. 1 amateur pick of the New York Islanders and the top pick in the National Hockey League's amateur draft, signed with the NHL expansion team yesterday.

Golf

NEW YORK — Jack Nicklaus, who skipped last week's Canadian Open to practice for this week's British Open, nevertheless continues to hold a substantial lead in the weekly Professional Golfers Association tournament players division money earnings, according to the latest figures released today. He has picked up $186,051 and is nearly $60,000 ahead of his nearest competitor, Lee Trevino, $129,147.

Jerry Heard is third with $114,528 followed by George Archer ($112,745) and Tom Weiskopf ($110,098).

NICKLAUS THE FAVORITE

British Open Golf Tourney Nears

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (UPI)—Rain, wind, sunshine and relative calm—all on the same day—with more of the same forecast for today.

The 154 hopefuls in the 101st British Open Golf Championship which begins Wednesday know now—if they were under any illusions before—what they have to contend with at this famous and fabulous course.

Jack Nicklaus, the 9-4 favorite to win his 14th major championship, certainly needed no reminding, and already has stolen a march on three of his main rivals.

He rates Muirfield as "certainly one of the best courses in the world" and likes it. But the Grand Slam-chasing 32-year-old made sure he won't go into the tournament under-prepared, showing fullest respect by allotting a full week for practice, and on the eve of the tournament has reached a finely-tuned peak.

In contrast, defending champion Lee Trevino, 1961-62 winner Arnold Palmer and Gary Player, who won here in 1959, arrived only Monday.

"I know this has cut down my chances of winning," Player said realistically. "For an open championship you need to get here a week early and prepare solidly."

But Trevino was not pessimistic, despite leaving himself less than two days to get to know a course he had never seen before.

"I'm playing better right now than just before last year's championship and I don't aim to give up my title," he said.

Palmer, who had to play through qualifying rounds enroute to his twin victories, agreed wholeheartedly with Player.

"There's no question," he said. "Jack has a big advantage, he's way out ahead. Two days is just not enough time to prepare for a completely different type of golf on a completely different type of course."

Palmer said it was ridiculous that players were put in this position by the Canadian Open being scheduled so close to the British.

"They are both national championships and I believe the dates must be changed in the near future. I certainly hope they are, he said."

Nicklaus first played Muirfield as an amateur with the Walker Cup team and returned victoriously in the 1966 Open.

"I remember every club I used last time," he said, "but there's still an awful lot to learn and it's very important in my opinion to get here well in advance."

NEW PAY LESS — This spacious, air-conditioned store opened Saturday at Northgate Mall in space formerly occupied by the City of Paris. It will be open seven days a week, and evenings until 9:30 weekdays and 8 p.m. on weekends.

New Pay Less Store Opens At Northgate

About 200 customers waited in line and poured into the new Pay Less Super Drug Store at Northgate Mall Saturday morning.

During the opening ceremonies, William L. Gherra of Piedmont, Pay Less president and chairman of the board, presented a $5,000 donation to Guide Dogs for the Blind Inc. of San Rafael. The donation came from the Skaggs Foundation, organized five years ago by the founder of the Pay Less chain, L. J. Skaggs.

Leon G. Cramer Jr., manager of the new Northgate Pay Less store, announced that it will be open seven days a week — from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

The spacious new Pay Less, next to the new Sears store, has 30,000 square feet of sales area and carries everything from prescription drugs to automotive and garden supplies.

The newest Pay Less one-stop family center is the 39th California store of the Oakland-based drug store chain. Two more Pay Less stores will open this year, at South Lake Tahoe and in Salinas.

Currency Trading Looks Stronger

NEW YORK (UPI)—Recent international currency problems seem to have strengthened the position of currency trading on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. Activity is strong as speculators try for the "big kill" and multinational companies try to protect funds.

The International Monetary Market, run by the Exchange, opened May 16 with trading on the future value of seven foreign currencies, including the troubled British pound. Since then, trading has averaged 1,000 contracts a day which translates into about $200 million per day being "bet" on future currency values.

If history is any yardstick, it would seem the IMM will have plenty of currency crises to feed on in the months ahead. In the past 20 years more than 100 currencies have been devalued or revalued, most of them at least twice.

Trading in currencies is not for the faint of heart. Take this hypothetical case. A speculator wants to gamble $2,500. Fully margined it would buy $152,000 in Deutchmarks. A rise of half a cent could double that money. However, a drop of half a cent could wipe out the speculator's capital.

The recent decision of the British to let the pound "float" offers an example of the losses or profits to be made. Trading on the British pound drove the currency almost 6 cents lower in two days. Thus, a speculator, buying the pound during those days could have lost his initial investment in a matter of hours.

However, a company which had "hedged" against such a move would not be hurt. For example, a firm that sold machinery to a British business with payment due in one year in pounds would sell pounds short for a year in advance. A short sale is a sale of borrowed money with the intent to return it at a later date.

If the money is worth more in a year, the pounds delivered on receiving the merchandise go up in value; if the pound goes down in value, the short sale covers the loss.

Major companies have traded for years through large New York banks. However, as Nicholas Deak, a foreign exchange expert, points out, "Firms with established credit lines deal with banks, but the smaller less established companies will use the exchange."

Mobil Oil Co. reports it continually follows developments on the sterling. The large oil firm also says it does not fully hedge itself because of the large expense involved. The firm uses banks for forward trading, not the UMM.

King's May Decline In Growth Rate

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. About a year ago you advised against buying King's Dept. Stores (NYSE) as it was too high priced. It has experienced a correction to $16, should it now be considered for purchase? — W.G.

A. Shares have long-term recovery potential and are attractive, at current levels, for speculative accounts. Management looks for improved operating results to the $1.05-$1.10 level for the year to end next January. In the April quarter net gained 7.7 per cent on a 6.3 per cent rise in volume.

Because of a large number of shares outstanding, per share results were flat year to year. Four of the seven new stores scheduled for the current fiscal year have already opened. Eight to ten additional units are planned for the following year.

King's is efficiently run, profit margin is among the highest in the industry and storage space requirements are limited to 10 per cent versus 15 to 20 per cent for other discounters.

However, increasing competition, particularly from K-Mart (Kresges), and limited potential for widening profit margins may reduce King's growth rate in future years. For the past decade compound annual earnings growth averaged 23 per cent, in the last five years 14 per cent; and for the current year 10 per cent growth is probable.

Q. Please explain bid, ask and previous bid in relation to mutual fund shares. I am also puzzled by the fact that in some cases bid and ask are identical. — R.S.

A. The word bid, when associated with the shares of a mutual fund, represents the net asset value per share. Net asset value is the fund's total assets divided by the number of fund shares outstanding.

The word ask refers to the NAV plus sales charge. For those mutual funds where bid and ask are identical, there is no sales charge.

These funds are referred to as no-load. The previous bid is self-explanatory, being the NAV of the previous trading session.

Investors Inactive As Market Slumps

NEW YORK (UPI) —Investors kept to the sidelines as the stock market slumped sharply and broadly in moderate trading today on the New York Stock Exchange.

Declines dominated advances, 826 to 340, among the 1,550 issues crossing the tape. Two-hour turnover amounted to more than 4,990,000 shares.

Some analysts said investors are worried about the economic policies of Sen. George S. McGovern, who appears a shoo-in for the Democratic presidential nomination following big delegate victories in the national convention at Miami Beach.

Prices also were lower in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Teleprompter was the most active issue, off 1-8 at 38 7-8 on 25,300 shares.

Airline issues came under heavy selling on the Big Board. UAL Inc. plunged 2 3-8; American Airlines 2 and TWA 1 5-8.

Some profit taking was noted in the electronics and computers. Electronic Data Systems lost 3 1-8.

In the easier glamors, Walt Disney dropped 2 1-8; Levitz Furniture 1 3-8.

Oils were mixed. Superior Oil surged 5 on top of a 5 1-2 point gain Monday.

First Half Earnings

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Wells Fargo & Co., parent firm of Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., has reported first half earnings (income before security transactions) of $17,601,706, equal to $1.90 per share, up 13.1 per cent from $15,593,686, or $1.68 per share, a year ago.

Quakes: Scientists First Will Look Up, Then Down

By ROBERT C. COWEN
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Scientists who study California earthquakes will soon look to the sky for clues to what's going on beneath their feet.

Orbiting laser beam reflectors should enable them this summer to begin to measure the creep along the San Andreas Fault over the greatest distance yet surveyed.

It's part of a continuing effort to try to understand the fault's movements and to forecast where and when it may generate serious earthquakes.

Earthquake forecasting research in some other places, notably Soviet Armenia and Japan, stresses a number of factors such as rising or sinking land, changes in electromagnetic properties of underlying rock, or water levels in wells.

But in California, the big quakes have so obviously been due to slippage along the famous fault that research focuses strongly on its properties and movements.

The fault marks the boundary between two great plates of earth's crust. That carrying much of the Pacific and part of California is sliding inexorably northwestward past the plate carrying the bulk of North America.

Sometimes and in some places the plates slip quietly and slowly past each other. Elsewhere they may stick, bulding up strains that eventually release themselves in lesser or greater earthquakes.

Knowing this, seismologists have laced the fault with networks of strain gauges. They have put in so many instruments, one observer remarked they seemed to be trying to sew up the fault with their networks.

However, none of these installations can measure what's happening over any great distance. That's where the satellite laser data will help. For this project, the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration is working with Columbia University and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Agency.

Two ruby lasers mark the group points for measurement. One is to be set up at Quincy in Plumas County on the American plate. The other is to be 800 kilometers to the south on the Pacific plate at Point Mugu. Their light pulses, bounding off satellite-borne reflectors, should enable geodesists accurly to measure distances between the two laser-marked points.

With slippages from one to six centimeters a year, the movements should be large enough to be detected over a 10-year period to within an accuracy or perhaps five centimeters.

Next year a third laser should be in place at Guaymas, Mexico, where systematic observations are scheduled to follow this year's tests.

Knowing the plate's large-scale movement and knowing their masses, seismologists should be able to estimate the rate of overall strain buildup. While this should help in earthquake forecasting, it could also help pinpoint places to try to relieve the strain artifically and thus try to prevent a disastrous quake altogether.

Some experts have suggested judiciously timed and placed explosives might do this. Others, however, wonder if lubricating fluids might not be introduced to ease the pent-up strain.

For example, Professors Robert Kovach and Amos Nur working with Ansel Johnson at Stanford University think that deeply injected water may turn out to be beneficial.

They recently reported eight-months of observation in a 500-foot bore hole at Hollister, which indicate that changes in water pressure in the pores of rock are closely related to natural relief of strain. This relief comes from small, intermittent creep.

These seismologists now want to make studies in considerably deeper holes. If such strain-relieving creep acts only within a few hundred feet of the surface, it would not help diffuse an incipient quake.

But if it continues to operate thousands of feet down, then it would be a major crustal mechanism for relieving potential quake-producing strain. In that case, injection of water might well encourage this process.

Disney Sues On Comic Books

SAN FRANCISCO (U PI)- Underground comic books featuring Mickey Mouse and other Walt Disney characters were ordered to cease publication Monday until a $500,000 copyright infringement suit is settled.

U.S. District Judge Albert C. Wollenberg issued the injunction against Hell Comics, publisher of "Air Pirate Funnies."

Disney Productions sued the underground comics in January, claiming that Mickey Mouse and other Disney characters were portrayed in a "degrading, lewd and offensive manner."

The firm and four artists of Hell Comics were sued by Disney, along with 50 John Does. The artists claimed their work was legitimate parody and criticism.

New Life In Senate For 2 No-Fault Bills

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The on-again, off-again no-fault auto inuurance issue is on again with the revival of two bills by the Senate Finance Committee.

The committee voted without dissent yesterday to reconsider dead measures by Sens. George Moscone, D-San Fraccisco, and Alfred Song, D-Monterey Park.

Under no-fault insurance, each company would pay its own customer's bills no matter who was at fault in an accident.

Moscone's bill is backed by the California Bar Association. The main opponent of no-fault bills in general has been the California Trial Lawyers Association.

Song's bill is similar to an Assembly-approved measure by Assemblyman Jack Fenton, D-Montebello, which has been stuck in the Senate Judiciary Committee for more than a month. Fenton is seeking a seventh vote needed to get it out.

Song, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said he expects action this week on Fenton's bill. But he refused to predict its chances for success.

Fenton's bill is AB 125. Song's is SB 50. Moscone's is SB 384.

Integration Emphasis May Change After Bill

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The Education Act, recently signed by President Nixon, means the San Francisco Board of Education can ignore a federal judge's integration order, City Attorney Thomas M. O'Connor's said Monday.

O'Connor, who is the board's legal adviser, gave his opinion in a memorandum to board members who are studying their next moves on the question of racial integration.

The board ordered a massive busing program last year to achieve integration in its elementary schools but O'Connor said it can now halt its integration plans and return to neighborhood schools.

Judge Stanley A. Weigel issued the order calling for integration and another order calling for further efforts.

O'Connor declared the board could legally continue efforts towards better racial balancing if that is a matter of educational policy or if it is in compliance with state law.

But to work on racial balance only in compliance with the federal court order could mean a legal challenge to the board, he added.

Superintendent Thomas A. Shaheen sent the board a 1972-73 budget calling for spending $133.9 million and retaining the present tax rate of $4.10 per $100 in assessed valuation.

The board previously had approved, for publication only, a $137.4 million budget presented by Shaheen which called for a 25 1-2 per cent boost in school taxes.

Marin Attorneys Object Of Survey

The Marin County Bar Association has directed its judiciary committee to prepare a survey of attorneys interested in the Marin Municipal Court seat vacated by Judge David R. Menary, according to Robert W. Corlett, association president.

Attorneys interested in the post should contact the judiciary committee at 1010 B Street, San Rafael, he said.

SUPREME AUTO AIR CONDITIONER GUARANTEE

For as long as you own the passenger car in which Wards has originally installed your Riverside® Supreme Auto Air Conditioner, and provided this air conditioner remains in that car and is maintained and operated in accordance with our instructions, if the air conditioner should fail, Wards will repair any defective part free of charge, including labor, at any Wards Auto Center. This guarantee does not apply to air conditioners installed in commercial vehicles. Damage due to accident or abuse is not covered.

IMMEDIATE REPLACEMENT BATTERY GUARANTEE

Montgomery Ward guarantees this battery to be free from defects in material and workmanship. If this battery fails to hold a charge Montgomery Ward will: 1. For 90 days from purchase, replace the battery free. 2. After 90 days, to the end of the guarantee period specified, replace the battery, charging a prorated amount—based on time since purchase—of the regular no trade-in selling price then in effect. Batteries used in commercial vehicles are guaranteed on a similar prorata basis for half of the normally specified term. For service under this guarantee, return battery with evidence of date of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch.

Kaufman's Fabric Land

INTERIOR DESIGN DEPARTMENT

A quarter century of serving the Bay Area's home decorating needs has made Kaufman's a trusted name in quality and service.

Over the years, Kaufman's Fabric Land has provided full custom decorating services for thousands of homes and businesses. Our customers have returned to us year in and year out, knowing that here they will be fully satisfied.

Although Kaufman's Fabric Land is known for an inventory rich in style and quality, new customers find our prices surprisingly lower than would be expected. One reason for this is that we do not depend upon samples and special orders to serve our customers.

We maintain an impressive stock of the finest decorating fabrics on our floor at all times. Because we are likely to have a style and quantity of drapery and upholstery yardage on hand when you shop, time and money are saved without sacrificing quality. We invite you to check the showrooms of our competitors, then compare their prices with ours. We have the fabrics you have seen in national advertising in stock now -- at a price that is often half what you would expect.

Kaufman's Fabric Land is a full custom service store ... and much more. We have an excellent stock of drapery and upholstery supplies and hardware for the industrious do-it-yourself customer. The creative mind will discover many resources for fulfilling the imagination, including polyurethane foam, styrofoam pellets, pillow forms, battings, threads and zippers.

We thank you for your patronage these past 25 years and trust you will continue to rely on us.

Sincerely,

Kaufman's Fabric Land

I hereby request you to establish a Retail Installment Account (the "Account") for me. If my credit is accepted and a Retail Installment Account is established for my use, I hereby request that original, renewal and replacement credit cards be issued to me and understand and agree that the terms and conditions of the Account will be as follows:

I will be billed monthly for all purchases made on the Account. Within 25 days of the billing date stated on each monthly statement, I have the option of paying the New Balance shown on the monthly statement, in which case I will incur no FINANCE CHARGE, or I may make a minimum payment of the greater of $10.00 or 1/10 of the New Balance, in which case a FINANCE CHARGE will be added to the Account on the next monthly statement computed by a periodic rate of 1½% for that part of the previous balance which is less than $500.01 and 1% of that part of the previous balance which is in excess of $500.00 (or a minimum charge of $.50 for balances under $33.33), which correspond to ANNUAL PRECENTAGE RATES of 18% and 12%, respectively. Payments and/or credits within 25 days after the billing date will not be deducted from the previous balance before computation of the FINANCE CHARGE.

CUSTOMER ACKNOWLEDGEMENT COPY

I hereby request you to establish a Retail Installment Account (the "Account") for me. If my credit is accepted and a Retail Installment Account is established for my use, I hereby request that original, renewal and replacement credit cards be issued to me and understand and agree that the terms and conditions of the Account will be as follows:

I will be billed monthly for all purchases made on the Account. Within 25 days of the billing date stated on each monthly statement, I have the option of paying the New Balance shown on the monthly statement, in which case I will incur no FINANCE CHARGE, or I may make a minimum payment of the greater of $10.00 or 1/10 of the New Balance, in which case a FINANCE CHARGE will be added to the Account on the next monthly statement computed by a periodic rate of 1½% for that part of the previous balance which is less than $500.01 and 1% of that part of the previous balance which is in excess of $500.00 (or a minimum charge of $.50 for balances under $33.33), which correspond to ANNUAL PRECENTAGE RATES of 18% and 12%, respectively. Payments and/or credits within 25 days after the billing date will not be deducted from the previous balance before computation of the FINANCE CHARGE.

If I should fail to fulfill any of my obligations with respect to the Account, you may accelerate the maturity of all or any part of the amount owing by me. I agree to pay your reasonable attorney's fees and court costs if you bring an action on the Account and are prevailing party therein. If any of the above provisions is declared invalid, it shall be void, but it shall not otherwise affect the validity of this agreement.

New Sewing CLASSES

Learn to sew with knits

CLASSES LIMITED TO GIVE AS MUCH PERSONAL INSTRUCTION AS POSSIBLE.

It's going to be a slightly mad Fall for knits. Continuing along from spring and summer will be the many romantic fashions using the many romantic weaves and fibers of knits.

Still the most important knit, "the polyester double-knit" is now considered the easy-to-work-with basic by homesewers. It is surging again with more fashion dimension, more sophisticated colors and more lively prints.

The homesewer will, however, be treated to an increasing array of beautiful new weaves, colors and fibers. 100% cotton T-shirt knits, still strong for summer, 100% Acrylic Doubleknits, 100% Cotton Doubleknits, Cotton Velour, Nylon Jersey prints and the new Sweater knit types are all in the fashion scene to be screened this fall.

Make sure you are completely comfortable in sewing with knits. If you have not had a sewing class in knits, ask about one of our next classes.

1. LINGERIE CLASSES are now being signed up for immediate start. Learn to make your own slips, bras, girdles, panties and sew up exciting savings while doing it.

2. TRICKS WITH KNITS class offers the home sewer the opportunity to learn to sew unbelievably quickly without the frustration that used to accompany knits. Learn to sew with knits the way ready-to-wear manufacturers do.

Classes to be taught at: SUN VALLEY, BERKELEY and MARIN Stores
